The Film Edge Eduardo Angel Russo, 2010 What does it mean to make films in Latin America The landscape today is as complex as it is dynamic New directors and new projects are constantly emerging film festivals appear one after another in what could only be described as an explosion of cinema in the region And yet inherent to this panorama both so vital and so difficult to define there is a troubling sense of uncertainty This book which brings together the writing of directors producers scholars and critics examines the current state of Latin American cinema Exploring tendencies and possibilities for the future of the audiovisual arts within the context of recent changes in methods of production and circulation the authors address a number of key issues including the role of independent filmmaking in the market and in relation to alternative modes of production the formation of new regional and global identities means of support for filmmakers in Latin America and the question of new formats categories and genres The result is less a mosaic of fragments than it is a tapestry whose interwoven threads create complex and changing shapes that constitute the fabric itself This tapestry allows us to glimpse beyond their particularities the points of contact between different parts of the region This book is an abridged and revised edition of HACER CINE Produccion Audiovisual en America Latina published in 2008 by Fundacion TyPA and Editorial Paidos This new book edited by Eduardo A Russo and translated from the Spanish by Heather Cleary Wolfgang was made possible by the support of the Rockefeller Foundation

John Green, 2015-04-27 A sweeping study of political murder in Latin America This sweeping history depicts Latin America s pan regional culture of political murder Unlike typical studies of the region which often focus on the issues or trends of individual countries this work focuses thematically on the nature of political murder itself comparing and contrasting its uses and practices throughout the region W John Green examines the entire system of political murder the methods and justifications the perpetrators employ the victims and the consequences for Latin American societies Green demonstrates that elite and state actors have been responsible for most political murders assassinating the leaders of popular movements and other messengers of change Latin American elites have also often targeted the potential audience for these messages through the region s various dirty wars In spite of regional differences elites across the region have displayed considerable uniformity in justifying their use of murder imagining themselves in a class war with democratic forces While the United States has often been complicit in such violence Green notes that this has not been universally true with US support waxing and waning A detailed appendix exploring political murder country by country provides an additional resource for readers Historia del humor gráfico y escrito en la Argentina: 1940-1985 Oscar Edgardo Vázquez Lucio, 1987 Latin American Film Industries Tamara L.
