1942-1946 The War Years:

The Thailand-Burma Railway, 1942-1946: Documents, post-war accounts, maps, and photographs Paul H. Kratoska, 2006 The Thailand-Burma Railway, 1942-1946: War crimes Paul H. Kratoska, 2006 City Behind a Fence: Oak Ridge, Tennessee, 1942-1946, 1986 During World War II the United States government working through the Army Corp of Engineer undertook an unprecedented experiment the development of the world's first nuclear weapon Although the fiery conclusion of the Manhattan Project is well known the prelude to the story the saga of the people sequestered in the project's three crucial support communities has remained obscure Built from the ground up these secret cities are phenomena of special import for American social history In City Behind a Fence Charles W Johnson and Charles O Jackson chronicle the nature of daily life in Oak Ridge a facility built in the remote back country of East Tennessee to aid in the construction of the first atomic bomb Surrounded by a fence patrolled by armed guards the inhabitants of Oak Ridge most of whom were unaware of the nature of the activity at the facility spent much of the war period physically cut off from the outside world The authors analyze the people who lived and worked in this unique setting They use previously classified material and extensive oral interviews to portray the stresses and patterns of life in the city focusing on problems of housing racial segregation education recreation interaction with surrounding communities the extreme security measures and the eventual normalization of the community The history of war time Oak Ridge graphically reveal the impact of the single minded massive endeavor on the lives of those who struggled mostly unknowingly to launch the nation and the world into the Atomic Age The Lost Years, 1942-1946 Sue Kunitomi Embrey, 1997 Captains of Bomb Disposal 1942-1946 T. Dennis Reece, 2005-04-28 Bomb disposal was the most technically demanding and dangerous job outside of combat during World War II Fewer than five thousand men did it in the American armed forces During the war their activities were shrouded in secrecy so that the Axis would not know what techniques the Allies were using When they came home the citizen soldiers and officers who had done the work preferred anonymity to publicity Furthermore the units they had served in often squads of six enlisted men and one officer had been too small and independent to attract much notice by American chroniclers official or unofficial of the biggest armed conflict in history Captains of Bomb Disposal 1942-1946 attempts to bring some long overdue public attention to this small group of neglected heroes It chronicles two of their two most significant achievements during the World War II era the contributions of the thirty three bomb disposal squads of the Ninth Air Force and the top secret intelligence mission code named Operation Hidden Documents In 1944 the Ninth Air Force was the most powerful tactical air force the world had ever seen In the European Theater of Operations ETO it controlled more bomb disposal personnel than any other high command Part I of Captains of Bomb Disposal 1942-1946 mainly describes training at the Bomb Disposal School at Aberdeen Proving Ground Maryland and the support thirty three bomb disposal squads gave the Ninth Air Force Interwoven in the narrative covering events after D Day is the wider context in which those squads and all of the Ninth Air Force operated namely air and ground forces pioneering a large scale close partnership which defeated the Germans in northwest Europe Also discussed is how Ninth Air Force bomb disposal squads helped handle the problem after V E Day of up to two million tons of surplus explosive ordnance in the theater Most of the sources for Part I on bomb disposal operations are unpublished unit histories Ninth and Eighth Air Force ordnance reports theater level reports and related documents at either the National Archives at College Park Maryland NACP or the Air Force Historical Research Agency AFHRA at Maxwell Air Force Base Alabama Part I is organized around but definitely not limited to the World War II experiences of Capt Thomas R Reece Now deceased and the authors father he was one of the four highest ranking bomb disposal officers in the Ninth Air Force Some of his official and personal papers are utilized Background material on the course of the war in the ETO is taken mainly from published official histories and for the Ninth Air Force also from unpublished documents at AFHRA One of the passages in Part I describes how two men in the 80th Bomb Disposal Squad Sgt Russell F McCarthy and T 5 Walter V Smith in 1945 won the Soldiers Medal Americas highest military award for bravery in action not against the enemy They were not the only bomb disposal personnel to win that award during the World War II era Part II revolves around Capt Stephen M Richards who was commanding officer of the 123rd Bomb Disposal Squad attached during the war to General Pattons Third Army Captain Richards and two combat engineers won the award for disarming a cache of booby trapped documents outside Stechovice Czechoslovakia in February 1946 as part of Operation Hidden Documents The trio was apprehended