Drunken Comportment A Social Explanation:

Drunken Comportment Craig MacAndrew, Robert B. Edgerton, 2003 When Aldine originally published this book in 1969 the emerging multidisciplinary field of alcohol studies was dominated by biology chemistry physiology and other hard sciences As such writes Dwight Heath in his new foreword the work challenged the prevailing wisdom in the authors use of historical ethnographic and cross cultural data and their analysis of drinking behavior as an anthropological and sociocultural phenomenon

Illuminating Social Life Peter Kivisto, 2011 Illuminating Social Life has enjoyed increasing popularity with each edition It is the only book designed for undergraduate teaching that shows today s students how classical and contemporary social theories can be used to shed new light on such topics as the internet the world of work fast food restaurants shopping malls alcohol use body building sales and service and new religious movements A perfect complement for the sociological theory course it offers 13 original essays by leading scholars in the field who are also experienced undergraduate theory teachers Substantial introductions by the editor link the applied essays to a complete review of the classical and modern social theories used in the book

Down Country Lanes, Behind Abandoned Houses Keith V. Bletzer, 2015-07-15 Based on six years of extended ethnography in multiple agricultural areas of the Eastern United States Down Country Lanes Behind Abandoned Houses is a monograph which explores the lives of migrant and seasonal farm workers The six year study secured multi setting field data in primary secondary and casual sites and audio taped narrative life stories from men and women who harvest and perform the related tasks that help to make the many foods which we enjoy in abundance The study presented in this book elaborates vignettes from field observations with a focus on workers who use drugs and alcohol and is complemented by formal narrative life stories and informal interviews The author explores diverse field data that reveal the hardships exclusion and social adversities that migrant farm workers experience many times more often than any other social group with considerable susceptibility to drug alcohol use Down Country Lanes Behind Abandoned Houses gives readers a perspective about farm workers social vulnerability across multiple agricultural areas while comparing willful neglect and social non existence experienced by farm workers to a gray zone of contemporary horrors in the way that these men and women have been viewed and treated over many decades The monograph is an invaluable reference for the study of social problems substance abuse trans national migratory experiences and field methods in sociology The book also serves as a contemporary handbook on the anthropology of American agricultural labor

remains an enduring and unanswered question With a focus on Sri Lanka a country that for several decades has reported epidemic levels of suicidal behaviour this book develops a unique perspective linking the causes and meanings of suicidal practices to social processes across moments lifetimes and history Extending anthropological approaches to practice learning and agency anthropologist Tom Widger draws from long term fieldwork in a Sinhala Buddhist community to develop an ethnographic theory of suicide that foregrounds local knowledge and sets out a charter for prevention The book highlights the motives of children and adults becoming suicidal and how certain gender age class relationships and violence are prone to give rise to suicidal responses By linking these experiences to emotional states it develops an ethnopsychiatric model of suicide rooted in social practice Widger then goes on to examine how suicides are resolved at village and national levels tracing the roots of interventions to the politics of colonial and post colonial social welfare and health regimes Exploring local accounts of suicide as both evidence for the suicide epidemic and as an ethos of suicidality shaping subjective worlds Suicide in Sri Lanka shows how anthropological analysis can offer theoretical as well as policy insights With the inclusion of straightforward summaries and implications for prevention at the end of each chapter this book has relevance for specialists and non specialists alike It represents an important new contribution to South Asian Studies Social Anthropology and Medical Anthropology as well as to cross cultural Suicidology

The Oxford Handbook of Global Drug History Paul Gootenberg, 2022 This landmark collection of essays by thirty five historians working on a global scale brings together the latest knowledge and perspectives about the long origins and transformations of today s illicit drugs such as cannabis heroin and cocaine

Sociology David M. Newman, 2009-12-08 The Eighth edition of David Newman s Sociology Exploring the Architecture of Everyday Life once again invites students into the world of sociological thought Sociology encourages students to think less about the next test and more about how the subject applies to their everyday lives In addition to updated coverage and fresh examples this edition features revamped Micro Macro Connections that have been even further honed to help students understand the link between individual lives and the structure of society

