Creative Art Creative Art:

Creative Arts Research Elizabeth Grierson, Laura Brearley, 2009-01-01 Creative Arts Research Narratives of Methodologies and Practices is an innovative set of essays that grows out of active engagement with arts practice pedagogy and research. The collection presents a selection of arts based research projects, their methodologies, practices, and guiding philosophies, and throws new light on a range of issues that bring artists, designers, and performers into conversation with one another. The collection weaves together theoretical and applied dimensions of creative arts research. Following Martin Heidegger, the lead authors, Elizabeth Grierson and Laura Brearley, situate the text through consideration of ways of framing, knowing, and being, looking and listening, analysing, being with, proposing, acting, and reflecting, constructing, performing, deconstructing, and learning. Heidegger's notion of gathering and his proposition, 'Questioning builds a way, the way is one of thinking', provides the means to link the different chapters. This wide-ranging metaphoric device allows the authors to emphasise a set of fundamental questions concerning epistemologies, ways of knowing, and ontologies, ways of being, and the relations between the two. Their book opens a conceptual space to recognise the diversity of practices that count as creative arts research.

Creating Connections Between Nursing Care and the Creative Arts Therapies Carole-Lynne Le Navenec, Laurel Bridges, 2005. The primary goal of this text is to promote educational advancement for health care professionals on the topic of how creative arts therapies can assist patients and clients to achieve specific goals or outcomes. More specifically, the book seeks to create a closer connection between nursing care and the creative arts therapies in order to promote professional collaboration and to expand the concept of holistic care. Most of its twenty chapters explore the theoretical and practical implications of the creative arts therapies as illustrated in single and multiple case studies. The chapters' authors are creative arts therapists, nurses, social workers, therapeutic recreation specialists, and occupational therapists. They describe creative therapeutic approaches involving art, music, creative writing, dance, movement, and drama in various health care settings. This unique book is designed for a wide range of health care professionals, including nursing, the creative arts therapies, psychology, social work, medicine, occupational, recreational, and physical therapies, and others who are interested in learning more about creative treatment approaches and their application to varied care settings.

Quick and Creative Art Projects for Creative Therapists with (Very) Limited Budgets Rachel Brandoff, Angel Thompson, 2019-05-21. Do you need ideas for low budget therapeutic art activities? This book provides all you need to create fun and engaging activities for your clients at little to no cost. Presented with simple how-to instructions, each art project is accompanied with guidance on suggested client populations and variations of materials and design to accommodate the limitations, budgetary and otherwise, that therapists frequently face. It also includes strategies and guidance for acquiring materials, extending a modest budget, soliciting donations, and sourcing recycled and natural tools. An easy reference guide for new and seasoned art therapists, this book helps to expand therapists' repertoire of projects and provides them with the means to execute them.

The Creative Arts in Palliative Care Nigel Hartley, Malcolm Payne, 2008-05-15 Use of the arts in palliative care settings is a powerful and effective way of addressing the practical psychological social and spiritual issues faced by service users in end of life care This book uncovers the possibilities for using the creative arts and provides guidance on how to implement arts projects successfully

ESSAYS ON THE CREATIVE ARTS THERAPIES David Read Johnson, 1999-01-01 This book is a compilation of the author's essays concerning the integration of the creative arts therapy disciplines art dance drama music and poetry into one larger organization representing their clinical scholarly and public policy activities This is a book about rites of passage about naivete and maturity about growing up It is about poetics and politics about the tremendous potential to contribute to the public welfare and the deep fears of collaboration and dialogue Throughout this book the author takes the position that joining together clinically academically and organizationally will be beneficial to the health of the field as well as that of its clients that the various disciplines are divided only by the nature of the different artistic media not by fundamental theoretical or political agendas These various essays offer personal meditation polemical argument practical advice serious theorizing and some comic relief Throughout you will sense the author's struggle to express simultaneously his love for and impatience with this his dear profession being too quietly born

EBOOK: Teaching Creative Arts & Media 14+ Markham May, Sue Warr, 2011-04-16 This book will explore the nature of the creative and media sector and describe issues and debates surrounding creative and media teaching and learning It will provide teachers with support in differentiating between Creative and Media qualifications and suggest appropriate strategies for the delivery and assessment as well as the integration of functional skills and wider key skills within Creative and Media programmes
