Aging Of Cells Humans Societies

James Thorson

Aging Of Cells Humans Societies:

Aging of Cells, Humans & Societies Ian K. Ross,1995 A comprehensive introduction to all areas of human ageing taking a molecular cellular approach to discuss ageing as a degeneration of the cell or cellular activities The book presents information in the form of analogies and relevant examples and includes discussions of all topics common to both science and non science based courses The book is intended for biology sociology psychology and nursing students Aging of Cells, Humans, and Societies

Alcohol and its Role in the Evolution of Human Society Ian S Hornsey,2016-01-13 Archaeologists and anthropologists especially ethnologists have for many years realised that man s ingestion of alcoholic beverages may well have played a significant part in his transition from hunter gatherer to agriculturalist This unique book provides a scientific text on the subject of ethanol that also aims to include material designed to show non scientists what fermentation is all about Conversely scientists may well be surprised to find the extent to which ethanol has played a part in evolution and civilisation of our species Age and Sex in Human Societies Pierre L. Van den Berghe,1973

Aging in a Changing Society James Thorson,2013-08-21 The field of gerontology the study of aging has emerged as an area of increasing importance This book is an introduction to the multidisciplinary field of gerontology The text with its friendly narrative style assumes no prior knowledge of gerontology sociology or psychology

Developing Drug Products in an Aging Society Sven Stegemann,2016-10-20 This book aims to address the major aspects of future drug product development and therapy for older adults giving practical guidance for the rational product and clinical development and prescribing of drug products to this ever growing segment of the population With authors coming from key aging markets such as Europe the USA China and Japan the book will provide valuable information for students scientists regulators practitioners and other healthcare professionals from academia industry and regulatory bodies Legislative Agenda for an Aging Society, 1988 and Beyond ,1988 Natural History of the Mind

William R. Sickles,1997 This book is a simple explanation of how the mind evolved One of the many interesting facts emerging from this study is that vision appeared long before there was any brain of significance Perception therefore had to be direct awareness of forms patterning smells and so on Survival depended on sensory input being an immediate representation of reality The world as seen could not have been something pieced together and mulled over in a brain which didn't exist Memory and learning are said to occur at a molecular level for much the same reasons Today's social insects exhibit enormously complex behaviour yet their brains are microscopic All such facts gleaned from both the past and present have a major impact upon theories about how our own minds operate Old Age in Modern Society Christina R.

Victor, 2013-11-11 Old age is a part of the lifecycle about which there are numerous myths and stereotypes To present an overstatement of commonly held beliefs the old are portrayed as dependent individuals characterized by a lack of social autonomy unloved and neglected by both their immediate family and friends and posing a threat to the living standards of younger age groups by being a burden that consumes without producing Older people are perceived as a single homogeneous group and the experiment of ageing characterized as being the same for all individuals irrespective of the diversity of their circumstances before the onset of old age In this book detailed statistical material is used to portray the circumstances of older people in modern society in an attempt to evaluate the appropriateness or otherwise of the major stereotypes of later life This volume does not address ageing from a psychological or micro social perspective In particular we do not explore major issues relating to old age Rather we feel that from the extensive collection of surveys concerned with the elderly we can provide a context within which individual elderly people can be studied from more anthropological or biographical perspectives Evolving Issues Surrounding Technoethics and Society in the Digital Age Luppigini,

Rocci, 2014-06-30 The advancement of technologies in the 20th century has radically transformed the interconnectedness of humans science and technology within an evolving society Evolving Issues Surrounding Technoethics and Society in the Digital Age serves as an interdisciplinary base of scholarly contributions on the subject of technoethics a field that deals with current and future problems that arise at the intersection of science technological innovation and human life and society This premier reference work leverages ethical analysis risk analysis technology evaluation and the combination of ethical and technological analyses within a variety of real life decision making contexts appealing to scholars and technology experts working in new areas of technology research where social and ethical issues emerge Aging and Society Matilda White

Riley, Anne Foner, 1968-12-31 Selects condenses and organizes the entire body of social science research on human beings in their middle and later years This volume summarizes empirically tested generalizations from some three thousand research studies Ophthalmology and the Ageing Society Hendrik P.N. Scholl, Robert W. Massof, Sheila West, 2013-05-29 The ageing of the world's population is one of the major achievements of modern society By 2050 an estimated 2 billion people will be aged 60 years or over However ageing poses major challenges and this is especially true for the field of ophthalmology given that the major eye diseases age related macular degeneration glaucoma and cataract predominantly affect the elderly The challenges facing ophthalmology in an ageing society have not previously been addressed in a comprehensive way although there are common denominators of the various eye diseases that affect the elderly This book provides such a comprehensive overview encompassing epidemiology risk factors current treatment and prophylaxis disability co morbidity and the impact on quality of life World leaders in their respective fields provide state of the art knowledge on the geriatric aspects of ophthalmology that will help to improve the management of this growing patient population Ethics, Aging, and Society Martha B. Holstein, Mark Waymack, Jennifer Parks, Jennifer A. Parks, 2010-11-01 Ethics Aging and Society is the first major work in ten years to critically address issues and methodologies in aging and ethics This well organized volume begins theoretically and offers new ways of thinking about ethics that can handle the complexities and realities of aging in particular social contexts Choice This new research based book by experts in the field of ethics is excellent and much needed I challenge you to consider reading this book and seeing all the ways in which you might be forced to rethink things that most of us take as given for ethics and aging I know you will not be disappointed and I guarantee you will end up thinking long and hard about personal and professional decisions you may have made as well as your assumptions about aging in America CFLE Network Newsletter National Council on Family Relations This is a book that should be required reading for all involved in the ethical provision of services to the aging on any level as well as for policy makers and administrators in positions of influence over the lives of older patients PsycCRITIQUES the authors application of feminist ethics to frail elders rings true to both my clinical experience working with frail elders and my research experience trying to understand their quality of life concerns there were true gems of ideas in this book that illuminated the limitations of the dominant paradigm of autonomy in bioethics The authors make a compelling critique of end of life care GeriPal A Geriatrics and Palliative Care Blog This book presents second generation issues in ethics aging and society by presenting critical outcomes that arise when ethics is applied to the practical concerns that occur in day to day elder care The first volume in over 10 years to address ethics and gerontology it is unparalleled in its comprehensiveness and integration of well developed philosophical arguments with empirical research humanistic scholarship and insights gained from practical experience This book challenges the tried and true approaches to ethical issues in aging and opens avenues for creative problem solving The authors diverse backgrounds bring the advantages of both interdisciplinary scholarship and practical experience to this comprehensive textbook It is an essential resource for those interested in and working with older people from upper level undergraduate students and graduate division students to gerontology practitioners in training Key Features Presents the first major work in over 10 years to integrate the disciplines of ethics and aging Includes case studies derived from day to day practice Addresses individual clinical ethics in health and long term care and ethical issues raised by public policy cultural norms and social attitudes Examines such critical issues as Alzheimer s disease long term care ageism public policy anti aging medicine elder abuse and natural disasters Explores new directions in ethical and social philosophy as they pertain to gerontology and care Research Anthology on Supporting Healthy Aging in a Digital Society Management Association, Information Resources, 2022-02-04 In today s rapidly evolving society there has been an increase in technologies and systems available to
