Agricultural Policy Performance In Zam:

Agricultural Policy and Performance in Zambia Doris Jansen Dodge, 1977 Monograph on agricultural policy and agricultural production prospects in Zambia discusses agricultural development from the 1890 s examines crop pricing agricultural marketing policy marketing boards and marketing cooperatives provides economic analysis and cost benefit analysis methodology for resource allocation includes an econometrics estimate of shadow price of traditional farm work production functions in maize and groundnut production and provides guidelines for agricultural incomes References and statistical tables Zambia agricultural policy profile Nawiko, M., Chomba, C., Mambwe, M., Nkanyani, S., Mwamakamba, S., Jacobs-Mata, Inga, Ires, Idil, 2022-08-01 This paper aims to provide an overview of Zambian policies related to agriculture and climate adaptation in preparation for the Zambia National Policy Dialogue scheduled for 18 August 2022 in Lusaka Zambia The dialogue is a joint programme with CGIAR Initiative on Diversification of East and Southern Africa led by International Water Management Institute IWMI Southern Africa the Food Agriculture and Natural Resources Policy Analysis Network FANRPAN South Africa and Agricultural Consultative Forum ACF Zambia The paper includes an overview of the economic and administrative profile of the country and a descriptive overview of the agricultural and climate policies that are expected to be critically debated at the Dialogue Zambia's Agricultural Policy and Performance, 1960-1980 Bonard Luckson Mwape, 1984 Agricultural policy reforms and regional market integration in Malawi, Zambia, and Zimbabwe Alberto Valdés, Kay Muir-Leresche, 1993-01-01 General policy environment Current status of and reform proposals for agriculture Effects of domestic policy reforms on food security Potential for intraregional trade Agricultural Policy Reform, 1993 Agricultural R and D in the Developing World Philip G. Pardey, Julian M. Alston, Roley Piggott, 2006 The world's agricultural economy was transformed remarkably during the 20th century The agricultural productivity growth that fueled this change was generated primarily by agricultural R D financed and conducted by a small group of rich countries especially the United States but also Japan Germany and France In an increasingly interdependent world both rich and poor countries have depended on agricultural research conducted in the private and public laboratories of these few countries even if they have not contributed to financing the activity But now the rich country research agendas are shifting In particular they are no longer as interested in simple productivity enhancement Dietary patterns and other priorities change as incomes increase Food security concerns are still pervasive among poor people predominantly in poor countries In rich countries we see a declining emphasis on enhancing the production of staple foods and an increasing emphasis on enhancing certain attributes of food such as growing demand for processed and so called functional foods and on food production systems such as organic farming humane livestock production systems localized food sources and fair trade coffee In addition to growing differences between rich and poor countries in consumer demand for innovation research agendas may diverge because of differences in producer and processor demands Farmers in rich countries are demanding high technology inputs that often are not as relevant for subsistence agriculture such as precision farming technology or other capital intensive methods As well as differences in value adding processes to serve consumer demands differences in farm production technologies are emerging to serve the evolving agribusiness demands for farm products with specific attributes for particular food feed energy medical or industrial applications The purpose of this volume is to document the changing institutions and investments in agricultural R D in less developed countries in part to form a companion volume to Paying for Agricultural Productivity by providing a more complete global picture of the issues

The Transformation of Agri-Food Systems Ellen B. McCullough, Prabhu L. Pingali, Kostas G. Stamoulis, 2012-05-23 There should be a good market for this book The topic is very timely and a major theme of the new World Development Report 2008 The editors and contributors are world class Derek Byerlee World Bank This is a topic of wide interest and high policy importance The depth of coverage and excellent synthesis should ensure that the book will have a substantial market in high level undergraduate and graduate courses in agricultural development It will have a solid readership among development economists and policy makers as well Mark Rosegrant International Food Policy Research Institute The driving forces of income growth demographic shifts globalization and technical change have led to a reorganization of food systems from farm to plate The characteristics of supply chains particularly the role of supermarkets linking farmers have changed from consumption and retail to wholesale processing procurement and production This has had a dramatic effect on smallholder farmers particularly in developing countries This book presents a comprehensive framework for assessing the impacts of changing agri food systems on smallholder farmers recognizing the importance of heterogeneity between developing countries as well as within them The book includes a number of case studies from Asia Africa Latin America and Eastern Europe which are used to illustrate differences in food systems characteristics and trends The country case studies explore impacts on the small farm sector across different countries local contexts and farm types Published with FAO

