Robalino, World Bank, World Health Organization. Regional Office for the Eastern Mediterranean, Joint United Nations Programme on HIV/AIDS., 2003 Recent evidence suggests that the prevalence of HIV AIDS is increasing in the Middle East North Africa and Eastern Mediterranean MENA EM region and that the total number of AIDS related deaths has risen almost sixfold since the early 1990s Although this figure is low compared with those for Africa South Asia and the Caribbean low prevalence does not equal low risk The situation can change rapidly and even conservative estimates indicate that AIDS poses a real threat to the region s long term growth This book reviews the current knowledge available on the prevalence of HIV AIDS in the MENA EM region with the goal of stimulating discussion among policy and decisionmakers In other regions early investments in good surveillance and effective prevention programs have proved to be relative bargains compared with the costs of a full blown epidemic As the authors argue the time to act is now while prevalence levels are still low To that end they make specific recommendations and offer best practices and case studies from around the world Back cover