Gender, Ethnicity, and Health Research Sana Loue, 2007-05-08 Health researchers routinely evaluate health and illness across subgroups defined by their sex gender ethnicity and race All too often these classifications are proffered as an explanation for any differences that may be detected for example in access to care frequency of disease or response to treatment Relatively few researchers however have examined what these classifications mean on a theoretical level or in the context of their own research Assume for example that a researcher concludes from his or her data that African Americans utilize certain surgical procedures less frequently than whites This conclusion may mean little without an examination of the various underlying issues Is there such a construct as race at all How were whites and African Americans classified as such Does this finding reflect inappropriate overutilization of the specific procedures among whites or inappropriate underutilization among African Americans To what extent are socioeconomic status and method of payment related to the less frequent use Are there differences in the manner in which health care providers present the various treatment options to whites and to African Americans that could account for these differences in utilization Are there differences in health care seeking and health care preferences between the two groups that would explain the difference in utilization Is the racial classification a surrogate measure for another variable that has remained unidentified and unmeasured All too often unfortunately such issues are ignored or lightly dismissed with an entreaty for additional research

Handbook of Family Violence Alan S. Bellack, Michel Hersen, R.L. Morrison, Vincent B. Van Hasselt, 2013-06-29 In the last decade there has been heightened clinical and investigative activity in the area of family violence This of course is partly attributable to recent surveys showing a high incidence of family violence in the United States For example there are indications that nearly 30% of married women in this country are victims of physical abuse by spouses at some point in their marriage Further FBI statistics show that approximately 13% of all homicides are husband wife killings Moreover it has been projected that such figures are likely to increase over the next several years Consistent with these trends funding of family violence research by both federal and private agencies has increased Indeed federal agencies such as the National Institute of Mental Health and the National Institute of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice have provided considerable support for work in this area In addition family violence particularly wifebattering child abuse and sexual abuse of children has been the focus of media attention at the national level and has generated intensive interest in both lay and professional publications Moreover there have been several recent governmental hearings and investigations regarding the prevalence of these problems

Research Advances in Alcohol and Drug Problems H.M. Annis, H.D. Cappell, F.B. Glaser, M.S. Goodstadt, L.T. Kozlowski, 2013-11-11 This is the tenth volume in the Research Advances series and the seventh published by Plenum Press Volume 10 is another omnibus volume providing specialized and advanced reviews in a number of areas related to the use of alcohol illicit drugs and tobacco We include also a brief history of the Center for Alcohol Studies that gives Mark Keller's unique perspective on this noted institution Two of the chapters are decidedly longer than the others very long chapters have appeared occasionally in the past and we think that it is one of the strengths of the series that we are able to accommodate such reviews Again the editorial board has changed After several years of service Reginald G Smart has stepped down New to the board are Helen M Annis Michael S Goodstadt Lynn T Kozlowski and Evelyn R Vingilis This is likely to be the sole volume for which Goodstadt is on the board since before completion of this volume he moved from the Addiction Research Foundation to the Center for Alcohol Studies Rutgers University

Alcohol and Aggression Paul F. Brain, 2023-12-01 In the 1980s the relationship between alcohol and aggression and violence was a controversial one Much of previous thinking had been based on anecdotal evidence In contrast this book originally published in 1986 is based upon recent scientific evidence from a broad range of studies from animal experimentation to clinical and social research The initial chapters describe what aggression is in terms of theories of animal behaviour how alcohol influences neural and endocrine functions and behaviour and how problematic it often is to extrapolate from animal research to humans Later chapters give critical reviews of attempts to relate alcohol intake to violence and crime The book represents a major synthesis of work from many disciplines and will interest workers in animal behaviour alcohol studies psychopharmacology and social psychology

