TALIS School Leadership for Learning Insights from TALIS 2013 OECD,2016-09-20 The OECD Teaching and Learning International Survey TALIS is the largest international survey of teachers and school leaders Using the TALIS database this report looks at different approaches to school leadership and the impact of school leadership on professional learning communities and What Girls Say about Their Science Education Experiences Michael Papadimitriou,2004-07 What Girls Say About Their Science Education Experiences describes the science education experiences of 12 young ladies enrolled in advanced science courses in a Southeast Texas High School What Girls Say includes profiles of each girl and topical chapters dealing with generalizations about the key elements of experience that the girls illuminated Also a detailed review of the current literature related to girls and science is provided The strength of the text lies in the use of the participants words to describe their own experiences Unfortunately despite over 30 years of research related to gender and science education females still are underrepresented in some upper level high school science courses particular college science curricula and majors and many scientific careers While boys and girls enter school with equal ability girls are marginalized in science and math to the point that they trail males in science interest and participation by graduation time However such differences have decreased While attitudes achievement levels and the other components of the science education experience have been quantitatively examined very little qualitative analysis exists to describe the educational experience of females in American high school classrooms from the perspective of the student A description of this phenomenon as constructed through the experiences of female students represents a worthy pursuit This book represents an attempt to describe this phenomenon as constructed through the experiences of female students Very simply the purpose of this book was to describe the essential elements of the current science education experience as constructed by female physics and advanced chemistry students The construct of science education experience for females included perceived a affective attitudes b achievement and success c ability d cultural factors e social psychological factors f interpersonal factors and g instructional teacher factors All of these topics are addressed in What Girls Say About Their Science Education Experiences Creating a Positive Public School Experience Eric Buehrer,1994 For Christian parents who worry about sending their children to public school this reassuring book offers practical advice on how they can help their kids make the most of their education More than theory this book offers a 30 day implementation program to help readers put into practice what they ve learned Reauthorization of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor,2008 Making Our High Schools Better Anne Wescott Dodd,Jean L. Konzal,2000-09-02 Calling on teachers and parents to work together two noted educators examine how teachers and parents can better understand their varying perspectives and negotiate their differences to improve high schools Make America Christian Again Greg Koehn Ph.D,2023-10-17 Obviously this book finds its title from the slogan created by former president Donald Trump Make America Great Again This book is intended to argue that for America to be great it must be Christian This does not mean that other religions are not welcome as has never been the case in America but rather as a country based upon biblical principles there has always been true freedom of religion The point being that this country was founded upon the teachings of the Bible which is why there is freedom of religion each person is free to choose for themselves either heaven or hell This book is divided into three sections the first one discussing the fact that America was founded as a Christian nation and as such it grew to be the most powerful and prosperous nation on the earth Since departing from the Bible its teachings and its God America is now in a steep decline The second section discusses the 5 main institutions of any society and how that in each case they work better when they follow the teachings and principles of the Bible The final section is what can still be done to turn America back to its roots and back to the Bible As Bible believers we know the time is short and the coming of our Lord to take home His people and to judge the world in His righteousness is indeed imminent But in these last days lest us not be lax in the preaching of the gospel and making a stand for the things that are holy Let us get off of our seats onto our feet and into the streets to be as the prophets of old and declare that thus says the Lord

Positive Alternatives to Exclusion Paul Cooper,Mary Jane Drummond,Susan Hart,Jane Lovey,Colleen McLaughlin,2013-04-03 Positive Alternatives to School Exclusion looks at what schools can do to build more harmonious communities and engage students particularly those at risk of exclusion more productively in all areas of school life It describes the Positive Alternatives to School Exclusion Project a multi phase collaborative initiative based at the School of Education University of Cambridge Drawing on the perspectives of staff and pupils the authors provide detailed case studies of the approaches and strategies being adopted in a variety of settings primary secondary and FE to foster inclusion and reduce and prevent exclusion It also identifies a number of different frameworks drawn from the case studies which can be used by practitioners working in other settings to support their own reflection and development work Particular importance is placed throughout the book on valuing the domain of personal experience in the life of the school community The authors explore this theme in detail suggesting ways in which it might become a priority focus of further development work in schools Handbook of School Mental Health Mark D. Weist, Nancy A. Lever, Catherine P. Bradshaw, Julie Sarno Owens, 2013-08-15 With so few therapeutic outlets readily available to young people schools have evolved into mental health centers for many students Yet schools are hampered by limited access to resources needed to provide mental health promotion prevention and intervention services Like its acclaimed predecessor the Second Edition of the Handbook of School Mental Health offers ways for professionals to maximize resources make and strengthen valuable connections and attain more effective school based services and programming At the same time the Handbook provides strategies and recommendations in critical areas such as workforce development interdisciplinary collaborations youth family engagement consultation funding and policy concerns summarizes the state of current research and offers directions for further study Chapters model best practices for promoting wellness and safety early detection of emotional and behavioral problems and school based interventions for students with anxiety depression attention deficit hyperactivity disorder and other common challenges In spotlighting this range of issues the contributors have created a comprehensive game plan for advancing the field Among the Handbook's topics Pre service training for school mental health clinicians Cognitive behavioral interventions for trauma in schools Increasing parental engagement in school based interventions Models of psychiatric consultation to schools Culturally competent behavioral and emotional screening Bullying from a school mental health perspective Prevention and intervention strategies related to a variety of mental health problems in schools The Second Edition of the Handbook of School Mental Health is an essential reference for researchers graduate students and other professionals in child and school psychology special and general education public health school nursing occupational therapy psychiatry social work and counseling educational policy and family advocacy

