Aging Globalization And Inequality The New Critical Gerontology Society And Aging:

Aging, Globalization and Inequality Jan Baars, Dale Dannefer, Chris Phillipson, Alan Walker, 2016-11-03 This book is a major reassessment of work in the field of critical gerontology providing a comprehensive survey of issues by a team of contributors drawn from Europe and North America The book focuses on the variety of ways in which age and ageing are socially constructed and the extent to which growing old is being transformed through processes associated with globalisation The collection offers a range of alternative views and visions about the nature of social ageing making a major contribution to theory building within the discipline of gerontology The different sections of the book give an overview of the key issues and concerns underlying the development of critical gerontology These include first the impact of globalisation and of multinational organizations and agencies on the lives of older people second the factors contributing to the social construction of later life and third issues associated with diversity and inequality in old age arising through the effects of cumulative advantage and disadvantage over the life course These different themes are analysed using a variety of theoretical perspectives drawn from sociology social policy political science and social anthropology Aging Globalization and Inequality brings together key contributors to critical perspectives on aging and is unique in the range of themes and concerns covered in a single volume The study moves forward an important area of debate in studies of aging and thus provides the basis for a new type of critical gerontology relevant to the twenty first century

Handbook of Theories of Aging Merrill Silverstein, Vern L. Bengtson, Vern L. Bengtson, PhD, Norella Putney, Daphna Gans, 2008-10-27 The field of gerontology has often been criticized for being data rich but theory poor The editors of this book address this issue by stressing the importance of theory in gerontology While the previous edition focused on multidisciplinary approaches to aging theory this new edition provides cross disciplinary integrative explanations of aging theory The contributors of this text have reached beyond traditional disciplinary boundaries to partner with researchers in adjacent fields in studying aging and age related phenomena This edition of the Handbook consists of 39 chapters written by 67 internationally recognized experts in the field of aging It is organized in seven sections reflecting the major theoretical developments in gerontology over the past 10 years Special Features Comprehensive coverage of aging theory focusing on the biological psychological and social aspects of aging A section dedicated to discussing how aging theory informs public policy A concluding chapter summarizing the major themes of aging and offering predictions about the future of theory development Required reading for graduate students and post doctoral fellows this textbook represents the current status of theoretical development in the study of aging

Aging, Globalization, and Inequality Jan Baars, 2006 Focuses on the variety of ways in which age and ageing are socially constructed and the extent to which growing old is being transformed through processes associated with globalisation This book provides the basis for a modern type of critical gerontology relevant to the twenty first century

Kinship and Cohort in an Aging Society Merrill Silverstein, Roseann Giarrusso, 2013-09 According to family sociologist

Vern Bengtson generations within families are important sources of influence change and development Kinship and Cohort in an Aging Society brings together scholars whose common link is their intellectual intersection with the work of Vern Bengtson an esteemed family sociologist whose accomplishments include foundational theoretical contributions to the study of families and intergenerational relations as well as the development of the widely used Longitudinal Study of Generations data set The study began in 1971 and is the basis for Bengtson s highly influential concept and measurement model the intergenerational solidarity conflict paradigm This book serves as an excellent compendium of original research that examines how Bengtson s solidarity model a theory that informs nearly all intergenerational and gerontology sociology work performed today continues to be relevant to scholars and practitioners Written by internationally recognized scholars the book s fifteen chapters are mapped to five major thematic areas to which Bengtson s research contributed family connections grandparents in a changing demographic landscape generations and cohorts micro macro dialectics religion and families in the context of continuity change and conflict and global cross national and cross ethnic concerns Key strengths of the book include the diversity of foci and data sources and the strong attention given to global and international issues Kinship and Cohort in an Aging Society will appeal to scholars working in sociology psychology gerontology family studies and social work

Rural Aging in 21st Century America Nina Glasgow, E. Helen Berry, 2012-12-14 This book investigates sociological demographic and geographic aspects of aging in rural and nonmetropolitan areas of the United States Population aging is one of the most important trends of the 20th and 21st centuries and it is occurring worldwide especially in more developed countries such as the United States Population aging is more rapid in rural than urban areas of the U S In 2010 15 percent of the nonmetropolitan compared to 12 percent of the metropolitan population were 65 years of age and older By definition rural communities have smaller sized populations and more limited healthcare transportation and other aging relevant services than do urban areas It is thus especially important to study and understand aging in rural environments Rural Aging in 21st Century America contributes evidence based policy relevant information on rural aging in the U S A primary objective of the book is to improve understanding of what makes the experience of rural aging different from aging in urban areas and to increase understanding of the aged change the nature of rural places The book addresses unique features of rural aging across economic racial ethnic migration and other structures and patterns all with a focus on debunking myths about rural aging and to emphasize opportunities and challenges that rural places and older people experience

