Agrarian History Of South Asia:

An Agrarian History of South Asia David E. Ludden, 1999 An Agrarian History of South Asia, 1999 An Agrarian History of South Asia David Ludden, 2011-02-17 Originally published in 1999 David Ludden's book offers a comprehensive historical framework for understanding the regional diversity of agrarian South Asia. Adopting a long term view of history it treats South Asia not as a single civilization territory but rather as a patchwork of agrarian regions each with their own social cultural and political histories. The discussion begins during the first millennium when farming communities displaced pastoral and tribal groups and goes on to consider the development of territoriality from the sixteenth to the nineteenth centuries. Subsequent chapters consider the emergence of agrarian capitalism in village societies under the British and demonstrate how economic development in contemporary South Asia continues to reflect the influence of agrarian localism. As a comparative synthesis of the literature on agrarian regimes in South Asia the book promises to be a valuable resource for students of agrarian and regional history as well as of comparative world history An agrarian history of South Asia Ludden, The New Cambridge History of India, 1987 The New Cambridge History of India David E. Ludden, 2008 Adopting a long term view of history David Ludden's book offers a comprehensive historical framework for understanding the regional diversity of agrarian South Asia Statemaking and Territory in South Asia Bernardo A. Michael, 2012-12-15 Statemaking and Territory in South Asia Lessons from the Anglo Gorkha War 1814-1816 seeks to understand how European colonization transformed the organization of territory in South Asia through an examination of the territorial disputes that underlay the Anglo Gorkha War of 1814-1816 and subsequent efforts of the colonial state to reorder its territories. The volume argues that these disputes arose out of older tribute taxation and property relationships that left their territories perpetually intermixed and with ill defined boundaries. It also seeks to describe the long drawn out process of territorial reordering undertaken by the British in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries that set the stage for the creation of a clearly defined geographical template for the modern state in South Asia Agrarian Power and Agricultural Productivity in South Asia Meghnad Desai, Susanne Hoeber Rudolph, Ashok Rudra, 1984-01-01 Economic policy analysis of the relationship between the political power of local government and productivity in the agricultural sector in South Asia analyses the impact of social change on sugar cane agricultural production as well as historical aspects of power structures in India examines economic implications of local level power configurations esp. As regards farm level decision making discusses determinants and varieties of rural mobilization. References statistical tables Agricultural Production and South Asian History David E. Ludden, 2005 Updated with a new preface and an additional biography this second edition examines the agricultural production in colonial India the process through which the colonial knowledge about agricultural production was textualized the shifting focus within agrarian studies and how the complex relations between credit market and production were mediated by structures of power Farmers, Subalterns, and Activists Trent

Brown,2018-07-05 In theory chemical free sustainable agriculture not only has ecological benefits but also social and economic benefits for rural communities By removing farmers expenses on chemical inputs it provides them with greater autonomy and challenges the status quo where corporations dominate food systems In practice however organisations promoting sustainable agriculture often maintain connections with powerful institutions and individuals who have vested interests in maintaining the status quo This book explores this tension within the sustainable farming movement through reference to three detailed case studies of organisations operating in rural India Landscape, Culture and Belonging

Neeladri Bhattacharya,Joy L. K. Pachau,2019-05-23 This volume is an important contribution to the new literature on frontier studies and the historiography of Northeast India Asia Inside Out Eric Tagliacozzo,Helen F. Siu,Peter C. Perdue,2019-03-11 A pioneering study of historical developments that have shaped Asia concludes with this volume tracing the impact of ideas and cultures of people on the move across the continent whether willingly or not In the final volume of Asia Inside Out a stellar interdisciplinary team of scholars considers the migration of people and the ideas practices and things they brought with them to show the ways in which itinerant groups have transformed their culture and surroundings Going beyond time and place which animated the first two books this third one looks at human beings on the move Human movement from place to place across time reinforces older connections while forging new ones Erik Harms turns to Vietnam to show that the notion of a homeland as a marked geographic space can remain important even if that space is not fixed in people s lived experience Angela Leung traces how much of East Asia was brought into a single medical sphere by traveling practitioners Seema Alavi shows that the British preoccupation with the 1857 Indian Revolt allowed traders to turn the Omani capital into a thriving arms emporium James Pickett exposes the darker side of mobility in a netherworld of refugees political prisoners and hostages circulating from the southern Russian Empire to the Indian subcontinent Other authors trace the impact of movement on religious art ethnic foods and sports spectacles By stepping outside familiar categories and standard narratives this remarkable series challenges us to rethink our conception of Asia in complex and nuanced ways
