

What an awful
idea!

Who on earth
do you think you are?

Idiot!

What possessed you
to think you could ever pull this off?

Women's Success Summit A book I believe will inspire a new generation to step out of the shadows and shine Paul Boag author of User Experience Revolution Experiencing Liveness in Contemporary Performance Matthew Reason, Anja Mølle Lindelof, 2016-10-26 This volume brings together dynamic perspectives on the concept of liveness in the performing arts engaging with the live through the particular analytical focus of audiences and experience The status and significance of the live in performance has become contested perceived as variously as a marker of ontological difference a promotional slogan or a mystical evocation of cultural value Moving beyond debates about the relationship between the live and the mediated this collection considers what we can know and say about liveness in terms of processes of experiencing and processes of making Drawing together contributions from theatre music dance and performance art it takes an interdisciplinary approach in asking not what liveness is but how it matters and to whom The book invites readers to consider how liveness is produced through processes of audienceing as spectators bring qualities of a liveness into being through the nature of their attention and how it becomes materialized in acts of performance acts of making acts of archiving and acts of remembering Theoretical chapters and practice based reflections explore liveness eventness and nowness as key concepts in a range of topics such as affect documentation embodiment fandom and temporality showing how the relationship between audience and event is rarely singular and more often malleable and multiple With its focus on experiencing liveness this collection will be of interest to disciplines including performance audience and cultural studies visual arts cinema and sound technologies

Roland Barthes Writing the Political Andrew Stafford, 2022-11-08 With typical rhetorical flourish and beholden to paradox Roland Barthes defines his work on myth as an attempt to define things and yet he is known foremost for his work on language The aim of this book is to take things here as social relations objects and other human beings with which the self interacts It does so via language And language in Barthes's conception is double alienating alienated on the one side liberating inspiring on the other It is this double that we investigate in this book A spectre is haunting Barthes studies the spectre of dialectics and the spectral presence of dialectics is what we will define in this book as the Barthesian spirit in both senses of the word that is haunting his analyses and at once providing us with a double approach I have tried to define things not words Barthes 2009 131n1

Sharpe's London magazine, a journal of entertainment and instruction. [entitled] Sharpe's London journal. [entitled] Sharpe's London magazine, conducted by mrs. S.C. Hall Anna Maria Hall, Reconstructing Criticism Philip Smallwood, 2003 This study aims to bring the modern theory of literary criticism and Pope's Essay on Criticism of 1711 into a more productive and interesting association than critical historical structures have generally allowed Smallwood marks out in current terms and in depth the specialized theoretical and aesthetic problem of defining criticism He recognizes that criticism no more than literature or art cannot be finally codified or defined but insists on the need for clarity in the exposition of criticism's purposes and a fuller consciousness of a common community of practice available to audiences outside the academic fold Affirming the unfailing currency and utility of the term criticism as new languages have taken over the critical domain or have sought to replace or abolish literature Smallwood distinguishes between the normative definitions that are everywhere apparent in modern theory of criticism and the advantages to conceptual comprehension achieved by Pope's poetic idea of criticism in the Essay The Ladies' Cabinet of Fashion, Music & Romance, The Illustrated Magazine, 1865 The Ladies' Companion, 1865 Interdisciplinary Barthes Diana Knight, 2020-02-07 Interdisciplinary Barthes addresses the enduring stimulus that Barthes offers to intellectually adventurous work across the human sciences It contextualises his creative engagements with ethnology historiography philosophy ethics music photography and literature and traces the distinctive ways which he unsettled disciplinary boundaries Making Sense of Messages Mark Stoner, Sally J. Perkins, 2015-10-16 Using a developmental approach to the process of criticism Making Sense of Messages serves as an introduction to rhetorical criticism for communication majors The text employs models of criticism to offer pointed and reflective commentary on the thinking process used to apply theory to a message This developmental apprenticeship approach helps students understand the thinking process behind critical analysis and aids in critical writing Edward Said and the Literary, Social, and Political World Ranjan Ghosh, 2009-05-07 Edward Said is widely recognized for his work as a critic and theorist of Orientalism and the Palestine crisis but far less attention has been devoted to his considerable body of literary and cultural criticism In this edited collection the contributors many among the foremost Said scholars in the world examine Said as the literary critic his relationship to other major contemporary thinkers including Derrida Ricoeur Barthes and Bloom and his involvement with major movements and concerns of his time such as music Feminism New Humanism and Marxism Featuring freshly carved out essays on new areas of intervention the volume is an indispensable addition for those interested in Edward Said and the many areas in which his legacy looms