Handbook of Sociology of Aging Richard A. Settersten, Jr., Jacqueline L. Angel, 2011-05-11 The Handbook of Sociology of Aging is the most comprehensive engaging and up to date treatment of developments within the field over the past 30 years The volume represents an indispensable source of the freshest and highest standard scholarship for scholars policy makers and aging professionals alike The Handbook of Sociology of Aging contains 45 far reaching chapters authored by nearly 80 of the most renowned experts on the most pressing topics related to aging today With its recurring attention to the social forces that shape human aging and the social consequences and policy implications of it the contents will be of interest to everyone who cares about what aging means for individuals families and societies The chapters of the Handbook of Sociology of Aging illustrate the field s extraordinary breadth and depth which has never before been represented in a single volume Its contributions address topics that range from foundational matters such as classic and contemporary theories and methods to topics of longstanding and emergent interest such as social diversity and inequalities social relationships social institutions economies and governments social vulnerabilities public health and care arrangements The volume closes with a set of personal essays by senior scholars who share their experiences and hopes for the field and an essay by the editors that provides a roadmap for the decade ahead The Handbook of Sociology of Aging showcases the very best that sociology has to offer the study of human aging

Aging and the Art of Living Jan Baars, 2012-08-20 In this deeply considered meditation on aging in Western culture Jan Baars argues that in today s world living longer does not necessarily mean living better He contends that there has been an overall loss of respect for aging to the point that understanding and dealing with aging people has become a process focused on the decline of potential and the advance of disease rather than on the accumulation of wisdom and the creation of new skills To make his case Baars compares and contrasts the works of such modern era thinkers as Foucault Heidegger and Husserl with the thought of Plato Aristotle Sophocles Cicero and other Ancient and Stoic philosophers He shows how people in the classical period less able to control health hazards had a far better sense of the provisional nature of living which led to a philosophical and religious emphasis on cultivating the art of living and the idea of wisdom This is not to say that modern society's assessments of aging are insignificant but they do need to balance an emphasis on the measuring of age with the concept of living in time Gerontologists philosophers and students will find Baars discussion to be a powerful perceptive conversation starter W Andrew Achenbaum author of Older Americans Vital Communities Long Lives Are for the Rich Jan Baars, 2023-07-26 Long Lives Are for the Rich is the title of a silent ominous program that affects the lives of millions of people In all developed countries disadvantaged and especially poor people die much earlier than the most advantaged During these shorter lives they suffer ten to twenty years longer from disabilities or chronic disease This does not happen accidentally health inequalities including those between healthy and unhealthy life styles are mainly caused by social inequalities that are reproduced over the life course This crucial function of the life course has become painfully visible during its neoliberal reorganization since the early 1980s Studies about aging over the life course from birth to death show the inhumane consequences as people get older In spite of the enormous wealth that has been piled up in the US for a dwindling percentage of the population there has been growing public indifference about the needs of those in jobs with low pay and high stress but also about citizens from a broad middle class who can hardly afford high quality education or healthcare However this ominous program affects all recent mortality rates show that all Americans including the rich are unhealthier and dying earlier than citizens of other developed countries Moreover the underlying social inequalities are tearing the population apart with nasty consequences for all citizens including the rich Although the public awareness of the consequences has been growing neoliberal policies remain tempting for the economic and political elites of the developed world because of the enormous wealth that is flowing to the top All this poses urgent questions of social justice Unfortunately the predominant studies of social justice along the life course help to reproduce these inequalities by neglecting them This book analyzes the main dynamics of social inequality over the life course and proposes a theory of social justice that sketches a way forward for a country that is willing to invest in its greatest resource the creative potential of its population

Precarity and Ageing Amanda Grenier, Chris Phillipson, Richard A. Settersten Jr, 2021-07-14 This edited collection develops an exciting new approach to understanding the changing cultural economic and social circumstances facing different groups of older people

Social Class in Later Life Formosa, Marvin, Higgs, Paul, 2015-01-14 Attention to social class is a major issue confronting the study of ageing in the 21st century yet it has been significantly overlooked to date Social class in later life provides the most up to date collection of new and emerging research relevant to contemporary debates on the relationship between class culture and later life It explores the interface between class dynamics and later life whilst acting as a critical guide to the ways in which age and class relations interlock and intersect with each other whilst examining the emergence of new forms of inequalities alongside the interrogation of more traditional divisions Social class in later life brings together a range of international high profile scholars to develop a more sophisticated analytical and empirical understanding of class dynamics in later life It will be of major interest to students and researchers examining the implications of global ageing and will appeal to scholars concerned with the development of a more critical and engaged gerontology The Encyclopedia of Adulthood and Aging, 3 Volume Set Susan K.

