Aint About Silk:

The Bright Side Of My Condition Charlotte Randall, 2014-01-29 When the Captain finds us stowaways and gives us the choice between joining the island or joining the crew, all of us go to a man-of-war island. So he puts us ashore with a few provisions and a trypot and sail away. After escaping from the Norfolk Island penal colony on a sealing ship Bloodworth and his three fellow convicts are left on a remote southern island by a captain who promises to pick them up in a year's time. It will be many years before they see another ship. During that time, four men with nothing in common but a desire to escape and a need to survive live together in cramped and freezing isolation. Slangam believes hard work will see them through. Toper puts his faith in the Divine. Gargantua leans on his learning and Bloodworth watches both his fellow felons and the inhospitable environment. Based on the true story of four convicts who spent more than nine years on the Snares Islands in the early nineteenth century, Charlotte Randall's latest novel is a riveting, intelligent and powerful work of fiction. Also available as an eBook. 2014 New Zealand Post Book Awards Fiction Prize finalist

Process of Elimination Larry "L. Black" Hill, 2010-01-26 KALI JAMES aka REDFLAG is an unruly gangster. Blood from the notorious streets of Los Angeles who's experienced it all. Kali's reputation for Murder Mayhem and Robbery keeps him among the elite in the violent underworld. Unfortunately, a strange twist of events begins to take place after detectives raid his neighborhood and begin asking questions about robberies they're following up on. Kali and his crew are taken in for murder, which eventually turns into a land slide of betrayal, police cooperation and mistrust. Take a journey with Kali who's on the verge of losing it all his life and his relationship with his child's mother, Martika, who's drifting toward the arms of another man. Martika never thought Kali's words would be so relevant in life but comes to find out otherwise as she comes face to face with the Process of Elimination.

Stories for Men Charles Grayson, 2011 Can the reading public imagine a less likely but more needed book than Stories for Men, a seventy-five year old anthology edited by Charles Grayson, written in an age when such a title would scarcely raise an eyebrow. Imagine a book about men in which the featured theme is not rapists, child abusers or men who never weep, feel little sorrow or prefer dog fighting to baseball. To say the least, this is a counter-cultural collective portrait necessary in today's politically correct world. The original editor, Charles Grayson, hit the nail on the head in his explicit opening remarks: "The only claim we make for this book is that it doesn't pretend to offer the best or the finest in the world's foremost short stories by contemporary masters. Simply, it is just a bundle of yarns by present-day American writers, each dealing with a different phase of the actions and activities of men designed for good reading." The text fulfills its mission. The work features little-known short stories by such major writers as Erskine Caldwell on racial relations, James M. Cain on murder, James T. Farrell on street life, Dashiell Hammett on men and divorce, Ring Lardner on baseball, Damon Runyon on football, William Saroyan on horseracing, Thomas Wolfe on travel, William Faulkner on foreigners, among many others. For readers interested in a slice of America, this will be a book of inestimable value as well as personal pleasure. Stories for Men will prove ideal. Index of

Losin' Ain't an Option Gary Hicks,Pat Bush,2010-08-26 As I headed south from the Black Hills of South Dakota the driving was some of the most difficult I had ever encountered It wasn't the snow or the ice on this lonely two lane road that troubled me it was the uncertainty of what was ahead and the regret of what I was leaving behind that was overcoming me with emotion and clouding my vision with the tears of fear I had made the wrong decision I had just left behind my job the woman I loved and everything I was accustomed to en route to take over a roadhouse in the Native Country of the southwest Looking like a dust bowl refugee in my old Currier pick up loaded with my tools my Harley and 140 pound Shepherd dog named Chelsea I had agreed with my father to go clean up this shit hole of a bar he had built back in the 60s He had leased it out when we left Arizona I was in about the 5th grade when we left and over the years it had become infamous The current lessee had failed to pay the rent for the last couple of years and needed to be removed Compounding that situation was the over three dozen police calls the local sheriff had received in just the last year As I look back now those fears though real were slightly exaggerated I was unaware at the time that life's experiences had groomed me for what was to come It would be the best job I ever hated and the worst job I ever loved Little was I to know life in hell is hilarious
