Leon Harris, 2017-09-26 In The Holy Spirit as Communion Leon Harris examines the pneumatologies of Colin Gunton and Frank Macchia For both theologians the doctrine of the Holy Spirit is foundational to understanding their doctrine of God Christology and ecclesiology Drawing on the theme of communion The Holy Spirit as Communion expresses the concept that the Holy Spirit is the person who perfects the divine nature and personhood of the Father and Son It is the Holy Spirit who perfects the eternal communion within the divine Trinity which is the source of the divine action that also perfects the communion in creation as an expression of the Father s will through Jesus Christ The Holy Spirit as Communion explores the essentiality of the Holy Spirit through a unique approach to Spirit Christology Gunton is represented by a radicalized version of Chalcedon Christology and Macchia formulates his account through the overarching metaphor of Spirit baptism Therefore the doctrine of God Christology ecclesiology and eschatology cannot be construed without a proper account of pneumatology that takes into consideration the eschatological perfecting work of the third person of the Trinity who perfects creation s koinonia as a gift from the Father through the grace of Jesus Christ

Pannenberg on Evil, Love and God Mark Hocknull,2016-05-13 Pannenberg on Evil Love and God examines a much neglected aspect of the theological thought of one of the most original contemporary German theologians Wolfhart Pannenberg his theological and philosophical understanding of evil and its relationship to the love of God The book seeks to correct a widely held misconception that in his theology Pannenberg has neglected the darker side of the world concentrating instead on an optimistic picture of the future This book argues that questions of evil hold a central place throughout Pannenberg's writing and seeks to draw out the implications of his wrestling with these issues. The Introduction sets the scene by considering the nature of the question of evil and argues that a theological response must be made as part of a global view of the world and not in isolation from other themes. The succeeding chapters develop this theme through a reading of Pannenberg's theology.

Glitterworlds Rebecca Coleman, 2020-04-28 An original examination of the ubiquity of glitter from bodily adornment to activist glitter bombing and its vibrant and transformational properties. Glitter is everywhere from crafting to makeup from vagazelling to glitter bombing from fashion to fish. Glitter also gets everywhere. It sticks to what it is and isn't supposed to and travels beyond its original uses eliciting reactions ranging from delight to irritation. In Glitterworlds Rebecca Coleman examines this ubiquity of glitter following it as it moves across different popular cultural worlds and exploring its effect on understandings and experiences of gender, sexuality, class, and race. Coleman investigates how girls engage with glitter in collaging workshops to imagine their futures, how glitter can adorn the outside and the inside of the body, how glitter features in the films Glitter and Precious, and how LGBTQ activists glitter bomb homophobic and transphobic people. Throughout Coleman attends to the plurality of politics that glitter generates, approaching this through the concepts of hope, wonder, fabulation, and prefigurative politics, all of which indicate the making of different, better worlds, although often not in ways that are straightforward or conventional. She develops an original account of future politics where time is nonlinear and sometimes non-progressive. Coleman's argument brings together feminist cultural theory, feminist new materialisms, and theories on futures and temporality in order to propose that we should understand glitter as a thing, vibrant, processual, transformational, and traversing boundaries between media and material culture and nature, bodies, and environments.