Christina Wasson,Mary Odell Butler,Jacqueline Copeland-Carson,2016-06-16 The realities of the globalized world have revolutionized traditional concepts of culture community and identity so how do applied social scientists use complicated fluid new ideas such as translocality and ethnoscape to solve pressing human problems In this book leading scholar practitioners survey the development of different subfields over at least two decades then offer concrete case studies to show how they have incorporated and refined new concepts and methods After an introduction synthesizing anthropological practice key theoretical concepts and ethnographic methods chapters examine the arenas of public health community development finance technology transportation gender environment immigration aging and child welfare An innovative guide to joining dynamic theoretical concepts with on the ground problem solving this book will be of interest to practitioners from a wide range of disciplines who work on social change as well as an excellent addition to graduate and undergraduate courses Ageing Equitably with Care Tamara Daly,Susan Braedley,2025-10-07 Available open access digitally under CC

BY NC ND licence What are the consequences of growing old and needing care in a world shaped by inequality Who provides the care What are the challenges This groundbreaking book delves into conditions for ageing and caring asking how they could be improved for different communities living in high income welfare states Emphasising that equitable ageing depends on equitable care conditions the contributors draw on extensive empirical research Packed with actionable policy and practice insights this compelling volume charts a path toward a more just and inclusive future for ageing populations alongside all those providing care whether as family members friends or as paid workers Ageing, Wellbeing and Climate Change in the Arctic Paivi Naskali, Marjaana Seppänen, Shahnaj Begum, 2015-11-19 The Arctic and its unique natural resources have become objects of increasing concern Rapid climate change and ageing of the population are transforming the living conditions in the region This translates into an urgent need for information that will contribute to a better understanding of these issues Ageing Wellbeing and Climate Change in the Arctic addresses the important intersection of ageing wellbeing and climate change in the Arctic region making a key interdisciplinary contribution to an area of research on which little has been written and limited sources of information are currently available The book explores three key areas of discussion First various political issues that are currently affecting the Arctic such as the social categorisation of elderly people Second the living conditions of the elderly in relation to Arctic climate change Third the wellbeing of elderly people in terms of traditional knowledge and lifestyles The book also features contributions from a number of key researchers in the field which examine a broad range of case studies including the impact of climate change on health in Lapland and elderly people and geographical mobility in Norway This book will be of great interest to scholars of climate change gerontology and social policy Ageing, Diversity and Equality Sue Westwood, 2018-10-31 Current understandings of ageing and diversity are impoverished in three main ways Firstly with regards to thinking about what inequalities operate in later life there has been an excessive preoccupation with economic resources On the other hand less attention has been paid to cultural norms and values other resources wider social processes political participation and community engagement Secondly in terms of thinking about the who of inequality this has so far been limited to a very narrow range of minority populations Finally when considering the how of inequality social gerontology's theoretical analyses remain under developed The overall effect of these issues is that social gerontology remains deeply embedded in normative assumptions which serve to exclude a wide range of older people Ageing Diversity and Equality aims to challenge and provoke the above described normativity and offer an alternative approach which highlights the heterogeneity and diversity of ageing associated inequalities and their intersections The Open Access version of this book available at <https://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/9781351851329> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 licence Family Ties and Aging Ingrid Arnet Connidis, 2010 This advanced textbook covers issues of family ties and aging broadly the goal being to provide an integrated and thorough representation of what we know from the current research Whereas books on families and aging have traditionally focused on ties to a spouse and to children and grandchildren Family Ties Aging is more extensive and more reflective of contemporary society The text includes groups and relationships that typically receive short shrift exploring such neglected populations as single divorced and childless older people and their family relationships as well as sibling relationships among the elderly live in partnerships not formalized by marriage and the kinds of family ties forged by gay and lesbian persons over the life course The book weaves the vast range of information we now have about the many facets of family relationships and aging into a critical comprehensive and integrated whole
