The Bible educator, ed. by E.H. Plumptre Edward Hayes Plumptre, 1882      God, Oil and Country International Crisis Group, 2002      American Book Publishing Record, 1999      The Alchemist Ben Jonson, 1997 From virtue to venality examines the problem of corruption in British urban society and politics between 1930 and 1995 It is not a conventional study of the politics of local government since it seeks to place corruption in urban societies in a wider cultural context The accounts of corruption in Glasgow a British Chicago as well as the major corruption scandals of John Poulson and T Dan Smith show how Labour controlled towns and cities were especially vulnerable to corrupt dealings By contrast the case of Dame Shirley Porter in the City of Westminster in the late 1980s reveals that Conservative controlled councils were also vulnerable since in London the stakes of the political struggle were especially intense This book will be of special interest to students of history and politics and those who are concerned about the growth of corruption in British political culture

The American Renaissance Reconsidered Walter Benn Michaels, Donald E. Pease, 1989-09 The term American Renaissance designates a period in our nation's history when the literary classics appeared works original enough to mark a beginning for America's literary history But the American Renaissance Donald Pease argues in his introduction does not belong to the nation's secular history so much as it denotes a rebirth from it Independent of the time kept by secular history the American Renaissance keeps what we could call global Renaissance time the sacred time a nation claims to renew when it claims its cultural place as a great nation existing within a world of great nations Providing each nation with the terms for cultural greatness denied to secular history the renaissance is not an occasion occurring within any specific historical time or place so much as it is a moment of cultural achievement that repeatedly demands to be reborn The American Renaissance Reconsidered examines this demand for rebirth in terms other than those ordained by the American Renaissance itself In the seven pieces collected here it is reborn not outside of but within America's secular history as the authors examine anew the period of the American Renaissance and the period in which its history was written Contributing authors are Eric J Sundquist Jane P Tompkins Louis A Renza Jonathan Arac Donald E Pease Walter Benn Michaels and Allen Grossman      The Works of Flavius Josephus ... Flavius Josephus, 1825      King Harold II and the Bayeux Tapestry Gale R. Owen-Crocker, 2005 Harold II is chiefly remembered today perhaps unfairly for the brevity of his reign and his death at the Battle of Hastings The papers collected here seek to shed new light on the man and his milieu before and after that climax They explore the long career and the dynastic network behind Harold Godwinsson's accession on the death of King Edward the Confessor in January 1066 looking in particular at the important questions as to whether Harold's kingship was opportunist or long planned a usurpation or a legitimate succession in terms of his Anglo Scandinavian kinships They also examine the posthumous legends that Harold survived Hastings and lived on as a religious recluse The essays in the second part of the volume focus on the Bayeux Tapestry bringing out the small details which would have resonated significantly for contemporary audiences both

Norman and English to suggest how they judged Harold and the other players in the succession drama of 1066 Other aspects of the Tapestry are also covered the possible patron and locations the Tapestry was produced for where and how it was designed and the various sources artistic and real employed by the artist GALE OWEN CROCKER is Professor of Anglo Saxon Culture at the University of Manchester Hearings United States.
