Tsou, Jamie Shaw, Carla Fehr, 2025-08-17 This book offers eighteen original historical and philosophical essays focused on values in science scientific pluralism and pragmatism These themes have been central in the work of Matthew J Brown and the book frames these topics through an engagement with Brown's broadly ranging work on values in science The themes of this book are integrated and unified in the pragmatic and value laden ideal of science defended by Professor Brown in his fascinating 2020 book Science and Moral Imagination Brown's ideal of moral imagination prescribes that scientists should recognize the contingencies in their work as unforced choices examine morally salient aspects of these decisions recognize the various interests of relevant stakeholders explore and construct alternative options and exercise fair and warranted value judgments to guide those decisions The interdisciplinary essays in this volume engage with different aspects of Brown's philosophical research on scientific values as well as his historical research on figures such as John Dewey and Paul K Feyerabend With a fresh focus on topics such as moral imagination inductive risk and epistemic priority in various socially salient contexts e.g artificial intelligence psychiatry segregation research this book is of great interest to a broad audience of researchers working in philosophy of science philosophy of medicine history and philosophy of science and science and technology studies

Subcommittee on Department of Defense, 1969 Arguing Counterterrorism Daniela Pisoiu, 2014-04-03 This book offers a multifaceted analytical account of counterterrorism argumentative speech Traditionally existing scholarship in this field of research has taken a selective focus on issues and actors concentrating mainly on US state discourse after 9/11 However this approach ignores the fact that there was counterterrorism speech before 9/11 and that there are other countries and other actors who also actively engage in the counterterrorism discursive field both within and outside of the Western world Addressing several thematic chronological and methodological gaps in the current literature Arguing Counterterrorism offers a dynamic perspective on counterterrorism argumentative speech Over the course of the volume the authors tackle the following key issues first historical and cultural continuity and change Second the phenomenology of counterterrorism speech its nature instrumentalisation implications and interactions between the various actors involved The third theme is the anatomy of counterterrorism speech namely its political cultural and linguistic constitutive elements Employing a multi disciplinary framework the authors explore these issues through a geographically and historically diverse range of case studies resulting in a book that broadens the perspective of counterterrorism argumentation analysis This book will be of much interest to students of critical terrorism studies counterterrorism discourse analysis security studies and IR U.S. Foreign Policy for the 1970's: the Emerging Structure of Peace United States. President (1969-1974 : Nixon), 1972 The Bakke Case Howard Ball, 2000 Examines the law and politics surrounding the Bakke case a case claiming reverse discrimination considered by many as the most important civil rights decision since the end of segregation Literature, Science, Psychoanalysis, 1830-1970 Helen Small, Trudi Tate, 2003 The interactions between literature and science and between literature and psychoanalysis have been among the most thriving areas for interdisciplinary study in recent years Work in these open fields has taught us to recognize the interdependence of different cultures of knowledge and experience revealing the multiple ways in which science literature and psychoanalysis have been mutually enabling and defining as well as corrective and contestatory of each other

Inspired by Gillian Beer's path breaking work on literature and science this volume presents fourteen new essays by leading American and British writers. They focus on the evolutionary sciences in the nineteenth century, the early years of psychoanalysis from Freud to Ella Freeman Sharpe and the modern development of the physical sciences. Drawing on recent debates within the history of science, psychoanalytic literary criticism, intellectual history and gender studies, the volume makes a major contribution to our understanding of the formation of knowledge. Among its recurrent themes are curiosity and epistemology, growth, maturity and coming of age as structuring metaphors; several essays focus especially on childhood, taxonomy, sleep and dreaming and elusive knowledge, the physiology of truth and the gender politics of scientific theory and practice. The essays also reflect Beer's extensive influence as a literary critic with close readings of works by Charlotte Brontë, Alfred Lord Tennyson, George Eliot, Thomas Hardy, Henry James, Oscar Wilde, H. G. Wells, Edith Ayrton, Zangwill, Charlotte Haldane, Virginia Woolf, George Orwell and Karin Boye.

King Arthur in Antiquity Graham Anderson, 2004-03-01 This original and compelling study argues against the traditional identification of Arthur as a king in Celtic Britain. Instead, Graham Anderson explores the evidence for two much older figures known to classical writers as kings of Arcadia and Lydia over a millenium before. He shows how these kings can be clearly connected with traditional Arthurian characters and adventure, including an ancient Gawain, a Lady of Shallott and a predecessor of Excalibur, and shows that the Arthurian universe found in Welsh tales and French romances is already anticipated in these earliest of Arthurian materials. This radical reassessment of the Arthurian legends provides a new perspective on an age old historical puzzle and will provoke debate amongst Classical and Medieval scholars and Arthurian enthusiasts.

Children by Choice? Ann-Katrin Gembries, Theresia Theuke, Isabel Heinemann, 2018-05-22 During the 20th century, medico-technical advances such as the invention of the latex condom (1930), the arrival of the contraceptive pill on the free market (1960-61) and the birth of the first child conceived by in vitro fertilization (1978) contributed to the fact that in Europe and the USA, the planning, conceiving and making of children was increasingly perceived as a matter of individual and collective decision making. Especially since mid-century, these societies underwent profound political, economic and cultural evolutions. In the realm of human reproduction, the relationship between the possible, the desirable and the permitted had to be continually renegotiated. This volume examines in nine chapters how thinking, speaking and acting changed with regards to reproduction and family planning throughout the modern and post-modern period. Applying an international comparative perspective, the study specifically focuses on the role of value changes underlying these transformation processes.