Understanding the Latinx Experience Vasti Torres, Ebelia Hernández, Sylvia Martinez, 2023-07-03 The Latino presence continues to grow in traditional population enclaves and has tripled in areas that are not traditionally associated with this pan ethnic group The dramatic growth of this population in the U S requires a considerably deeper understanding of individuals that share this multifaceted identity This timely book synthesizes new research and its implications for practice that is critical for professionals working with Latinos in educational and counseling contexts The authors provide insight into identity development environmental influences and how these factors influence persistence in higher education By using a synthesis approach to organize multiple studies around how being Latinx influences the experiences of students in college and beyond the authors offer a holistic view of the Latino population Each chapter uses mixed method data points to highlight the experiences of this growing population and provide helpful insights for those who work with Latinx individuals within higher education and community settings The new Lifespan Model of Latinx Ethnic Identity Development constitutes a framework to consider the development and tensions experienced by Latinos as they engage with the various cultures represented within U S society The studies presented in this book provide an evidence based understanding how environmental differences may produce differing levels of development for college students and how change in environments produce reflective refinement of adult Latinx identity Practitioners will learn about practices that help Latinx college students Faculty and researchers will gain new understandings of the Latinx experience and discover a starting point for further reflection and investigation

Building on Resilience Fred A. Bonner II, 2023-07-03 How do we fix the leaky educational pipeline into a conduit of success for Black males That the issue is critical is demonstrated by the statistics that only 10% of Black males in the United States are proficient in 8th grade reading only 52% graduate from high school within four years and only 35 percent graduate from college This book uniquely examines the trajectory of Black males through the educational pipeline from pre school through college In doing so it not only contributes significantly to the scholarship on the experiences of this population but bridges the gap between theory and practice to provide frameworks and models that will improve these young men s educational outcomes throughout their educational journeys A compelling feature of the book is that it does not treat Black males as homogeneous but recognizes the diversity that exists among Black males in various educational settings It demonstrates the need to recognize students intersectionalities and individual characteristics as an essential preliminary to developing practices to improve outcomes at every educational stage Throughout the contributing authors also focus on the strategies and experiences of Black males who achieve academic excellence examining growth producing and asset based practices that can be sustained and that build upon the recognition that these males have agency and possess qualities such as resilience that are essential to their learning and development The frameworks and models that conclude each chapter are equally commendable to K 12 educators and administrators higher education faculty student affairs practitioners and administrators and policymakers for whom templates are provided for rectifying the continuing inequities of our educational system

K-12 School Wellness Education Hannah Holl, Randy Nichols, 2025-06-19 Health education and physical education teachers are the champions of wellness in schools but often health and physical activity are taught separately in the K 12 environment The School Wellness Education SWE model is a unique approach that teaches students why physical activity benefits their well being to holistically influence students toward healthy lifestyles K 12 School Wellness Education prepares future physical education teachers with strategies to use a whole school approach to promote health wellness and fitness Authors Hannah Holl and Randy Nichols the educators who developed the SWE model have based K 12 School Wellness Education on the Whole School Whole Community Whole Child WSCC model and aligned the content with SHAPE America s most recent National Physical Education Standards The text incorporates traditional areas of games sports and fitness performance and more importantly focuses on why physical activity matters Units are not based on games or fitness activities but are instead focused on the National Physical Education Standards and the five components of Living Well nutrition social and emotional wellness the human body and responses to physical activity health related fitness and injury prevention and safety The Living Well focus helps elementary middle school and high school students progress along their physical literacy journey and health literacy journey It demonstrates for students how a physically active lifestyle is associated with wellness disease prevention and an overall improved quality of life K 12 School Wellness Education offers physical education teacher education PETE students and in service teachers the following Information on how SWE and its related evidence based research differs from other models Curriculum development tools such as templates for unit plans unit storyboards and lesson plans K 12 grade level benchmarks to measure student progress on their physical and health literacy journeys Over 30 success stories and leadership examples to guide strategies for collaboration garner administrative support and create a culture of wellness in schools Special features such as learning objectives key term lists sidebars and chapter wrap up sections to support reader comprehension K 12 School Wellness Education prepares future educators and current physical education teachers to take a school wellness approach by integrating physical activity and well being into their program at every instructional level
