Ah Q And Others:

Ah Q and Others Xun Lu, 1971      The Real Story of Ah-Q and Other Tales of China Xun Lu, 2009 The acclaimed translation of the complete fiction of the father of modern Chinese literature Lu Xun is one of the founding figures of modern Chinese literature. In the early twentieth century as China came up against the realities of the modern world, Lu Xun effected a shift in Chinese letters away from the ornate obsequious literature of the aristocrats to the plain expressive literature of the masses. His celebrated short stories assemble a powerfully unsettling portrait of the superstition, poverty, and complacency that he perceived in late imperial China and in the revolutionary republic that toppled the last dynasty in 1911. This volume presents Lu Xun's complete fiction in bracing new translations and includes such famous works as The Real Story of Ah Q, Diary of a Madman, and The Divorce. Together they expose a contradictory legacy of cosmopolitan independence, polemical fractiousness, and anxious patriotism that continues to resonate in Chinese intellectual life today. For more than seventy years, Penguin has been the leading publisher of classic literature in the English-speaking world. With more than 1,700 titles, Penguin Classics represents a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines. Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors, as well as up-to-date translations by award-winning translators.

Ah Q and Others Lu Hsun, Xun Lu, 2002 In the course of his studies overseas, the author attended a motion picture performance and saw the decapitation of a Chinese spy. He resolved to establish a school of modern literature in China to give voice to these experiences. Fifteen of the stories that Hsun published in New Youth were later collected and published as this volume.

Diary of a Madman and Other Stories Lu Xun, 2021-05-25 Here at last is an accurate and enjoyable rendering of Lu Xun's fiction in an American English idiom that masterfully captures the sardonic wit, melancholy pathos, and ironic vision of China's first truly modern writer. Michael S. Duke, University of British Columbia. The inventor of the modern Chinese short story, Lu Xun is universally regarded as twentieth-century China's greatest writer. This long-awaited volume presents new translations of all Lu Xun's stories, including his first Remembrances of the Past, written in classical Chinese. These new renderings faithfully convey both the brilliant style and the pungent expression for which Lu Xun is famous. Also included are a substantial introduction by the translator and sufficient annotation to make the stories fully accessible, enabling readers approaching Lu Xun for the first time to appreciate why these stories occupy a permanent place not only in Chinese literature but in world literature as well.

Ah Q Archaeology Paul B. Foster, 2006-04-03 Although Lu Xun was a leading intellectual and writer in twentieth-century China, and his representative character Ah Q, hero of The True Story of Ah Q, is considered an iconic repository of progressive Chinese thinking about the national character, few works examine the major discourses in his thought and writing relative to broader historical and intellectual currents outside the context of his politicization. Ah Q Archaeology however concretely situates Lu Xun's critique of national character vis-à-vis metanarratives of nationalism and modernity through a close examination of his works in their historical context Paul B Foster uses a discursive approach to tie together Lu Xun's major theme of national character critique and its fate in China's tumultuous twentieth century This book is an important and unique contribution to modern Chinese intellectual history and modern Chinese literature The Problematic of Self in Modern Chinese Literature Kirk A. Denton, 1998 Centered around the figures of Hu Feng a leftist literary theorist who promoted subjectivism and his disciple Lu Ling known for his psychological fiction this study explores theoretical and fictional responses to the problematic of self at the heart of the experience of modernity in 20th century China Madmen and Other Survivors Jeremy Tambling, 2007-02-01 Madmen and Other Survivors Reading Lu Xun's Fiction puts the short stories written by this outstanding Chinese writer between 1918 and 1926 into a broad context of Modernism The fiction of Lu Xun 1881-1936 deals with the China moving beyond the 1911 Revolution He asks about the possibilities of survival and what that means even considering the possibility that madness might be a strategy by which that is possible Such an idea calls identity into question and Lu Xun is read here as a writer for whom that is a wholly problematic concept The book makes use of critical and cultural theory to consider these short stories in the context of not only Chinese fiction but in terms of the art of the short story and in relation to literary modernism It attempts to put Lu Xun into as wide a perspective as possible for contemporary reading To make his work widely accessible he is treated here in English translation

Feuerwerker, 1998-10-01 The division between the scholar gentry class and the people was an enduring theme of the traditional Chinese agrarian bureaucratic state Twentieth century elites recast this as a division between intellectuals and peasants and made the confrontation between the writing intellectual self and the peasant other a central concern of literature The author argues that in the process they created the peasantry the downtrodden rural masses represented as proper objects of political action and shifting ideological agendas Throughout this transition language or discourse has been not only a weapon of struggle but the center of controversy and contention Because of this primacy of language the author's main approach is the close reading or rather re-reading of significant narrative fictions from four literary generations to demonstrate how historical ideological and cultural issues are absorbed articulated and debated within the text Three chapters each focus on one representative author The fiction of Lu Xun 1881-1936 which initiated the literary preoccupation with the victimized peasant is also about the identity crisis of the intellectual Zhao Shuli 1906-1970 upheld by the Communist Party as a model peasant writer tragically exemplifies in his career the inherent contradictions of such an assigned role In the post-Mao era Gao Xiaosheng 1928 uses the ironic play of language to present a more ambiguous peasant while deflating intellectual pretensions The chapter on the last of the four generations examines several texts by Mo Yan 1956 Han Shaogong 1952 and Wang Anyi 1954 as examples of root-searching fiction from the mid-1980s While reaching back into the past this fiction is paradoxically also experimental in technique the encounter with the peasant leads to questions about the self-construction of the intellectual and the nature of narrative representation itself Throughout the focus is on texts in which some sort of representation or stand-in of the writer intellectual self is present as character as witness as center of consciousness or as first person or obtrusive narrator Each story catches the writer in a self-reflective mode the confrontation with the peasant other providing a theater for acting out varying dramas of identity power ideology political engagement and self-representation
