 Steiner,2003 What are Dreams Every age every culture perhaps every person have different answers We can at least agree on one thing however dreams are other Their presence in our lives demonstrates that we are not limited to a single mode of consciousness The world of sleep is largely a blank for us an abyss of non consciousness yawning between one day and the next but the very fact that we can dream announces our potential for awareness within that abyss We spend a third of our life asleep a fact that dream theorists rarely consider This startling collection of lectures by Rudolf Steiner selected and introduced by the psychologist Michael Lipson provides a truly unique way of approaching dreams based on an understanding of the spiritual nature of human beings A radically new view of dreams as the threshold to spiritual reality arises once we acknowledge that physical existence is only the tip of an iceberg hidden largely in the spiritual world Sleep death and meditation are the three realms in which consciousness has the opportunity to deepen its immersion in the divine flow of existence In principle we can become infinitely more self aware in each of them since human consciousness is not fixed neither in contents nor in terms of alertness All day long the contents of our consciousness change and during the night the level changes These lectures permit readers to glimpse the fantastic depths of experience we normally sleep through and to contemplate Steiner s astounding program to maintain self aware consciousness through sleep through death through all
