Aims and Objectives of Islamic Education Muhammad Naguib Al-Attas (Syed.), 1979-01-01 Philosophies of Islamic Education Mujaddad Zaman, Nadeem A. Memon, 2016-03-31 The study of Islamic education has hitherto remained a tangential inquiry in the broader focus of Islamic Studies In the wake of this neglect a renaissance of sorts has occurred in recent years reconfiguring the importance of Islam's attitudes to knowledge learning and education as paramount in the study and appreciation of Islamic civilization Philosophies of Islamic Education stands in tandem to this call and takes a pioneering step in establishing the importance of its study for the educationalist academic and student alike Broken into four sections it deals with theological pedagogic institutional and contemporary issues reflecting the diverse and often competing notions and practices of Islamic education As a unique international collaboration bringing into conversation theologians historians philosophers teachers and sociologists of education Philosophies of Islamic Education intends to provide fresh means for conversing with contemporary debates in ethics secularization theory child psychology multiculturalism interfaith dialogue and moral education In doing so it hopes to offer an important and timely contribution to educational studies as well as give new insight for academia in terms of conceiving learning and education Comparative Ethics in a Global Age Mariëtta Tigranovna Stepaniants, 2007 Learning, Knowledge and Cultural Context Linda King, 2012-12-06 This special issue of the International Review of Education includes contributions on indigenous knowledge the cultural context of learning and on the interplay between the so called traditional and modern ways of education It starts from the assumption that cultures are not static that they are shifting and mutating and that the Western need to encapsulate other cultures which found its most extreme form in their being frozen in time and boxed behind glass in museums of ethnology has distorted our understanding of the way in which different cultures create recreate and reproduce knowledge The basic premise of this position is that there is no such thing as a pure culture and that all cultures borrow lend adapt and distort distinct elements from other cultures All cultures moreover provide their members with ways of learning about that culture which include elements such as language forms of social organisation and ritual spaces for the transmission of specialised knowledge Meaning may be shifted over time but that in itself is a product of the passage of knowledge through history Indeed much meaning is cyclical and reinterpreted so that cultures may look back to a mythological past which they assumed gave them their essential identity but which may be part fact part fantasy and part fiction This is then reinterpreted in the light of changed and changing historical circumstances Race Relations and Urban Education Peter David Pumfrey, Gajendra K. Verma, 1990 A presentation of a radical but systematic approach to the study of some of the educational problems and issues which ethnic minority children and adolescents face within the context of urban schooling as we move into the 1990s The Universal Islamic Education Methodology Roohi A. Ahmad, 2023-08-28 Have we ever wondered why Allah swt uses His name as Allah some places and Rabb in the others Have we ever wondered what the difference between momin and muslim is Can we make an argument to prove their meanings from within the Quran Have we ever wondered why Allah swt uses the word zikar so extensively throughout the Quran or what the meaning of the word zikar is or how the meaning of zikar is different from talu qara and ratat and even why there are talu qara and ratat the three different words for reading the Quran Or have we ever wondered why we are plagued by all kinds of catastrophes Or why is there so much chaos and conflict in the world and how can we solve these problems If we have not wondered about such questions the reason is that we have not read the Quran in its true sense Today's Muslims have two main objectives for their children success in this world and triumph in the life hereafter Muslim children need natural and social knowledge but to fully enrich their minds they also need to learn about the Quran and Islamic traditions Many Islamic schools in North America are pursuing both of these objectives but educators often feel that merging these two goals is too difficult Having spent years teaching in Islamic schools and conducting a wealth of research Roohi A Ahmad has observed firsthand how complex the enterprise of Islamic education is She has also witnessed the void of learning outcomes teaching goals and most importantly a clear vision and methodology for Islamic education She has sought to remedy that situation in this book It provides a practical methodology designed to help Muslim educators create a state of the art Islamic education system that will lead to fully formed students who can function well in this world and ensure a positive outcome in the world to come under Islamic rule Finally he considers how this new understanding of medieval Islamic civilization might affect the highly contentious global environment of today Negotiating Identity and Tradition in Single-faith Religious Education Inkeri Rissanen,2014 What kinds of process of negotiation are involved in teaching and studying Islam in a modern liberal context How can the common aims attached to liberal religious education in contemporary European multicultural societies be pursued in single faith education This book contributes to the search for legitimate and successful forms of religious education by presenting results from a case study examining Islamic education in Finnish schools Finnish Islamic education in which students study their own religion with aims drawn from the liberal educational paradigm offers a space for negotiating liberal educational values in an Islamic framework and negotiating Islam in its many contexts The findings demonstrate the possibilities as well as challenges in educating for autonomy tolerance and citizenship through religion The book also gives insights into students negotiations on diversity and tolerance that are important for all involved in any form of multicultural education These negotiations bring out distinct challenges in dealing with interreligious intrareligious and cultural differences and demonstrate how different understandings of tolerance in different ideological frameworks can cause confusion among students The results lead to a discussion of the educational needs of Muslim students in contemporary Western societies and the competencies their teachers need UGC NET Paper 2 _ Education Volume - 1 Mr. Rohit Manglik,2024-03-03 EduGorilla Publication is a trusted name in the education sector committed to empowering learners with high quality study materials and resources Specializing in competitive exams and academic support EduGorilla provides comprehensive and well structured content tailored to meet the needs of students across various streams and levels

Bagley, 2008-01-01 This important book draws together and integrates several strands in educational policy. It offers a perspective on the role of Britain's increasing Muslim population and the need for Citizenship Education for all school pupils which can allow young Muslims to integrate in ways which meet their legitimate needs for expression of religious values and which fosters tolerance in both Muslim pupils and in their peers as well as responsible participation in the wider democracy. The book explains clearly the meaning of education and citizenship in Islam and argues that the practice of Islam encourages its adherents both to tolerate other religions and the societies in which Islamic minorities have settled. In this account there is no logic, morality or theological support for violent acts against the state. However, increasing Islamophobia misdirected against Muslim youth in Britain has forced a reappraisal of identity. This combined with increasing dissatisfaction of Muslim parents on the failure of mainstream schools to tolerate the religious aspirations of their children has led to the setting up of a number of Muslim schools in Britain. Recent government actions to introduce Citizenship Education in all schools as a means of fostering tolerance and countering political apathy are evaluated in a study of five best practice Muslim schools and five similar schools serving a wider religious population. Results show the general success of Citizenship Education in the Muslim schools studied and support the argument that Islamic education can support Citizenship Education in socially productive ways. While focussed on Britain, this book is an important comparative study of education, sociology and social policy and deserves to be read by trainee teachers, undergraduates and policy makers in the fields of education and social planning.
