Vandermeer,Angus Wright,2009 Landscapes are frequently seen as fragments of natural habitat surrounded by a sea of agriculture But recent ecological theory shows that the nature of these fragments is not nearly as important for conservation as is the nature of the matrix of agriculture that surrounds them Local extinctions from conservation fragments are inevitable and must be balanced by migrations if massive extinction is to be avoided High migration rates only occur in what the authors refer to as high quality matrices which are created by alternative agroecological techniques as opposed to the industrial monocultural model of agriculture The authors argue that the only way to promote such high quality matrices is to work with rural social movements Their ideas are at odds with the major trends of some of the large conservation organizations that emphasize targeted land purchases of protected areas They argue that recent advances in ecological research make such a general approach anachronistic and call rather for solidarity with the small farmers around the world who are currently struggling to attain food sovereignty Nature s Matrix proposes a radically new approach to the conservation of biodiversity based on recent advances in the science of ecology plus political realities particularly in the world s tropical regions Monthly Index of Russian Accessions ,1958 History of International Trade in Soybeans, Soy Oil and Soybean Meal, Plus Trade Policy (1859-2021) William Shurtleff; Akiko Aoyagi,2021-09-07 The world s most comprehensive well documented and well illustrated book on this subject With extensive subject and geographic index 107 photographs and illustrations mostly color Free of charge in digital PDF format Parliament, Inventions and Patents Phillip Johnson,2018-04-19 This book is a research guide and bibliography of Parliamentary material including the Old Scottish Parliament and the Old Irish Parliament relating to patents and inventions from the early seventeenth century to 1976 It chronicles the entire history of a purely British patent law before the coming into force of the European Patent Convention under the Patents Act 1977 It provides a comprehensive record of every Act Bill Parliamentary paper report petition and recorded debate or Parliamentary question on patent law during the period The work will be an essential resource for scholars and researchers in intellectual property law the history of technology and legal and economic history

General International Law in International Investment Law, 2024-01-27 General international law is part and parcel of investor state arbitration This is the case not only regarding treaty law and state responsibility but also with respect to matters such as state succession the international minimum standard and state immunity all of which feature regularly in investor state arbitration Yet although general international law issues arise in almost every investment case and often require extensive research no systematic exploration of the relationship between the two exists This Commentary is the first to fill this gap providing a comprehensive treatment of the role of general international law in international investment law It engages in detail with central matters of general international law including in the practice of investment arbitration tribunals moving beyond existing works which focus solely on procedural and institutional provisions The Commentary's forty six chapters do not focus on a single source or subject Instead each concentrates on a specific relevant article from a particular source of public law such as the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties 1969 or the International Law Commission's Articles on the Responsibility of States for Internationally Wrongful Acts 2001 among others The entries combine detailed analysis with an examination of procedural and substantive aspects such as nationality and unjust enrichment and respond to the following questions how have investment tribunals interpreted and applied the specific rule of general international law To what extent and why does such interpretation and application align with or deviate from the practice by other international courts or tribunals How could and should investment tribunals interpret and apply rules that have yet to feature in investment arbitration This unique format means this commentary will serve as a central guide for all relevant case law and scholarship on international
