ways of guiding honest and responsive discussion as well as liberating activities that encourage students to disengage from their fears. It addresses children's heavy exposure to violence and stereotypes especially through the media. It shows teachers how to explore major issues in the lives of their students in a healthy positive way and how to encourage stronger more aware independent and successful learners. Publisher Narratives, Nerdfighters, and New Media Jennifer Burek Pierce, 2020-11-15. For decades we've been warned that video killed the radio star and more recently that social media has replaced reading. Nerdfighteria a first of its kind online literary community with nearly three million members challenges these assumptions. It is the brainchild of brothers Hank and John Green who provide literary themed programming on their website and YouTube channel including video clips from John a best selling author most famous for his young adult book The Fault in Our Stars. These clips not only give fans personal insights into his works and the writing process writ large they also provide unique access to the author inspiring fans to create their own fan art and make connections with one another. In the twenty first century reading and watching videos are related activities that allow people to engage with authors and other readers. Whether they turn to The Fault in Our Stars or titles by lesser known authors Nerdfighters are readers. Incorporating thousands of testimonials about what they read and why Jennifer Burek Pierce not only sheds light on this particular online community she also reveals what it tells us about the changing nature of reading in the digital age. In Nerdfighteria we find a community who shows us that being online doesn't mean disinterest in books.
