The Papers of Thomas Jefferson, Volume 42 Thomas Jefferson, 2016-07-26 Confessing that he may be acting with more boldness than wisdom Jefferson in November 1803 drafts a bill to create Orleans Territory which he entrusts to John Breckinridge for introduction in the Senate The administration sends stock certificates to France in payment for Louisiana Relieved that affairs in the Mediterranean have improved with the evaporation of a threat of war with Morocco the president does not know yet that Tripoli has captured the frigate Philadelphia with its officers and crew He deals with never ending issues of appointment to office and quarreling in his own party while hearing that some Federalists are as Bitter as wormwood He shares seeds of the Venus flytrap with Elizabeth Leathes Merry the British minister s wife She and her husband however create a diplomatic storm over seating arrangements at dinner parties Having reached St Louis Meriwether Lewis reports on the progress of the western expedition Congress passes the Twelfth Amendment which will provide for the separate election of president and vice president In detailed notes made after Aaron Burr calls on him in January Jefferson records his long standing distrust of the New Yorker Less than a month later a congressional caucus nominates Jefferson for a second term with George Clinton to replace Burr as vice president Jefferson makes his first trials of the double penned writing box called the polygraph

Images of the Outcast Sean Shesgreen, 2002 Cries artistic representations of the various denizens of London s streets including prostitutes beggars and tinkers were produced between 1580 and 1900 This study analyses the representation behind the art of the Cries in a social cultural and historical context

African Art in Transit Christopher B. Steiner, 1994-01-27 African Art in Transit is an absorbing account of the commodification and circulation of African art objects in the international art market

Christopher Steiner's analysis of the role of the African middleman in linking those who produce and supply works of art in Africa with those who buy and collect so called primitive art in Europe and America is based on extensive field research among the art traders in Côte d'Ivoire. Steiner provides a lucid interpretation which reveals not only a complex economic network with its own internal logic and rules but also an elaborate process of transcultural valuation and exchange. By focusing directly on the intermediaries in the African art trade he unveils a critical new perspective on how symbolic codes and economic values are mediated in the context of shifting geographic and cultural domains. He questions conventional definitions of authenticity in African art by demonstrating how the categories authentic and traditional are continually redefined.

Art in the Social Order Preben Mortensen, 1997-03-20

Art in the Social Order makes a compelling case for the need to develop a properly historical approach to art. Preben Mortensen seeks to replace the dominant approaches to the question of the nature of art in contemporary English speaking analytic philosophy with a historicist approach that emphasizes localized cultural historical narratives. For the first time a historical examination of the origin of our ideas of art are related to questions in contemporary art theory. Mortensen shows that our conception of art emerged in the eighteenth century as part of new ideas of edification and of the presentation of the self. He examines the complex social and cultural context in which our ideas of art emerge in the eighteenth century. In a context of social political and cultural changes knowledge about art and the display of taste come to indicate social distinctions and replace older notions of birth and rank. Mortensen connects these historical developments to contemporary discussions about the relationship between high art and popular art.

A Companion to Ancient Egyptian Art Melinda K. Hartwig, 2014-11-17

A Companion to Ancient Egyptian Art presents a comprehensive collection of original essays exploring key concepts, critical discourses and theories that shape the discipline of ancient Egyptian art. Winner of the 2016 PROSE Award for Single Volume Reference in the Humanities Social Sciences. Features contributions from top scholars in their respective fields of expertise relating to ancient Egyptian art. Provides overviews of past and present scholarship and suggests new avenues to stimulate debate and allow for critical readings of individual art works. Explores themes and topics such as methodological approaches, transmission of Egyptian art and its connections with other cultures, ancient reception, technology and interpretation. Provides a comprehensive synthesis on a discipline that has diversified to the extent that it now incorporates subjects ranging from gender theory to X ray fluorescence and image based interpretations systems.

The Social History of Achaemenid Phoenicia Vadim S. Jigoulov, 2016-04-08

Even though the Persian period has attracted a fair share of scholarly interest in recent years as yet no concerted effort has been attempted to construct a comprehensive social history of Phoenician city states as an integral part of the Achaemenid empire. This monograph explores the evidence from Persian period literary both ancient Jewish and classical epigraphic and numismatic sources as well as material culture remains in order to sketch just such a history. This study examines developments in

Persian period Phoenician city states on the three levels that of the individual household the city state and the administrative unit of the Persian empire These three societal levels are analyzed within the contexts of economic competition between and among the Phoenician city states their burgeoning economic ties with the outside world and their interaction with the Persian imperial influence in the Levant Handbook of the Economics of Art and Culture ,2013-09-16 This volume emphasizes the economic aspects of art and culture a relatively new field that poses inherent problems for economics with its quantitative concepts and tools Building bridges across disciplines such as management art history art philosophy sociology and law editors Victor Ginsburgh and David Throsby assemble chapters that yield new perspectives on the supply and demand for artistic services the contribution of the arts sector to the economy and the roles that public policies play With its focus on culture rather than the arts Ginsburgh and Throsby bring new clarity and definition to this rapidly growing area Presents coherent summaries of major research in art and culture a field that is inherently difficult to characterize with finance tools and concepts Offers a rigorous description that avoids common problems associated with art and culture scholarship Makes details about the economics of art and culture accessible to scholars in fields outside economics

DeRoo,2018 Proceeding chronologically from the beginning of Varda s career in the 1950s to the present this book focuses on moments where Varda s invocation of different artistic traditions within film opens onto complex commentary on broader aesthetic theoretical feminist and political discussions I reinterpret some of her best known films but also focus attention on other less familiar works that merit further consideration I reassess individual works with the goal of interrogating Varda s visual dialogues to reconstruct the cultural politics of the periods in which they were made This process of reading new strands of meaning across Varda s oeuvre relies on a richly interdisciplinary approach The result is a new cultural history of Varda and her work that makes clear how she actively engaged and subtly broadened some of the most advanced aesthetic and political discourse of her day Many of Varda s sophisticated commentaries on controversial issues of her time have receded from view in the biographical frameworks in which her work often has been considered The range of her engagement in her work with cinema art history photography and visual culture has not been fully recognized This decontextualization of Varda s work has been compounded by the frequent emphasis on her exceptionality within her fields of practice In contrast I view Varda s work as a projection of cultural history that illuminates multiple disciplines including art
