Confronting the Nation's Water Problems National Research Council, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Water Science and Technology Board, Committee on Assessment of Water Resources Research, 2004-11-14. In order to confront the increasingly severe water problems faced by all parts of the country, the United States needs to make a new commitment to research on water resources. A new mechanism is needed to coordinate water research currently fragmented among nearly 20 federal agencies Given the competition for water among farmers communities aquatic ecosystems and other users as well as emerging challenges such as climate change and the threat of waterborne diseases Confronting the Nation's Water Problems concludes that an additional 70 million in federal funding should go annually to water research Funding should go specifically to the areas of water demand and use water supply augmentation and other institutional research topics The book notes that overall federal funding for water research has been stagnant in real terms for the past 30 years and that the portion dedicated to research on water use and social science topics has declined considerably Agenda for the nation,1969 How to Solve the Nation's Infrastructure Problem United States.  Kohl,2017-05-25 Can the nation state survive the internet Or will the internet be territorially fragmented along state boundaries This book investigates these questions The Green Agenda in American Politics Robert J. Duffy,2003 Organizations such as the Sierra Club and Friends of the Earth are familiar to anyone with an interest in environmental protection As activist groups they played by the same rules for years But in 1994 the rules changed With the Republican takeover of Congress environmental groups faced sweeping changes in federal policies that threatened the enforcement of environmental laws As these organizations intensified their efforts to meet these challenges they also altered their electoral strategies and political spending patterns This book traces those actions and shows what they mean for the future of environmentalism in the political arena While environmental advocacy groups have become bigger and better funded in recent years so have the corporate interests that compete with them for the attention of public and politicians The Green Agenda in American Politics offers a new look at environmental advocacy that focuses on contemporary lobbying electioneering and agenda setting in this new context Drawing on interviews with activists from a wide range of organizations Robert Duffy describes what environmental groups actually do when lobbying officials or the public He examines activity at both national and state levels to emphasize their growing use of websites email and action alert networks to conduct more sophisticated grassroots campaigns and he shows how they are devoting more funds to unregulated forms of spending such as independent expenditure issue advocacy advertising and public education campaigns Duffy also tracks emerging trends in interest group politics and provides an overview of activism through the early 1990s He then documents the emergence of more aggressive action after 1994 such as providing campaign services to candidates and mounting voter registration drives He also shows how state and local groups have begun to play more important roles in the wake of the rollback of federal environmental regulations Brimming with new insights into interest group lobbies in general and contemporary environmental groups in particular Duffy s book opens a new window on the influence of Big Money in the supposedly democratic electoral process Intelligence Mark M. Lowenthal,2014-05-23 This sixth edition now features a new two colour interior design and Lowenthal s reliable and thorough updating With recent developments in mind he highlights new challenges facing the intelligence community including the effects of the Snowden leaks in terms of collection and Congressional oversight as well as discussing NSA programs UAVs and the impact of social media All transnational issues have been updated especially to reflect changes in the war on terror and with WMD New analytic issues receive attention including Big Data multi intelligence analysis and shifting demands on the work force A new oversight chapter gives extra scrutiny to the role of the FISA court OMB and GAO Lowenthal also expands coverage of foreign intelligence services to include more on services in each region of the world

African Predicaments & the Method of solving them effectively Fekadu Bekele, 2016-08-30 The author of this book identifies the causes of African predicaments and gives solutions to the complicated challenges the continent faces He shows how slavery and colonialism devastated the evolutionary development of the continent Both slavery and colonialism had destroyed until hitherto existed forms of social organizations and division of labor After political independence many African governments were pursued to implement free market economic policies However the different policies that have been applied for the past six decades could not wipe out the structural crises of the continent Instead the different policies have deepened the social and the economic crises of the continent After 50 years of political independence many African countries are still exporters of raw materials and cash crops Almost all African countries do not have an integrated market structure that is based on vast division of labor The market sizes of many African countries are very narrow To this day many African countries practice the so called import substitution industrialization which cannot solve the continent s complex problems After the author has examined the failure of the economic policies of the past six decades and their negative impacts he proposes that African countries must introduce a holistic program that effectively solves all the challenges that the continent faces For that they must introduce political and institutional reforms The author believes that without wide range political and institutional reforms and without changing the mindset of the political and economic elite there cannot be any social and economic progress