Drinking Dilemmas Thomas Thurnell-Read,2015-12-14 Drinking and drunkenness have become a focal point for political and media debates to contest notions of responsibility discipline and risk yet at the same time academic studies have highlighted the positive aspects of drinking in relation to sociability belonging and identity These issues are at the heart of this volume which brings together the work of academics and researchers exploring social and cultural aspects of contemporary drinking practices These drinking practices are enormously varied and are spatially and culturally defined The contributions to the volume draw on research settings from across the UK and beyond to demonstrate both the complexity and diversity of drinking subjectivities and practices Across these examples tensions relating to gender social class age and the life course are particularly prominent Rather than align to now long established moral discourses about what constitutes good and bad drinking sociological approaches to alcohol foreground the vivid lived nature of alcohol consumption and the associated experiences of drunkenness and intoxication In doing so the volume illuminates the controversial yet important social and cultural roles played by drink for individuals and groups across a range of social contexts

Constructive Drinking Mary Douglas,2013-10-16 First published in 1987 Constructive Drinking is a series of original case studies organized into three sections based on three major functions of drinking The three constructive functions are that drinking has a real social role in everyday life that drinking can be used to construct an ideal world and that drinking is a significant economic activity The case studies deal with a variety of exotic drinks

Scripting Addiction E. Summerson Carr,2010-10-18 Gaming the language of addiction treatment Scripting Addiction takes readers into the highly ritualized world of mainstream American addiction treatment It is a world where clinical practitioners evaluate how drug users speak about themselves and their problems and where the ideal of healthy talk is explicitly promoted carefully monitored and identified as the primary sign of therapeutic progress The book explores the puzzling question why do addiction counselors dedicate themselves to reconciling drug users relationship to language in order to reconfigure their relationship to drugs To answer this question anthropologist Summerson Carr traces the charged interactions between counselors clients and case managers at Fresh Beginnings an addiction treatment program for homeless women in the midwestern United States She shows that shelter food and even the custody of children hang in the balance of everyday therapeutic exchanges such as clinical assessments individual therapy sessions and self help meetings Acutely aware of the high stakes of self representation experienced clients analyze and learn to effectively perform prescribed ways of speaking a mimetic practice they call flipping the script As a clinical ethnography Scripting Addiction examines how decades of clinical theorizing about addiction language self knowledge and sobriety is manifested in interactions between counselors and clients As an ethnography of the contemporary United States the book demonstrates the complex cultural roots of the powerful clinical ideas that shape therapeutic transactions and by extension administrative routines and institutional dynamics at sites such as Fresh Beginnings The Trouble with Blame Sharon Lamb,1996 This work looks at the topic of victimisation and blame as a pathology for our time and its consequences for personal responsibility Intoxication Thomas Thurnell-Read,Mark Monaghan,2023-01-01 What images come to mind when you read the word intoxication What behaviour do you associate with the word drunk When you hear the word drug what images do you recall This textbook provides an essential and thorough grounding in debates about the role of intoxication in contemporary society from social and cultural perspectives It examines intoxication in the broadest sense as including both legal and illegal substances and both culturally accepted and socially stigmatised practices Given the pace of recent changes in policy and practice from the increasingly common legalisation of cannabis to the recent trend of sobriety amongst adolescents and young adults this book stands out by offering both a thorough historical and theoretical overview and a topical and forward looking exploration of current debates It adopts a multi scale approach to examine wider patterns of change so it considers the subjective experiences of the role intoxication plays in the lives of individuals and groups in the construction of diverse identities and how this differs by age gender and ethnicity The authors pay particular attention to the way in which the state justifies interventions based on moral health and criminal justice discourses and also consider the role played by other individuals and institutions not least the mass media and the alcohol industry in propagating and challenging common sense explanations of intoxication It speaks to undergraduates master s students and above with a range of pedagogic features and offers insights into policy and practice Understanding and Preventing Violence, Volume 3 National Research Council,Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,Panel on the Understanding and Control of Violent Behavior,1994-02-01 This volume examines social influences on violent events and violent behavior particularly concentrating on how the risks of violent criminal offending and victimization are influenced by communities social situations and individuals the role of spouses and intimates the differences in violence levels between males and females and the roles of psychoactive substances in violent events
