Agricultural Commercialization, Gender Equality and the Right to Food Joanna Bourke Martignoni, Christophe Gironde, Christophe Golay, Elisabeth Prügl, Dzodzi Tsikata, 2022-09-22 This volume explores agricultural commercialization from a gender equality and right to food perspective Agricultural commercialization involving not only the shift to selling crops and buying inputs but also the commodification of land and labour has always been controversial Strategies for commercialization have often reinforced and exacerbated inequalities been blind to gender differences and given rise to violations of the human rights to food land work and social security While there is a body of evidence to trace these developments globally impacts vary considerably in local contexts This book systematically considers these dynamics in two countries Cambodia and Ghana Profoundly different in terms of their history and location they provide the basis for fruitful comparisons because they both transitioned to democracy in the early 1990s made agricultural development a priority and adopted orthodox policies of commercialization to develop the sector Chapters illustrate how commercialization processes are gendered highlighting distinctive gender ethnic and class dynamics in rural Ghana and Cambodia and the different outcomes these generate They also show the ways in which food cultures are changing and the often problematic impact of these changes on the safety and quality of food Specific policies and legal norms are examined with chapters addressing the development and implementation of frameworks on the right to food and land administration Overall the volume brings into relief multiple dimensions shaping the outcomes of processes of commercialization including gender orders food cultures policy translation national and sub national policies corporate investments and programmes and formal and informal legal norms In doing so it offers insight not only on our case countries but also provides proposals to advance rights based research on food security This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of food security agricultural development and economics gender human rights and sustainable development Agricultural Series, 1954 Assessing agricultural market integration of Cambodia within and beyond ASEAN Ajmani, Manmeet, Joshi, Pramod Kumar, Roy, Devesh, Renjini, V. R., 2019-06-11 In this paper we address the question of the agricultural market integration of Cambodia within the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN and its other top trading partners Focusing on agricultural trade we use two indicators namely Trade Potential and Competition Indices to assess the nature and extent of the integration More specifically we identify the exports of Cambodia with high export potential and comparatively low competition in export markets Higher trade potential with lower competition value or volume indicates an opportunity of higher returns for agricultural producers In the case of Cambodia maize and starches are identified as high potential exports with lower intra ASEAN competition There is also scope for regional cooperation in traditional exports such as rice manioc cassava molasses and pepper between Cambodia and other Southeast Asian countries for which both the export potential and intra ASEAN competition are high Finally to demonstrate the upward movement in the value chain possibly due to quality upgradation we present the dynamics of the unit values of Cambodia's agricultural exports

The Transition in Agriculture (Classic Reprint) Edwin A. Pratt, 2017-09-12 Excerpt from The Transition in Agriculture The great interest aroused throughout the country on the subject of small holdings has led me to think that a cheap edition of the present work in which much information will be found on such subjects as peasant proprietary market gardening milk supply agricultural organization transport and marketing questions and other matters of direct concern to small holders and allotment holders might be not unacceptable at the present moment Circumstances have not permitted of my bringing up to date the numerous figures contained in the volume but the general position and the arguments based thereon remain I consider the same as when the book was first published About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Pratt, 2015-06-15 Excerpt from The Transition in Agriculture The main purpose of the present volume is I to show by a series of facts and figures now to a large extent first published the substantial development which following on the decline in cereals and aided by changes in our economic conditions has taken place in various subsidiary branches of agricultural or kindred pursuits encouraging a spirit of confidence in the continued possibilities of the agricultural situation 2 to give some idea of what is actually proceeding in this country in the way of an increased acceptance of the principles and practice of agricultural combination and 3 to discuss some of the principles on which the advent of the small holder can best be encouraged In dealing however with these three phases of the transition which I thus seek to describe my aim has been less to give exhaustive details in regard to each a task which would have involved the writing of several books instead of one and an amount of labour that could not well have been undertaken by an individual inquirer than to present in a single volume of modest dimensions such concrete examples and illustrations as would allow of a general idea being obtained of the situation as a whole About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Frontiers in agri-food supply chains Professor Sander de Leeuw, Dr Renzo Akkerman, Dr Rodrigo Romero-Silva, 2024-05-07 Provides a comprehensive overview of the challenges facing agri food supply chains including the need to be more sustainable in light of the high environmental costs of global distribution Addresses the external factors that can impact the logistics and performance of supply chains including political developments international conflicts and pandemics such as COVID 19 Reviews the main agri food supply chains used in different regions around the world focussing on those implanted in the Americas Europe Africa Asia and the Middle East Vulnerability of Agriculture, Water