by Czechoslovak authorities while the other mission members took the documents to Germany and was only released after the documents were returned Meanwhile a diplomatic crisis was ignited as Czechoslovakia officially protested the American infringement of its sovereignty Moreover the Czechoslovak Communist Party used the controversy for propaganda purposes shortly before the national elections of May 1946 Shortly before the trio was released the operation received fairly extensive publicity in United States Congressional Serial Set ,1946 Reports Documents and Journals of the U S Senate and House of Representatives The Thailand-Burma Railway, 1942-1946: Voluntary accounts Paul H. Kratoska,2006 United States Statutes at Large United States,1948 Italian Prisoners of War in America, 1942-1946 Louis E. Keefer,1992 The only study to date on Italian POWs in the United States this book records the history of the 50 000 Italian prisoners of war who were captured in North Africa during fighting in the desert and shipped to the United States as POWs After Italy surrendered to the Allies and declared war on Germany 35 000 POWs worked with the U S Army as cooperators in Italian Service Units serving on Army posts throughout the United States The 15 000 non cooperators remained in stockades until their release in 1945 and 1946 The text itself is more than 50 percent oral history and is based largely on interviews with nearly 50 former POWs their friends and families and the U S civilian and military personnel who worked with them Many of the POWs returned to the United States after the war some as male war brides Every individual interviewed has a colorful vivid emotional story to tell of his experience with bullets and bombs with the dead and the dying and about the trauma of captivity The interviews and archival data indicate that the United States treated its POWs very well for the most part with a couple of dreadful exceptions and that the POWs participation helped us to win the war Italian Americans interested in their heritage and students of World War II will find these unique stories compelling and informative Congressional Serial Set, 1946 Checklist of United States Public Documents, 1789-1970: Master keyword index to the publication-issuing offices of the U.S. government, 1789-1970 Daniel W. Lester, 1972 Digest of Appropriations for the Support of the Government of the United States for the Service of the Fiscal Year Ending ..., and on Account of Deficiencies for Prior Years, Made by the ... Session of the ... Congress United States. Department of the Treasury. Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants, 1945 My Shanghai, 1942-1946 Keiko Itoh, 2025-10-01 It is 1942 Shanghai after Pearl Harbor Newly arrived Eiko Kishimoto a twenty year old London educated Japanese housewife settles into a privileged existence in the French Concession as a member of the community of the Occupying Power Initially her days are filled with high society lunches and dinners race course and night club visits and open air summer concerts amidst an ebullient and remarkably cosmopolitan society that makes up Shanghai But all is by no means what it seems As war progresses and Japan tightens its control within China tensions mount relationships unravel and allegiances are questioned It is not long before Eiko awakens to the meaning and implications of occupation for both her international friends and for Japanese civilians Even her settled domestic life with a growing family and close proximity to her beloved older sister is threatened as Japan's war efforts become more desperate and degenerate Partly biographical the author taking inspiration from her mother's own war experiences in China My Shanghai 1942-1946 provides a fascinating insight into the Asia Pacific War as never told before that is through the eyes of a young Japanese woman caught between her Christian values and loyalty to her country

Setsuko's Secret Shirley Ann Higuchi, 2020-10-20 As children Shirley Ann Higuchi and her brothers knew Heart Mountain only as the place their parents met imagining it as a great Stardust Ballroom in rural Wyoming As they grew older they would come to recognize the name as a source of great sadness and shame for their older family members part of the generation of Japanese Americans forced into the hastily built concentration camp in the aftermath of Executive Order 9066 Only after a serious cancer diagnosis did Shirley's mother Setsuko share her vision for a museum at the site of the former camp where she had been donating funds and volunteering in secret for many years After Setsuko's death Shirley skeptically accepted an invitation to visit the site a journey that would forever change her life and introduce her to a part of her mother she never knew Navigating the complicated terrain of the Japanese American experience Shirley patched together Setsuko's story and came to understand the forces and generational trauma that shaped her own life Moving seamlessly between family and communal history Setsuko's Secret offers a clear window into the camp life that was rarely revealed to the children of the incarcerated This volume powerfully insists that we reckon with the pain in our collective American past
