Agrarian Problems in the Sixteenth Century and After Eric Kerridge, 1969 The Agrarian Problem in the Sixteenth Century R. H. Tawney, 2022-11-21 R H Tawney's The Agrarian Problem in the Sixteenth Century is an insightful exploration of the socioeconomic challenges faced in rural Europe during this tumultuous period. Tawney's meticulous research and analysis shed light on the struggles of peasants, landlords, and the overall agrarian society. Through a blend of historical evidence and economic theory, Tawney vividly depicts the complex relationships and power dynamics that shaped the agrarian landscape of the time. His writing style is both engaging and rigorous, making this book a valuable contribution to the field of economic history. Tawney's examination of agrarian issues provides a compelling insight into the broader political and social forces at play in sixteenth-century Europe. By delving into the intricacies of land ownership, labor relations, and economic policies, Tawney offers readers a comprehensive understanding of the challenges faced by rural communities. Scholars and students of history, economics, and sociology will find Tawney's work to be an indispensable resource for studying the agrarian realities of the past.

Re-thinking the role played by mathematics and cartography in the English seventeenth century, this book argues that the cultural currency of mathematics was as unstable in the period as that of England's controversial enclosures and plantations. Reviewing evidence from a wide range of literary and scientific, courtly and pragmatic texts, Edwards suggests that its unstable currency rendered mathematics necessarily rhetorical, subject to constant re-negotiation. Yet he also finds a powerful flexibility in this weakness Mathematized texts from masques to maps negotiated a contemporary ambivalence between Calvinist asceticism and humanist engagement Their authors promoted themselves as artful guides between virtue and profit the study and the marketplace This multi disciplinary work will be of interest to all disciplines affected by the recent spatial turn in early modern cultural studies and particularly to students and researchers in literature history and geography The Publications of the Thoresby Society Thoresby Society,1983 National Agricultural Library Catalog, 1966-1970 National Agricultural Library (U.S.),1973 The Market in History (Routledge Revivals) A.J.H.
