Philosophy of the Brain Georg Northoff, 2004-01-23 What is the mind What is the relationship between brain and mind These are common questions But What is the brain is a rare question in both the neurosciences and philosophy The reason for this may lie in the brain itself Is there a brain problem In this fresh and innovative book Georg Northoff demonstrates that there is in fact a brain problem He argues that our brain can only be understood when its empirical functions are directly related to the modes of acquiring knowledge our epistemic abilities and inabilities Drawing on the latest neuroscientific data and philosophical theories he provides an empirical epistemic definition of the brain Northoff reveals the basic conceptual confusion about the relationship between mind and brain that has so obstinately been lingering in both neuroscience and philosophy He subsequently develops an alternative framework where the integration of the brain within body and environment is central This novel approach plunges the reader into the depths of our own brain The Philosophy of the Brain that emerges opens the door to a fascinating world of new findings that explore the mind and its relationship to our very human brain Series A Alcohol, Nutrition And the Nervous System Simone Parvez, 1985-12

Chauhan, Creating Brain-Like Intelligence Bernhard Sendhoff,Edgar Körner,Olaf Sporns,Helge Ritter,Kenji Doya,2009-03-13 TheInternationalSymposiumCreatingBrain LikeIntelligencewasheldinFeb ary 2007 in Germany The symposium brought together notable scientists from different backgrounds and with different expertise related to the emerging field of brain like intelligence Our understanding of the principles behind brain like intelligence is still limited After all we have had to acknowledge that after tremendous advances in areas like neural networks computational and artificial intelligence a field that had just celebrated its 50 year anniversary and fuzzy systems we are still not able to mimic even the lower level sensory capabilities of humans or animals We asked what the biggest obstacles are and how we could gain ground toward a scientific understanding of the autonomy, exhibit and robustness of intelligent biological systems as they strive to survive. New principles are usually found at the interfaces between existing disciplines and traditional boundaries. Between disciplines have to be broken down to see how complex systems become simple and how the puzzle can be assembled. During the symposium we could identify some recurring themes that pervaded many of the talks and discussions. The triad of structure, dynamics and environment, the role of the environment as an active partner in shaping systems, adaptivity on all scales, learning, development, evolution and the amalgamation of an internal and external world in brain-like intelligence rate high among them. Each of us is rooted in a certain community which we have to serve with the results of our research. Looking beyond our fields and working at the interfaces between established areas of research requires effort and an active process.
