1996 Bosnia Herzegovina Elections An Analysis Of The Observations:

The 1996 Bosnia-Herzegovina Elections H. Schmeets, Jeanet Exel, 2012-12-06 On 14th September 1996 against the background of the Dayton agreement six different elections took place in Bosnia Herzegovina This book covers in detail what was observed on the ground by 900 international observers the voting process and the count of votes Did the Polling Station Committee act impartially and competently What representatives of parties or candidates were observing the elections In which aspects do the regions in the entities Republica Srpska and the Federation Bosnia Herzegovina differ Did observers report specific problems in municipalities split by the Inter Entity Boundary Line The book contributes to a clear understanding of the political climate the role of the OSCE and whether the elections were conducted properly It should be of interest to students scholars and others working in observation and analysis of elections the political situation in Bosnia Herzegovina ethnic conflicts and the role of international organisations in democratisation and peace processes The 1997 Municipal Elections in Bosnia and Herzegovina H. Schmeets, 2012-12-06 On 13 and 14 September 1997 municipal elections took place in Bosnia and Herzegovina This book extensively covers the findings of the 363 international observers on both polling days Were the elections free and fair What did the observers record about the circumstances procedures and security measurements at the polling stations Which parties observed the elections and why How did the election process and the vote count compare to the 1996 elections This book provides a regional profile and outlines specific problems in the various types of polling stations The observation methodology and design of the observation reports are discussed Finally recommendations are made for the upcoming 1998 election observations and future missions The book should be of interest to students scholars and others working in the fields of observation and analysis of elections ethnic conflicts in the Balkans and the role of international organisations in democratisation and peace processes Monitoring Democracy Judith G.

Kelley, 2012-03-25 In recent decades governments and NGOs in an effort to promote democracy freedom fairness and stability throughout the world have organized teams of observers to monitor elections in a variety of countries But when more organizations join the practice without uniform standards are assessments reliable When politicians nonetheless cheat and monitors must return to countries even after two decades of engagement what is accomplished Monitoring Democracy argues that the practice of international election monitoring is broken but still worth fixing By analyzing the evolving interaction between domestic and international politics Judith Kelley refutes prevailing arguments that international efforts cannot curb government behavior and that democratization is entirely a domestic process Yet she also shows that democracy promotion efforts are deficient and that outside actors often have no power and sometimes even do harm Analyzing original data on over 600 monitoring missions and 1 300 elections Kelley grounds her investigation in solid historical context as well as studies of long term developments over several elections in fifteen countries She pinpoints the weaknesses of international election monitoring and looks at how practitioners and policymakers might help to improve them Peacebuilding Luc

Reychler,Thania Paffenholz,2001 Highlights the contributions of people working in the field and clarifies how fieldworkers fit in the overall peacebuilding process Part I introduces concepts and tools for sustainable peacebuilding with chapters on selecting and training fieldworkers Part II focuses on seven specific peacebuilding activities including mediation monitoring linking development aid and peacebuilding and dealing with the media Part III addresses practical and emotional problems that fieldworkers confront and Part IV provides an overview of lessons learned Reychler teaches international relations and directs the Center for Peace Research and Strategic Studies at the University of Leuven in Belgium Paffenholz is research fellow at the Peace Research Institute in Germany Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Digest ,1990
