Simultaneity in Signed Languages Myriam Vermeerbergen, Lorraine Leeson, Onno Alex Crasborn, 2007-01-01 Signed language users can draw on a range of articulators when expressing linguistic messages including the hands torso eye gaze and mouth Sometimes these articulators work in tandem to produce one lexical item while in other instances they operate to convey different types of information simultaneously Over the past fifteen years there has been a growing interest in the issue of simultaneity in signed languages However this book is the first to offer a comprehensive treatment of this topic presenting a collection of papers dealing with different aspects of simultaneity in a range of related and unrelated signed languages in descriptive and cross linguistic treatments which are set in different theoretical frameworks This volume has relevance for those interested in sign linguistics in teaching and learning signed languages and is also highly recommended to anyone interested in the fundamental underpinnings of human language and the effects of signed versus spoken modality