Incentives and Agriculture in East Africa (Routledge Revivals) Mats Lundahl, 2015-08-11 Agriculture is at the centre of the economies of many developing countries and its stagnation and poor performance across large parts of Africa is a major cause for concern First published in 1990 this book focuses on the nature and role of incentives in agricultural organization and production in East Africa looking in particular at the political and ideological determinants of that role Mats Lundahl analyses ways of improving agricultural performance and considers the African socialism of Julius Nyerere in contrast with the market led approaches which he favours A detailed title this volume will of interest to all those concerned with the issues of rural development including students of development studies economics and African studies

Sustainable bioenergy potential in Zambia Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations ,Ministry of Energy of Zambia, 2021-04-30 Zambia is richly endowed with a wide range of biomass sources including woodlands forests agricultural residues and livestock waste Biomass energy contributes supplies over 70 percent of the country s energy needs Due to the current extraction and consumption methods the use of biomass energy has been linked with detrimental environmental effects such as deforestation and forest degradation as well as climate change due to the loss of carbon sinks Inefficient utilisation of biomass contributes significantly to deforestation which is estimated at between 79 000 150 000 ha per year and negatively affects the health and income of rural households that depend on forest products for their livelihoods Sustainable bioenergy strategies and alternative bioenergy solutions need to be defined and integrated into current efforts of the country to increase stable and sustainable access to energy This report assesses the country context and defines which bioenergy options can be viable considering a number of solutions for electricity production cooking fuels and transport fuels at the provincial and district level Possible options originating from crop residues livestock residues and forest plantation harvesting residues are identified having netted out agriculture and forestry needs The assessment now needs to be followed by local verification and investment to deploy an initial set of bioenergy projects and test the findings on the ground Foreign Agricultural

Economic Report ,1961 The Political Economy of Economic Growth in Africa, 1960–2000: Volume 1 Benno J.

Ndulu,Stephen A. O'Connell,Robert H. Bates,Paul Collier,Chukwuma C. Soludo,2009-04-30 The period from 1960 to 2000 was one of remarkable growth and transformation in the world economy Why did most of Sub Saharan Africa fail to develop over this period Why did a few small African economies succeed spectacularly The Political Economy of Economic Growth in Africa 1960 2000 is by far the most ambitious and comprehensive assessment of Africa s post independence economic performance to date Volume 1 examines the impact of resource wealth and geographical remoteness on Africa s growth and develops a new dataset of governance regimes covering all of Sub Saharan Africa Separate chapters analyze the dominant patterns of governance observed over the period and their impact on growth the ideological formation of the political elite the roots of political violence and reform and the lessons of the 1960 2000 period for contemporary growth strategy

Foreign Aid, Debt, and Growth in Zambia Per-Åke Andersson,Arne Bigsten,Håkan Persson,2000 A study which discusses the structural problems in Zambia and the policies of adjustment that have been tried It also analyses the impact of various strategies with regard to external resource transfers The results show that the scope for growth is highly dependent on the tightness of the external resource constraint and that debt service tends to dominate the policy making Transforming Southern African Agriculture Ann Willcox Seidman,1992 The Transformation of Agri-food Systems Ellen B.

