Weiss, 2023-04-04 The Grand Challenges for Social Work GCSW provides an agenda for society and for the social work profession The 13 GCSW have been codified by the American Academy of Social Work and Social Welfare and are emerging as a significant underpinning in the education of undergraduate and graduate social work students throughout the USA This volume serves as a guide as to how this can best be achieved in alignment with the 2022 Educational Policy and Accreditation Standards EPAS from the Council of Social Work Education Divided into four parts Individual and Family Well Being Stronger Social Fabric A Just Society The Grand Challenges in the Field Each chapter introduces a Grand Challenge situates it within the curricula and provides teaching practices in one of the targeted domains as well as learning objectives class exercises and discussions By showing how to facilitate class discussion manage difficult conversations and address diversity equity and inclusion as part of teaching the topic this book will be of interest to all faculty teaching at both undergraduate and graduate levels It should be noted that there are additional supplementary chapters beyond the 13 GCSW that provide further context for the reader Handbook of the Aging Brain Eugenia Wang,D. Stephen Snyder,1998-08-13 Handbook of the Aging Brain brings together diverse scientific disciplines to cover the most recent research findings in an easy to read summary Scientists and clinicians will find a wide spectrum of subjects including gerontology neurology psychology molecular biology and cellular biology The book includes general chapters on the neuroanatomy and neurobiology of the aging brain and moves on to discussion of specifics including signal transduction cell death and specific cellular and neurological changes associated with dementia Alzheimer s and Parkinson s Disease Other chapters discuss the affect of aging on learning and memory language and cognition Everyday Violence in the Lives of Youth Helene Berman,Catherine Richardson/Kinewesquao,Kate Elliott,Eugenia Canas,2020-07-25T00:00:00Z Though interpersonal violence is widely studied much less has been done to understand structural violence the often invisible patterns of inequality that reproduce social relations of exclusion and marginalization through ideologies policies stigmas and discourses attendant to gender race class and other markers of social identity Structural violence normalizes experiences like poverty ableism sexual harassment racism and colonialism and erases their social and political origins The legal structures that provide impunity for those who exploit youth are also part of structural violence s machinery Working with Indigenous queer immigrant and homeless youth across Canada this five year Youth based Participatory Action Research project used art to explore the many ways that structural violence harms youth destroying hope optimism a sense of belonging and a connection to civil society However recognizing that youth are not merely victims Everyday Violence in the Lives of Youth also examines the various ways youth respond to and resist this violence to preserve their dignity well being and inclusion in society Ageing with Smartphones in Urban Chile Alfonso Otaegui,2023-03-27 What does it mean to be ageing in Chile as a migrant What does it mean to be late middle aged nowadays How does living half of your life in a foreign country impact perspectives on later life Is retirement an opportunity to go back to the home country What will happen to the next generation raised in a different country from their parents Based on 16 months of ethnographic fieldwork Ageing with Smartphones in Urban Chile analyses the experience of ageing for Peruvian migrants aged around 60 who have lived in Chile for over 20 years Their lives are informed by a series of experiences of being in between They live between two countries two generations their Peruvian parents and their Chilean children two different stages in life retained youth and menacing old age between giving care to their parents and not wanting care from their children and between a continuing legacy through their children who have a promising future and not transmitting legacy some traditions will not pass on to the next generation Peruvian migration has been one of the most studied in Chile However neither the experience of ageing of migrants in Chile nor the experience of late middle age has been fully addressed yet By focusing on the entanglement of ageing migration and technology this monograph is an ethnographic contribution to an unexplored subject in the vast literature on migration studies in Chile

The Limits of Empire: European Imperial Formations in Early Modern World History William Reger, 2016-03-03 This volume published in honor of historian Geoffrey Parker explores the working of European empires in a global perspective focusing on one of the most important themes of Parker's work the limits of empire which is to say the centrifugal forces sacral dynastic military diplomatic geographical informational that plagued imperial formations in the early modern period 1500 1800 During this time of wrenching technological demographic climatic and economic change empires had to struggle with new religious movements incipient nationalisms new sea routes new military technologies and an evolving state system with complex new rules of diplomacy Engaging with a host of current debates the chapters in this book break away from conventional historical conceptions of empire as an essentially western phenomenon with clear demarcation lines between the colonizer and the colonized These are replaced here by much more fluid and subtle conceptions that highlight complex interplays between coalitions of rulers and ruled In so doing the volume builds upon recent work that increasingly suggests that empires simply could not exist without the consent of their imperial subjects or at least significant groups of them This was as true for the British Raj as it was for imperial China or Russia Whilst the thirteen chapters in this book focus on a number of geographic regions and adopt different approaches each shares a focus on and interest in the working of empires and the ways that imperial formations dealt with or failed to deal with the challenges that beset them Taken together they reflect a new phase in the evolving historiography of empire They also reflect the scholarly contributions of the dedicatee Geoffrey Parker whose life and work are discussed in the introductory chapters and we are proud to say in a delightful chapter by Parker himself an autobiographical reflection that closes the book
