The Colonizers' Idols

Christina Harker, 2018-02-02 In this work Christina Harker deconstructs the prevailing treatment of the New Testament as anti-imperial by contextualizing both New Testament scholarship and the Galatian experience within imperialist discourses that survived the dissolution of conventional empires in the twentieth century She critiques simplistic treatments of empire as post-imperial that is replicating patterns of imperialist ideology albeit unwittingly To solve the problem a new interpretation of Galatians is proposed that reworks and complicates the portrait of the Galatians themselves rather than Paul within what then emerges as a diverse social world peopled by complex individuals with heterogeneous social and cultural identities The author is thus able to show how New Testament scholars who rehabilitate the Bible and Paul as anti-empire perpetuate the same imperialist modes of interpretation they seek to repudiate

Revival and Reform in Islam

Bernard Haykel, 2003-05-27 Revival and Reform in Islam is at once an intellectual biography of Muhammad al-Shawkanî and a history of a transitional period in Yemeni history This was a time when a society dominated by traditional Zaydî Shiism shifted to one characterised instead by Sunni reformism The author traces the origins and outcomes of this transition presenting the first systematic account of the ways in which the eighteenth and nineteenth century reorientation of the Zaydî madhhab and consequent sunnification of Yemeni society were intricately linked to tensions within the political realm In advocating juridical systematization of religious belief and practice Shawkanî espoused a socio-religious order which in its dominant features echoed key aspects of Western modernity Yet he did so in a context bereft of Western ideational influence This study then presents a textured account of eighteenth century Islamic reformist thought and challenges the meaning of modernity in an Islamic context