McCullough,Prabhu L. Pingali,Kostas G. Stamoulis,2008-01-01 The driving forces of income growth demographic shifts globalisation and technical change have led to a reorganisation of food systems from farm to plate The characteristics of supply chains particularly the role of supermarkets linking farmers have changed from consumption and retail to wholesale processing procurement and production This has had a dramatic effect on smallholder farmers particularly in developing countries This book presents a comprehensive framework for assessing the impacts of changing agri food systems on smallholder farmers recognising the importance of heterogeneity between developing countries as well as within them The book includes a number of case studies from Asia Africa Latin America and Eastern Europe which are used to illustrate differences in food systems characteristics and trends The country case studies explore impacts on the small farm sector across different countries local contexts and farm types Zambia International Monetary Fund. African Dept.,2017-10-25 This Selected Issues paper assesses the sustainability of Zambia s current fiscal policies and public debt Large fiscal imbalances and rapid increase in government debt since 2011 have raised concern about the sustainability of fiscal policies in Zambia Fueled by the rapid exchange rate depreciation in 2014 15 and the heavy reliance on external sources to finance the growing fiscal imbalances public external debt doubled in 2015 compared with 2014 The institutional framework for the budget process and the Medium Term Expenditure Framework need to be strengthened Poor commitment controls which led to significant accumulation of payment arrears need to be addressed A sound Medium Term Debt Management Strategy is required to reduce public sector debt vulnerability Aid and Poverty Reduction in Zambia Oliver S. Saasa,Jerker Carlsson,2002 Zambia a once prosperous African country now has 73 per cent of its people below the poverty line and by the early 1990s the country was included on the list of the least developed countries Despite significant aid volumes and structural reforms the country is getting deeper and deeper into poverty What is the missing link between aid and positive change Is the problem mainly that the volume of aid is not sufficient and as is often heard more of it would make a difference Has the sluggish social and economic progress in Zambia been appropriately diagnosed and correct remedies and strategies prescribed This book attempts to address these and related questions State, Land and Democracy in Southern Africa Arrigo Pallotti,Corrado Tornimbeni,2016-03-03 Each country in southern Africa has a unique history but in all of them socio economic inequalities and high poverty levels weaken the governments legitimacy and represent a challenge to models of economic development One key issue appears to be the solution of the land question This vital concern affects both citizenship and democracy in the political systems of the region yet no government has shown the capacity or commitment to solve it In this volume leading European American and African scholars explore in detail the relationship between state land and democracy They examine the historical background of asset allocation and its impact on questions of nationality the definition of citizenship human rights and the current political and economic processes in southern Africa The Dynamics of Agricultural Policy and Reform in Zambia Adrian P. Wood,1990 The status of water use efficiency and productivity with a focus on paddy rice in Zambia Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2022-08-27 In view of the projected world water demand increased water use efficiency in irrigation is crucial to sustainably increase agricultural productivity Paddy field systems are especially water demanding though products such as rice is not only a staple food but also constitutes a major social and economic activity providing public goods and is a key source of employment and income for the rural population in Zambia The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO has been active to increase the understanding of the status of water use efficiency and water productivity in Zambia through implementing the project Efficient Agricultural Water Use and Management Enhancement in Paddy Fields funded by the Japan Ministry of Agriculture Forestry and Fisheries MAFF The project objective is to identify limits and potentials of paddy rice production at national level The project findings presented in this report is a basis for assisting the country with the evaluation of the status of water use efficiency and water productivity of paddy fields providing technical and policy support to enhance water resources management in Zambia This report will help increasing the knowledge and building capacities of technical experts in relevant institutions ministries and universities in Zambia Its analysis of best practices will assist in determining the needs and existing gaps and what options are available to fill these gaps Furthermore the policy action matrix developed and the investment portfolio compiled will support the development of future financial plans in the country

Postcolonial Legality: Law, Power and Politics in Zambia Jeremy Gould, 2023-03-24 This book interrogates the ideology and practices of liberal constitutionalism in the Zambian postcolony The analysis focuses on the residual political and governmental effects of an imperial form of power embodied in the person of the republican president termed here prerogativism Through systematic long term ethnographic engagement with Zambian constitutionalist activists lawyers judges and civic leaders the study examines how prerogativism has shaped the postcolonial political landscape and limited the possibilities of constitutional liberalism This is revealed in the ways that repeated efforts to reform the constitution have sidelined popular participation and thus failed to address the deep divide between a small elite stratum from which the constitutional activists are drawn and the marginalized masses of the population Along the way the study documents the intimate interpenetration of political and legal action and examines how prerogativism delimits the political engagements of elite actors Special attention is given to the reluctance of legal activists to engage with popular politics and to the conservative ethos that undermines efforts to pursue a jurisprudence of transformational constitutionalism in the findings of the Constitutional Court The work contributes to the rising interest in applying socio legal analysis to the statutory domain in postcolonial jurisdictions It offers a pioneering attempt to deconstruct the amorphous and ambivalent assemblage of ideas and practices related to constitutionalism through detailed ethnographic interrogation It will appeal to scholars students and practitioners with an interest in theorizing challenges to political liberalism in postcolonial contexts as well as in rethinking the methodological toolbox of socio legal analysis