and Fisheries to Climate Change Mohamed Behnassi, Margaret Syomiti Muteng'e, Gopichandran Ramachandran, Kirit N. Shelat, 2014-07-15 Human activity is changing the global environment at an unprecedented rate while humanity faces a range of complex and interrelated challenges to local regional and global development human security and politics Food security ranks high on the science policy and development agendas However most research linking global change and food systems examines the impact of climate change on agricultural production or the impact of agriculture on land use pollution and biodiversity overlooking interactions with other aspects of the food system such as food processing packaging transportation and consumption and employment derived from these activities This book demonstrates that new threats to food security which arise from environmental change require more than simply a focus on agricultural practices what is needed is an integrated food system approach The authors point out that the process of adapting food systems to global environmental change is not simply a search for technological solutions to increase agricultural yields Tradeoffs across multiple scales among food system outcomes are a prevalent feature of globalized food systems Within food systems there are key underexplored areas that are both sensitive to environmental change and crucial to understanding its implications for food security and adaptation strategies The authors assert that technical prescriptions alone will not efficiently manage the food security challenge This book is their contribution to a new paradigm which addresses food systems holistically by engaging researchers in multiple disciplines to understand the causes and drivers of vulnerability Publications United States. Division of Vocational Education, 1942 Sustainable Agriculture Reviews 14 Harry Ozier-Lafontaine, Magalie Lesueur-Jannoyer, 2014-09-03 Sustainable agriculture is a rapidly growing field aiming at producing food and energy in a sustainable way for humans and their children Sustainable agriculture is a discipline that addresses current issues such as climate change increasing food and fuel prices poor nation starvation rich nation obesity water pollution soil erosion fertility loss pest control and biodiversity depletion Novel environmentally friendly solutions are proposed based on integrated knowledge from sciences as diverse as agronomy soil science molecular biology chemistry toxicology ecology economy and social sciences Indeed sustainable agriculture decipher mechanisms of processes that occur from the molecular level to the farming system to the global level at time scales ranging from seconds to centuries For that scientists use the system approach that involves studying components and interactions of a whole system to address scientific economic and social issues In that respect sustainable agriculture is not a classical narrow science Instead of solving problems using the classical painkiller approach that treats only negative impacts sustainable agriculture treats problem sources Because most actual society issues are now intertwined global and fast developing sustainable agriculture will bring solutions to build a safer world The Origins of Agriculture in Europe I. J. Thorpe, 2003-09-02 The Origins of Agriculture in Europe takes a look at current ideas in the light of a considerable mass of literature and archaeological evidence examining the transition to agriculture through the comparison of social and economic developments across Europe In this volume I J Thorpe manages to evaluate various alternative explanations in detailed examples whilst also succeeding in addressing the broader theoretical questions which form the nucleus of contemporary debates This clearly written and accessible text is an extremely valuable resource for students of European prehistory Vocational Division Bulletin ,1941 Managing risks to build climate-smart and resilient agrifood value chains Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2022-05-13 This work provides a preliminary analysis of the key climate risks affecting agrifood value chains and opportunities for climate services that reach stakeholders involved in all stages of the value chain from agrifood production to harvest storage and refrigeration processing and packaging transportation markets trade and consumption Climate services provide opportunities to effectively and comprehensively mainstream climate risk management across the entire agrifood value chain in addition to increasing sustainability and efficiency in the face of changing climate conditions This report provides significant primary information and recommendations on the development of climate services across the agrifood value chain with a view to systematically enhance sustainable and resilient opportunities It also provides a basis for further research and investment funding in this area Its findings could spark follow up research and public and private investment

Understanding and Reducing Methane Emissions in Southeast Asia Qiu Jiahui,Ryan Wong,2022-05-26 A few ASEAN countries have signed the Global Methane Pledge but methane should receive a broader and higher priority from the entire region given its significant contribution to climate change and the availability of solutions The agriculture sector contributes the most amount of methane emissions with a steadily rising share over the past decade Several Southeast Asian countries face similar methane abatement challenges i e agricultural productivity in Vietnam Thailand Myanmar and the Philippines gas leakage in Malaysia and Brunei and waste management in Indonesia Malaysia and Singapore warranting closer collaboration at the subregional level While it is true that countries have been participating in international initiatives and implementing national policies related to rice cultivation and oil and gas processing their impacts have not been thoroughly evaluated Rather than creating new institutional structures ASEAN could for example ensure that its existing working groups and networks prioritize methane abatement Missing data on the relative contribution to methane emissions from livestock rice paddies and informal economies should be collected to help refine problem definition and formulate effective solutions
