Landscape Interfaces Hannes Palang, G. Fry, 2013-06-29 This book has been initiated by the workshop on Cultural heritage in changing landscapes held during the IALE International Association for Landscape Ecology European Conference that started in Stockholm Sweden in June 2001 and continued across the Baltic to Tartu Estonia in July The papers presented at the workshop have been supported by invited contributions that address a wider range of the cultural heritage management issues and research interfaces required to study cultural landscapes The book focuses on landscape interfaces Both the ones we find out there in the landscape and the ones we face while doing research We hope that this book helps if not to make use of these interfaces then at least to map them and bridge some of the gaps between them The editors wish to thank those people helping us to assemble this collection First of all our gratitude goes to the authors who contributed to the book We would like to thank Marc Antrop Mats Widgren Roland Gustavsson Marion Potschin Barbel Tress Tiina Peil Helen Soovali and Anu Printsman for their quick and helpful advice opinions and comments during the different stages of editing Helen Soovali and Anu Printsman together with Piret Pungas thank you for technical help

Bodmin Moor: An archaeological survey: Volume 1

Nicholas Johnson, Peter Rose, 2014-06-30 Year by year encroachment in the 20th century for cultivation or tree planting provided the stimulus for the most extensive survey ever undertaken of the archaeological monuments of Bodmin Moor a previously little disturbed landscape rich in surviving structural evidence of the many ways from the Bronze Age to the post medieval period in which people settled and exploited the Moor and its surroundings The survey is remarkable not only for the extent of the area examined but also for the number of monuments newly identified in the course of the work

Oliveira, Victor Rico-Gray, 2009-05-11 This Encyclopedia of Tropical Biology and Conservation Management is a component of the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias Tropical environments cover the most part of still preserved natural areas of the Earth The greatest biodiversity as in terms of animals and plants as microorganisms is placed in these hot and rainy ecosystems spread up and below the Equator line. Additionally, the most part of food products with vegetal or animal origin that sustain nowadays human beings is direct or undirected dependent of tropical productivity. Biodiversity should be looked at and evaluated not only in terms of numbers of species but also in terms of the diversity of interactions among distinct organisms that it maintains. In this sense, the complexity of web structure in tropical systems is a promise of future to nature preservation on Earth. In the chemicals of tropical plant and animals could be the cure to infinite number of diseases, new food sources and who knows what more. Despite these facts, tropical areas have been exploited in an irresponsible way for more than 500 years due to the lack of an ecological conscience of men. Exactly in the same way we did with temperate areas and also tropical areas in the north of Equator line. Nowadays, it is estimated that due to human exploitation, nation conflicts and social problems, less than 8% of tropical nature inside continental areas is still now untouchable. The extension of damage in the tropical areas of oceans is unknown. Thus, so all knowledge we could accumulate about tropical systems will help us as in the preservations of these important and threatened ecosystems as in a future recuperation when it was possible. Only knowing the past and developing culture mainly that directed to peace to a better relationship among nations and responsible use and preservation of natural resources, human beings will have a long future on Earth. These volumes, Tropical Biology and Natural Resources, was divided in sessions to provide the reader the better comprehension possible of issue and also to enable future complementation and improvements in the encyclopedia. Like we work with life, we intended to transform this encyclopedia also in a life volume in what new information could be added in any time. As president of the encyclopedia and main editor, I opened the theme with an article titled Tropical Biology and Natural resources: Historical Pathways and Perspectives, providing the reader an initial view of the origins of human knowledge about the tropical life and what we hope to the future. In the sequence, we have more than 100 chapters distributed in ten sessions: Tropical Ecology (TE), Tropical Botany (TB), Tropical Zoology (TZ), Savannah Ecosystems (SE), Desert Ecosystems (DE), Tropical Agriculture (TA), Natural History of Tropical Plants (NH), Human Impact on Tropical Ecosystems (HI), Tropical Phytopathology and Entomology (TPE), Case Studies (CS). This 11 volume set contains several chapters, each of size 5000-30000 words, with perspectives, applications and extensive illustrations. It is the only publication of its kind, carrying state of the art knowledge in the fields of Tropical Biology and Conservation Management and is aimed by virtue of the several applications at the following five major target audiences: University and College Students, Educators, Professional Practitioners, Research Personnel and Policy Analysts, Managers and Decision Makers, and NGOs.
