Shepherd,1966 Agricultural Price Formation in Theory and Reality Ulrich Koester,Stephan von Cramon-Taubadel,2023-08-21 The thirteen chapters in this book introduce students to the theory and analysis of price determination in markets for agricultural and food products and in markets for the main factors of production in agriculture land labour and capital The book is targeted at advanced BSc as well as MSc students It covers neoclassical economic theory as well as the many unique institutions and policies that affect agricultural price determination The chapters cover important characteristics of agricultural and food markets and prices such as the role of institutions and organisations for agricultural price formation imperfect competition the role of technical change retail pricing price volatility and futures markets The included case studies and exercises will enable students to apply what they have learned and test their comprehension

Agricultural Price Policy in India Gulati A.,1980 Agricultural Price Policies Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,1987-01-01 Naast een analyse van de prijsontwikkelingen op de landbouwmarkt sinds begin 1970 en van het beleid hierbij in voornamelijk de ontwikkelingslanden wordt ook het prijzenbeleid in de rijkere landen bekeken die internationaal meer invloed hebben en in de centraal geregeerde landen deze laatste zowel inhoudende de meer welvarende als de minder welvarende landen

Agricultural Price Distortions, Inequality, and Poverty Kym Anderson,John Cockburn,Will Martin,2010-03-17 The prices of farm products are crucial determinants of the extent of poverty and inequality in the world The vast majority of the world s poorest households depend to a considerable extent on farming for their incomes while food represents a large component of the consumption of all poor households For generations food prices have been heavily distorted by government policies in high income and developing countries Many countries began to reform their agricultural price and trade policies in the 1980s but government policy intervention is still considerable and still favors farmers in high income countries at the expense of many farmers in developing countries What would be the poverty and inequality consequences of the removal of the remaining distortions to agricultural incentives This question is of great relevance to governments in evaluating ways to engage in multilateral and regional trade negotiations or to improve their own policies unilaterally

Agricultural Price Distortions Inequality and Poverty analyzes the effects of agricultural and trade policies around the world on national and regional economic welfare on income inequality among and within countries and on the level and incidence of poverty in developing countries The studies include economy wide analyses of the inequality and poverty effects of own country policies compared with rest of the world policies for 10 individual developing countries in three continents This book also includes three chapters that each use a separate global economic model to examine the effects of policies on aggregate poverty and the distribution of poverty across many identified developing countries This study is motivated by two policy issues first the World Trade Organization s struggle to conclude the Doha Round of multilateral trade negotiations in which agricultural policy reform is again one of the most contentious topics in the talks and second the struggle of the developing countries to achieve their Millennium Development Goals by 2015 notably the alleviation of hunger and poverty which depends crucially on policies that affect agricultural incentives
