Academic Communities Disciplinary Conventions:

Academic Communities/Disciplinary Conventions Bonnie Beedles, Michael Petracca, 2001 Unique in approach this book explores the similarities and differences in various discipline specific epistemologic and rhetorical conventions and how the two are related Each chapter is organized around a shared content topic then divided into Science Social Science and Humanities sections and then two specific disciplinary units each of which addresses the chapter's topic from the discipline's perspective Features essays that span a range of genres audiences and levels of difficulty and that explore timely and engaging topics within such broad areas as identity and consciousness gender and sexuality capital economics and the environment from the perspectives of the more traditional fields such as sociology literary studies biochemistry and others as well as relatively new and exciting fields such as evolutionary psychology computer science genetics ethnic studies lesbian and gay studies social ecology and cultural studies Articles range from those written in a popular and reader friendly journalistic tone to more difficult scholarly pieces Includes the scientific report format as well as the academic essay typically produced by humanists Rhetorical modes and skills are discussed as they arise within writing assignments so that their specificity in different contexts is clear For anyone interested in the similarities and differences of the techniques and conventions of academic writing in the different disciplines

A Geopolitics Of Academic Writing A. Suresh Canagarajah, 2002-12-15 A Geopolitics of Academic Writing critiques current scholarly publishing practices exposing the inequalities in the way academic knowledge is constructed and legitimized As a periphery scholar now working in and writing from the center Suresh Canagarajah is uniquely situated to demonstrate how and why contributions from Third World scholars are too often relegated to the perimeter of academic discourse He examines three broad conventions governing academic writing textual concerns matters of languages style tone and structure social customs the rituals governing the interactions of members of the academic community and publishing practices from submission protocols to photocopying and postage requirements Canagarajah argues that the dominance of Western conventions in scholarly communication leads directly to the marginalization or appropriation of the knowledge of Third World communities

Annual Review of Information Science and Technology Blaise Cronin, 2007 ARIST published annually since 1966 is a landmark publication within the information science community It surveys the landscape of information science and technology providing an analytical authoritative and accessible overview of recent trends and significant developments The range of topics varies considerably reflecting the dynamism of the discipline and the diversity of theoretical and applied perspectives While ARIST continues to cover key topics associated with classical information science e.g. bibliometrics information retrieval editor Blaise Cronin is selectively expanding its footprint in an effort to connect information science more tightly with cognate academic and professional communities

The Academic Crisis of the Community College Dennis McGrath, Martin B. Spear, 1991-07-03 What I like most about this book is that the authors do not see community colleges as being separate from other parts of post secondary education The usual view of two year colleges is reductionist perceiving them exclusively in functional ways vocational collegiate remedial etc McGrath and Spear see community colleges as part of the full historical unfolding of educational institutions in the United States and thus critique them as academic institutions This is an important work more intellectually challenging and wide ranging than virtually all books on the subject L Steven Zwerling New York University School of Continuing Education This is a book which will stand out It takes a genuinely fresh integrated approach to a difficult and vexing problem The authors develop a synoptic picture of education in the community college by tracing the ways in which that institution has been shaped The authors present a convincing framework within which they can discuss the past failures of efforts at reform and put forward their own proposals William M Sullivan LaSalle University co author Habits of the Heart The concept of remedialization of the community college is an important contribution to the understanding of community colleges This work is appealing because it draws from and is influenced by a diversity of works in philosophy education theory organization theory and literary analysis I especially appreciate the fact that this book does not proselytize the community college credo nor politicize its function Estela M Bensimon The Pennsylvania State University

Pushing Boundaries in Postgraduate Supervision Eli Bitzer, Ruth Albertyn, Liezel Frick, Barbara Grant, Frances Kelly, 2014-04-01 This book is a very important contribution to the growing body of work on postgraduate and specifically doctoral education I find the metaphor of pushing boundaries to be very appropriate as it suggests a field of study and a range of behaviours and institutional organisational approaches to postgraduate education that are dynamic and characterised by fluidity creativity and challenge Readers will gain new theoretical perspectives ideas for improved practice and fresh perspectives on boundaries and pressing issues that deserve to be pushed and conceptualised in new ways

