Pearson, 2009-01-01 In Print the Legend Politics Culture and Civic Virtue in the Films of John Ford a collection of writers explore Ford's view of politics popular culture and civic virtue in some of his best films Drums Along the Mohawk The Searchers The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance Stagecoach How Green Was My Valley and The Last Hurrah John Ford more than most motion picture directors invites his viewers into a serious discussion of these themes For instance one can consider Plato's timeless question What is justice in The Man Who Shot Liberty Valance vengeance as classical Greek tragedy in The Searchers or ethnic politics in The Last Hurrah Ford's films never grow stale or seem dated because he continually probes the most important questions of our civic culture what must we do to survive prosper pursue happiness and retain our common decency as a regime Further viewing them from a distance of time we are subtly invited to ask whether anything has been lost or gained since Ford celebrated the civic virtues of an earlier America Is Ford's America an idealized America or a lost America

John Ford's Westerns William Darby, 2015-08-01 John Ford's early Westerns reflect an optimistic view of society and individual capacity as his thematic vision evolved he became more resigned to the limitations of humanity His thematic evolution was evident in other films but was best shown in his Westerns with their stark depictions of the human condition Ford's sound Westerns and his major silent films are compared in this work revealing how his creative genius changed over time A complete filmography of Ford's Westerns is also provided
