Falk, 2003-04-17 A documentary history of Emma Goldman's life and work in the United States This is the first of a three volume set of the most important letters newspaper articles speeches government documents and photographs covering Goldman's life from her arrival in the US through 1905 when she founded the anarchist magazine Mother Earth Women of the Spanish-American War Cheryl Mullenbach, 2022-06-15 While it's mindboggling to fathom anyone labeling a war splendid a high ranking American official used that term to describe the Spanish American War in 1898 If any slivers of splendor existed in the grim brutalities of war they were frequently on display in the remarkable actions of brave women who nursed their fallen warriors reported conditions on the battlefields fought on behalf of fervently held causes and protested questionable actions of their governments Today most Americans are aware of Teddy Roosevelt and the Rough Riders Even casual historians recall the chant Remember the Maine to hell with Spain The role of horses and mules in the war have sparked attention And the exploits of several dogs have been documented However in the quest for shining examples of splendor high motives and magnificent intelligence and spirit during the Spanish American War the accomplishments of some extraordinary individuals have been overlooked and deserve recognition Women of the Spanish American War brings to light their stories of relentless courage and selflessness Early Puerto Rican Cinema and Nation Building Naida

García-Crespo, 2019-06-07 Early Puerto Rican Cinema and Nation Building focuses on the processes of Puerto Rican national identity formation as seen through the historical development of cinema on the island between 1897 and 1940 Anchoring her work in archival sources in film technology economy and education Naida García-Crespo argues that Puerto Rico's position as a stateless nation allows for a fresh understanding of national cinema based on perceptions of productive cultural contributions rather than on citizenship or state structures This book aims to contribute to recently expanding discussions of cultural networks by analyzing how Puerto Rican cinema navigates the problems arising from the connection and or disjunction between nation and state The author argues that Puerto Rico's position as a stateless nation puts pressure on traditional conceptions of national cinema which tend to rely on assumptions of state support or a bounded nation state She also contends that the cultural and business practices associated with early cinema reveal that transnationalism is an integral part of national identities and their development Garc a Crespo shows throughout this book that the development and circulation of cinema in Puerto Rico illustrate how the national is built from transnational connections Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press The National Union Catalogs, 1963- ,1964 Movie History: A Survey Douglas Gomery, Clara Pafort-Overduin, 2011-02-28 Covering everything from Edison to Avatar Gomery and Pafort Overduin have written the clearest best organized and most user friendly film history textbook on the market It masterfully distills the major trends and movements of film history so that the subject can be taught in one semester And each chapter includes a compelling case study that highlights an important moment in movie history and at the same time subtly introduces a methodological approach This book is a pleasure to read and to teach Peter Decherney University of Pennsylvania USA In addition to providing a comprehensive overview of the development of film around the world the book gives us examples of how to do film history including organizing the details and discussing their implications Hugh McCarney Western Connecticut State University USA Douglas Gomery and Clara Pafort Overduin have created an outstanding textbook with an impressive breadth of content covering over 100 years in the evolution of cinema Movie History A Survey is an engaging book that will reward readers with a contemporary perspective of the history of motion pictures and provide a solid foundation for the study of film Matthew Hanson Eastern Michigan University USA How can we understand the history of film Historical facts don t answer the basic questions of film history History as this fascinating book shows is more than the simple accumulation of film titles facts and figures This is a survey of over 100 years of cinema history from its beginnings in 1895 to its current state in the twenty first century An accessible introductory text Movie History A Survey looks at not only the major films filmmakers and cinema institutions throughout the years but also extends to the production distribution exhibition technology and reception of films The textbook is divided chronologically into four sections using the timeline of technological changes Section One looks at the era of silent movies from 1895 to 1927 Section Two starts with the coming of sound and covers 1928 until 1950 Section Three runs from 1951 to 1975 and deals with the coming and development of television and Section Four focuses on the coming of home video and the transition to digital from 1975 to 2010 Key pedagogical features include timelines in each section help students to situate the films within a broader historical context case study boxes with close up analysis of specific film histories and a particular emphasis on film reception lavishly illustrated with over 450 color images to put faces to names and to connect pictures to film titles margin notes add background information and clarity glossary for clear understanding of the key terms described references and further reading at the end of each chapter to enhance further study A supporting website is available at www.routledge.com/textbooks/moviehistory with lots of extra materials useful for the classroom or independent study including additional case studies new in depth and unique to the website international case studies for the Netherlands in Dutch and English timeline A movie history timeline charting key dates in the history of cinema from 1890 to the present day revision flash cards ideal