Professor Ann Austin Higher Adult and Lifelong Education Michigan State University Charismatic Leadership in Organizations Iga Maria Lehman, 2024-09-04 History is full of examples of how the skilful use of language is a fundamental aspect of charismatic leadership Traditionally this phenomenon has been studied focusing on oratory skills The book argues that the relationship between a leader and a follower has points of similarity to that which exists between a writer and a reader and that in each case former party is the agenda setter but satisfactory outcomes require a mutual endeavor Given that scholarly writing about management and organizations is inevitably a mix of the presentation of empirical truths and value judgements the ability to engage the reader intellectually and emotionally is critical in the successful dissemination of disciplinary knowledge and belief claims The book proposes a multi faceted construct of textual charisma which is created through the use of metaphors stories and personal accounts as well as the ancient construct of pistis and the contemporary notion of metadiscourse The proposed framework provides guidance for management and organization studies authors seeking to present themselves as convincing and engaging writers Academic Publishing: Issues and Challenges in the Construction of Knowledge Ken Hyland, 2016-02-28 Ken Hyland provides an authoritative discussion of key aspects of writing for academic publication What are the issues surrounding particular academic genres What are the processes experienced by scholars writing in these genres on the way to publication The book explores some of the biggest issues and challenges in academic publication including the impact of English as a global academic language the growth of the assessment culture surrounding publication the practices of knowledge construction at institutional and local levels the emergence of Open Access and social media publishing As well as outlining implications for pedagogy in the English language classroom Hyland fully evaluates the social practices surrounding knowledge creation and the political implications of global publishing Ken Hyland's book is an important contribution to the literature on academic publishing It is accessibly written key concepts and themes are well explained and the issues that are discussed are clearly connected to the challenges faced by academic writers Brian Paltridge Professor of TESOL University of Sydney Ken Hyland is the Head of the Centre for Applied English Studies and holds the Chair of Applied Linguistics at the University of Hong Kong Oxford Applied Linguistics Series Advisers Anne Burns and Diane Larsen Freeman

Academic Discourse Ken Hyland,2009-01-01 Academic discourse is a rapidly growing area of study attracting researchers and students from a diverse range of fields This is partly due to the growing awareness that knowledge is socially constructed through language and partly because of the emerging dominance of English as the language of scholarship worldwide Large numbers of students and researchers must now gain fluency in the conventions of English language academic discourses to understand their disciplines establish their careers and to successfully navigate their learning This accessible and readable book shows the nature and importance of academic discourses in the modern world offering a clear description of the conventions of spoken and written academic discourse and the ways these construct both knowledge and disciplinary communities This unique genre based introduction to academic discourse will be essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students studying TESOL applied linguistics and English for Academic Purposes

Multiple Perspectives in Linguistic Research on Baltic Languages Ineta Dabašinskienė, Nicole Nau, Aurelia

Usoniene, 2012-01-17 The ten contributions to this volume present original research on grammar and discourse in modern Lithuanian and Latvian. They reflect the diversity of approaches in linguistic research on Baltic languages that has developed in recent years after a period where these languages were studied almost exclusively from the perspective of historical comparative linguistics. Current research perspectives include among others perspectives from discourse analysis, sociolinguistics, language acquisition research, corpus linguistics, contrastive studies and linguistic typology. The studies in this volume explore new ways of describing the system and use of Latvian or Lithuanian from a synchronic non-normative point of view. They focus on grammatical categories and constructions, modality, evidentiality, case, existential clauses, grammatical characteristics of lexical classes, reflexive verbs, numerals, the characteristics of certain forms of discourse, academic discourse, food discourse and the effects of an ideology of correct language on language users.

Improving Literacy Through Home, School, and Community Partnerships Gatcho, Al Rianne Gabonada, Titar-Improgo, Cecille

Marie, Gutierrez, Merry Ruth Morauda, 2024-04-09 The underappreciation of the pivotal roles played by home, school and community in shaping the literacy journey of individuals. While the mantra "Literacy begins at home" resonates, it often remains a mere platitude rather than a transformative force. The synergy between these three pillars is essential, yet gaps persist, hindering the development of a truly literate society. As children tread the academic path, the home lays the foundation and schools amplify these efforts. However, the holistic nature of learning, encompassing life experiences, demands a collaborative approach from families, educators and communities. This is the crux of the problem: a disjointed system that impedes the seamless development of literacy across diverse backgrounds. Improving Literacy Through Home, School and Community Partnerships is a groundbreaking book that unravels the complexities of this challenge and illuminates the transformative potential within collaborative efforts. By delving into the dynamic interplay between home, school and community, the book offers a roadmap to bridge existing gaps and forge a path toward a more literate society. Early career researchers will find this a valuable resource to identify and address these gaps, while families, educators, community leaders and policymakers will gain invaluable perspectives to inform their practices, policies and research initiatives.

Navigating Your International Doctoral Experience (and Beyond) Dely Lazarte Elliot, 2023-07-07 Focused on understanding the journey of international doctoral and early career scholars, this key book provides insight and guidance for those whose country of origin differs from where they have chosen to pursue a doctorate. The Top Books of the Year Academic Communities Disciplinary Conventions The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have enthralled audiences this year.

The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph.

Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery.

Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting.

These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered.

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts.

The Secret History is a exceptional and thrilling novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
