Development of Aid Gerard Van Bilzen, 2015-01-12 Aid to developing countries started well before World War II but was undertaken as an ad hoc activity or was delivered by private organizations This changed after the War In his Inaugural Address in 1949 the American President Harry Truman announced a bold new programme for making the benefits of our scientific advances and industrial progress available for the improvement and growth of underdeveloped nations the so called Point IV Plan At that time it was thought that this support would be needed only for a limited number of years comparable to the Marshall Plan assistance to Europe But reality proved to be different providing aid was a very long term affair Since the Fifties the aid provided has changed at different occasions In the beginning aid concentrated on constructing infrastructure such as roads railways dams and harbours in order to promote industrial development In the Sixties aid to agriculture was added and in the Seventies aid to social sectors Basic Needs was also provided The Eighties brought worldwide debt problems Major donors applied structural adjustment policies some called this the lost decade d cada perdida The Nineties saw the arrival of the first environmental considerations and asked for attention for the role of women and good governance The form of aid changed from projects to programmes and budget support Describing the different aid forms of the last 65 years and analysing why aid changed from time to time are the subjects of this book Professionals and students in the area of international cooperation will benefit from studying this history as at this moment old concepts are reappearing or applied by new donors like China Is the pendulum really swinging back as Louis Emmerij at one point suggested The Crisis of

Packard,1997 This superb collection assembles a number of stimulating and theoretically current contributions by outstanding scholars Angelique Haugerud author of The Culture of Politics in Modern Kenya     New Multinational Enterprises from Korea and Taiwan Roger van Hoesel,2013-01-11 This volume represents the first substantive study of emerging multinationals MNEs from Asian economies drawing on the unique experiences of South Korea and Taiwan Combining an econometric investigation with detailed case studies of leading Korean and Taiwanese electronics companies it aims to demystify the nature and theoretical implications of these dynamic economic regions The author argues that many of these new multinationals do not possess the characteristics typically ascribed to MNEs such as technological leadership strong marketing positions or advanced managerial capabilities This is highlighted by documentation of recent developments in outward investment from Korea and Taiwan at both micro and macro level The implications of the recent Asian crisis for the internationalization of Korean and Taiwanese firms are also explored Bulliet the Earth and Its Peoples Volume Two, Third Edition with Handbook Bulliet, 2005-11 China's 40 Years of Economic Reform and Development Xinli Zheng, 2018-10-12 This book aims to explain the secret to China's rapid growth over the last 40 years from the viewpoint of a firsthand witness Zheng Xinli was enrolled as a graduate student of economics 40 years ago at a time when very few Chinese people could enroll in higher level education let alone graduate school Since 1978 he has been engaged in the study of macroeconomic theory and economic policy He has worked with the economic group of the Research Section of the Secretariat of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of China the State Information Center and the Policy Research Office of the State Planning Commission as well as other organizations His work serves to help Chinese leaders in making economic decisions In 2013 Zheng Xinli appeared on the list of China's Top Ten Economists With the addition of several up to date articles this book is mainly a condensed version of a 16 volume collection of essays selected from among the more than 500 articles published by Zheng between 1981 and 2016 Addressing some of the major issues in China namely Reform and Development Development Patterns Macro Regulation Balanced Urban and Rural Development Innovation and Industry Revitalization the book as Zheng himself puts it visualizes the birth process of different policies and measures which have catered to the different stages of reform As an insider and also partly as a designer and architect Zheng Xinli provides readers with a view of China's reform from the top A World of Difference, 1991 Economic Lessons from China's Forty Years of Reform and Opening-up David Daokui Li, 2021-03-26 This book first shows that the past 40 years of China's economic reform and opening up represents the greatest magnitude of economic growth in history Based on field trips extensive and intensive interviews and literature surveys this book argues that there are five general lessons for a rapid growing economy from China's economic reform and opening up all in the area of the relationship between the government and the economy First the local governments need to be incentivized to help rapid entry and development of enterprises Second local governments need to be incentivized to help rapid land conversion from agricultural to non agricultural Third financial deepening is vital that is inducing households to hold more and more financial assets in local currency Financial deepening is essential to convert savings into investments This requires financial stability which is crucial Fourth the learning through opening up is the key to endogenous economic growth The fundamental benefit of opening up is learning rather than enjoying comparative advantage The fifth and final lesson from China is that the central government must proactively manage the macroeconomy The rationale is that enterprises compete with each other in games of industrial organization In order to resolve this problem proactive measures including market oriented means administrative orders and reform measures should be implemented Overall the main lesson from China's past 40 years of reform and opening up is that proper incentives and behavior of the government local and central are important for economic growth China has been conducting reforms in this regard and as a result the government more or less has been playing the role of a helping hand regarding economic growth although China's economic system is far from perfect and many reforms are still needed

Democracy and Development R.C. Bhardwaj,K. Vijayakrishnan,2018-10-26 Published in 1998 The question of whether democracy and development are allies or adversaries has long been debated and with the triumph of the democratic spirit worldwide the relationship between democracy and development has once again come to attract much attention globally The collapse of the Soviet Union and the developments in Eastern Europe led to considerable rethinking in political circles on the efficacy of the economic policies pursued in those countries and the long term viability of political systems prevalent there Elsewhere several newly industrialized countries are striving to consolidate their gains though there are differing perceptions of whether their politics conform to the classical framework of democracy or not In a remarkable turn around some other countries have initiated measures for economic reforms and structural adjustment setting aside their earlier approaches towards economic management In short the last decades of this millennium have witnessed meaningful efforts worldwide on forging a new partnership between democracy and development In February 1996 the Commonwealth Parliamentary Association jointly organized a conference entitled Parliamentary Democracy and Development Allies or Adversaries with the Wilton Park an international agency of the British Commonwealth and Foreign Office in Wilton House West Sussex United Kingdom The week long conference brought together parliamentarians diplomats administrators political scientists economists and specialists from all over the world The participants shared their views and experiences on diverse aspects of the main theme This publication presents an essentially parliamentary perspective on the correlation between democracy and development based on the discussions at the Wilton Park conference and in the light of current thinking on the subject matter

Eastern Africa Social Science Research Review ,2003      Globalization and Economic Development Servaas Storm,C. W. M. Naastepad,2001 Globalization is widely regarded as a means not only of ensuring efficiency and growth but also of achieving equity and development for those countries operating in the global economy The book argues that this perception of globalization as the road to development has lost its lustre The experience of the 1990s belied expectation of the gains such as faster growth and reduced poverty which could be achieved through closer integration in the world economy The authors demonstrate that the downside of globalization for developing countries has proved to be far greater than is generally accepted Based on empirical facts and sound economic reasoning they arrive at a non conventional interpretation of the impact of globalisation on the development process of poor countries and propose policy alternatives to the standard Washington consensus On the external front they find that developing countries need to actively manage their integration into the global economy if they are to overcome the imbalances and instabilities associated with international flows of goods and capital and be capable of pursuing broad based and equitable economic development Domestically they show that such development can often be achieved by deviating from rather than adhering to the Washington consensus fiscal and other policy norms The distinguished group of contributors have produced a provocative book which is a substantial contribution to the debate on globalization It will appeal to development economists in particular and economists in general who like to question contemporary economic reasoning      Nepal's Failed Development Devendra Raj Panday,1999      The Journal of Developing Areas ,1992
