Craft Of Social Anthropology:

The Craft of Social Anthropology A. L. Epstein, 1978-01-01 In social anthropology as in other branches of science there is a close relationship between research methods and theoretical problems Advancing theory and shifts in orientation go hand in hand with the development of techniques and mutually influence one another If the development of modern social anthropology owes much to its established tradition of fieldwork it is also clear that the procedures that anthropological fieldwork should follow in the laboratory can never be prescribed in absolute terms nor become wholly standardized Yet as anthropological analysis is refined it becomes increasingly important that students in the field be aware of the need to collect basic kinds of data and know how to set about doing so In this volume anthropologists who have worked closely together for many years at the Rhodes Livingstone Institute for Social Research Lusaka and or in the Department of Social Anthropology University of Manchester discuss within a common framework modern fieldwork methods as tools for examining a number of problems of current anthropological interest Elizabeth Colson J Clyde Mitchell and J A Barnes stress aspects of the role of quantification in social anthropology and indicate a range of problems that can be illuminated by the use of quantitative techniques Equal importance is attached by all contributors to the collection and analysis of detailed case material a topic explored in J van Velsen's essay A L and T S Epstein V W Turner and M G Marwick consider the kinds of data relevant to anthropological discussion in the fields of economics law ritual and witchcraft and the methods by which such material may be collected The volume is introduced by Max Gluckman former director of the Rhodes Livingstone Institute and former head of the department of social anthropology and sociology University of Manchester

Before Social Anthropology James Urry, 2012-10-12 First Published in 1993 From the 1930s British anthropology was dominated by social anthropologists an achievement of the two founding fathers Bronislaw Malinowski and A R Radcliffe Brown However the field of ethnology had originated in Britain in the 1840s and a broadly based general anthropology was well established before the rise of social anthropology The essays in this volume explore the development of British anthropology in the period from 1880 to 1920 and deal with such diverse issues as the establishment of new research methodologies the development of ethnographic reporting institutional change and the professionalization of the subject and the connection between anthropology and imperialism These essays reveal how the establishment of social anthropology involved a narrowing field which at first involved not just the study of custom but also included archaeology physical anthropology and philology The emergence of the new approaches of the 1920s and 1930s and the triumph of social anthropology as an academic intellectual and professional discipline in post war Britain also led to the subsequent loss of a more holistic vision of anthropology

Peltto, Gretel H. Peltto, 1978-02-16 A comprehensive text on research methods in social and cultural anthropology covering tools counting and sampling fieldwork and research design Originally published by Harper Row 1970 Social Anthropology in the Arab World Abdullah Alajmi, Daniele Cantini, Irene Maffi, Imed Melliti, 2025-08-01 There are ongoing efforts in anthropology to decolonise its history and give fairer space to marginalised traditions This book examines the history and institutionalisation of anthropology in the Maghreb the Mashreq and the Gulf in an open and collaborative manner and from various perspectives Its primary focus is two fold first to reorient the anthropological focus towards studies conducted in the region particularly on the conditions conducive to the institutionalisation of anthropological knowledge second to shed light on anthropological studies in languages other than English offering different theoretical and epistemological perspectives Topography of Politics in Rural China Xiaoyang Zhu, 2015 Contemporary Chinese rural life is placed in sharp theoretical and practical focus in this book State of the art techniques and perspectives are combined to take the reader into Xiaocun a small village on the east bank of the Dianchi Lake in Kunming City In 2003 the author published the book Crime and Punishment The Story of Xiaocun 1931 1997 which dealt with disputes mediation and punishment in the village following the legal anthropology tradition At that time neither the villagers nor the author foresaw the vast changes that were to appear a few years later Their main economic activity then was growing vegetables and flowers urbanisation was tsunami like in its speed and impact Land requisition for urban development was so swift that five years later in 2008 there was no farmland left Instead there were many landmark real estate and development projects Xiaocun has become the centre of an enlarged Kunming City Observers including the Xiaocun residents are unavoidably shocked at the changes to the physical landscape in the wake of its rapid urbanisation This book Topography of Politics in Rural China The Story of Xiaocun reports the author's revisits to the village starting in early 2007 In the past few years of research on this village the author deeply felt that the problems that make people passionate are fully exposed through issues surrounding land and housing Well written in narrative this book tells the story of Xiaocun in this new century from the perspective of topography exploring the peasantry and its relations to the state in more fundamental terms The Long Interview Grant David McCracken, Grant McCracken, 1988-09 The Long Interview focuses on one of the most powerful and efficient of these methods the intensive interview The intensive interview is a sharply focused and rapid process that seeks to diminish the indeterminacy and redundancy that attends more unstructured research processes Evidence and Explanation in Social Science Gerald Studdert-Kennedy, 2013-04-15 Originally published in 1975 The main concern of this book is the nature of the gap between the theoretical issues raised at an abstract level by social scientists and their facts the material organized in an empirical analysis The author draws on material from several disciplines to explore the contributions of social science theory to historical insight
