Lacrima Gland, Tear Film, and Dry Eye Syndromes David A. Sullivan, 2012-12-06 During the past decade a significant international research effort has been directed towards understanding the composition and regulation of the precorneal tear film This effort has been motivated by the recognition that the tear film plays an essential role in maintaining corneal and conjunctival integrity protecting against microbial challenge and preserving visual acuity In addition research has been stimulated by the knowledge that alteration or deficiency of the tear film which occurs in countless individuals throughout the world may lead to desiccation of the ocular surface ulceration and perforation of the cornea an increased incidence of infectious disease and potentially pronounced visual disability and blindness 7 To promote further progress in this field of vision research the International Conference on the Lacrimal Gland Tear Film and Dry Eye Syndromes Basic Science and Clinical Relevance was held in the Southampton Princess Resort in Bermuda from November 14 to 17 1992 This meeting was designed to assess critically the current knowledge and state of the art research on the structure and function of lacrimal tissue and tears in both health and disease The goal of this conference was to provide an international exchange of information that would be of value to basic scientists involved in eye research to physicians in the ophthalmological community and to pharmaceutical companies with an interest in the treatment of lacrimal gland tear film or ocular surface disorders e g Sjogren s syndrome

Lemp,Rolf Marquardt,2013-12-01 There has been considerable increase in the knowledge concerning tear secretion the ocular surface and pathophysiologic conditions leading to the dry eye Much of this new knowledge is not widely appreciated Although there have been proceedings of symposia published there is no currently available book of sufficient scope yet reasonable length which ties together aspects of this newly acquired knowledge This textbook is designed to give the ophthalmic practitioner a comprehensive yet concise guideline concerning the diagnosis and treatment of the dry eye We have been able to bring together leading researchers to accomplish the same We wish to express our special thanks to the company Dr Mann Pharma of Berlin without whose generous sponsorship we could not have completed our task The sponsorship in bringing together the authors in planning preparation and realization of this text is gratefully acknowledged
