broken up it is shown that alternatives are possible that the present is only the coincidental result of a contingent development and might have been totally different and that the views held by people have changed may change now and certainly will change in the future All of this can enhance tolerance open mindedness and promote a healthy societal debate This study provides insights into the kind of history teaching that might be helpful in developing this Memory, History, Justice in Hegel Angelica Nuzzo, 2012-04-05 This reconstruction of the work of dialectical memory in Hegel raises the fundamental question of the principle that presides on the articulation of history and indicates in Hegel's philosophy two alternative models of conceiving history one that grounds history on ethical memory the other that sees justice as the moving principle of history

In Quest of History Jiří Příbán, Karel Hvíždala, 2019-10-01 On the centennial of the Czechs gaining their independence award winning Czech journalist Karel Hvíždala and Cardiff based philosopher of law Jiří Příbán used the occasion to examine key moments in Czech history from the ninth century to the twenty first Covering such a broad scope allows the authors to look into the past and question how Czechs have viewed their history at different points and what that means for the present and future Employing the form of a dialogue Hvíždala and Příbán raise and explore issues for the broader public that are normally reserved for university seminars or avoided completely It's an interesting book because simply by considering the ideas the authors of In Quest of History put forth the reader loses his certainty of what is true and what is the common consensus he becomes an individual Milan Kundera author of The Unbearable Lightness of Being Testaments Betrayed and The Festival of Insignificance This contemplation by two Czech intellectuals of Czech history the national narrative collective memory and contemporary politics should be mandatory reading for understanding the deeper context of our current crisis Jacques Rupnik professor of political science at Sciences Po Two men who are as European as they are Czech raise a question Where are we headed In answering they deliver a solid classic What an inspiring dialogue Petr Pithart Czech politician and signatory of Charter 77

Propaganda and Power in the Age of Globalization Simon Sherratt, 2024-08-15 Following victory in World War II the US and Western Europe claimed to be the champions of the political ideals of democracy and freedom along with the economic ideal of free market capitalism Two decades into the twenty first century these once noble ideals have been reduced to little more than myths myths that bear scant resemblance to the realities of the powerful political and economic forces that dominate the Western world This book examines the dangerous prospects we face as the societies built upon these myths begin to fragment and crumble In an open and accessible style this book argues that much of the confusion that currently plagues the West is due to the fact that its social economic and political systems are saturated by a little understood and rarely acknowledged system of propaganda This book seeks to clear away this propagandistic facade in order to reveal where power really lies in Western societies examining how this power functions and how it has corrupted the ideals of democracy freedom and capitalism to suit its own ends This volume will be of value to those interested in modern history and social and political history

Public History and School

Marko Demantowsky, 2018-12-17 How do schools and public history influence each other Cases studies focusing on school and public history around the world shed light on the intricate relationships between schools students teachers policy makers and public historians From why Robben Island is not included in South African curriculum to how German schools shape Holocaust memory the case studies offered in this book sheds light on a current topic War Words: Language, History and the Disciplining of English Urszula Clark, 2021-10-01 Debates about the nature of literacy and literacy practices have been conducted extensively in the last fifteen years or so The fact that both previous and current British governments have effectively suppressed any real debate makes the publication of this book both timely and important Here Urszula Clark stresses the underlying ideological character of such debates and shows that they have deep historical roots She also makes the point that issues regarding the relationship between language and identity especially national identity become sharply focused at times of crisis in that identity By undertaking a comparison with other major English speaking countries most notably Australia New Zealand and the USA Clark shows how these times of crisis reverberate around the globe History Education and Conflict Transformation Charis Psaltis, Mario Carretero, Sabina Čehajić-Clancy, 2017-08-29 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license This volume discusses the effects models and implications of history teaching in relation to conflict transformation and reconciliation from a social psychological perspective Bringing together a mix of established and young researchers and academics from the fields of psychology education and history the book provides an in depth exploration of the role of historical narratives history teaching history textbooks and the work of civil society organizations in post conflict societies undergoing reconciliation processes and reflects on the state of the art at both the international and regional level As well as dealing with the question of the perpetrator victim dynamic the book also focuses on the particular context of transition in and out of cold war in Eastern Europe and the post conflict settings of Northern Ireland Israel and Palestine and Cyprus It is also exploring the pedagogical classroom practices of history teaching and a critical comparison of various possible approaches taken in educational praxis The book will make compelling reading for students and researchers of education history sociology peace and conflict studies and psychology Biblical History and Israel's Past Megan Bishop Moore, Brad E. Kelle, 2011-05-17 Although scholars have for centuries primarily been interested in using the study of ancient Israel to explain illuminate and clarify the biblical story Megan Bishop Moore and Brad E Kelle describe how scholars today seek more and more to tell the story of the past on its own terms drawing from both biblical and extrabiblical sources to illuminate ancient Israel and its neighbors without privileging the biblical perspective Biblical History and Israel's Past provides a comprehensive survey of how study of the Old Testament and the history of Israel has changed since the middle of the twentieth century Moore and Kelle discuss significant trends in scholarship trace the development of ideas since the 1970s and summarize major scholars viewpoints issues and developments
