Archaeologies of Attachment Sanna Lipkin,Taryn Bell,Tiina Väre,2024-09-03 This edited volume offers a new approach to the study of emotion in the past focusing on the experience of emotional attachment Psychological research has demonstrated that all humans are capable of forming a variety of close social and emotional attachments from cradle to grave yet archaeology has not to date considered the significance of these attachments in any detail Inspired by Bowlby s theory of attachment one of the key theories in developmental psychology over the last 60 years this volume sheds light on what attachment is how it functions and how it has influenced human life and material culture from the Palaeolithic to the present This volume brings together contributions from authors focusing on a variety of subjects related to attachment from social relationships with people and animals to places to material culture from the deepest reaches of prehistory to the contemporary era It aims to improve our understanding of where and how archaeologists can look for evidence of these attachments and in doing so it helps us to consider how these shape our understanding of human behaviour cognition and life more broadly This volume is of interest to archaeologists and scholars of social attachment theory

The Cultural Lives of Domestic Objects in Late Antiquity Jo Stoner,2019-03-19 In this study Jo Stoner investigates the role of domestic material culture in Late Antiquity Using archaeological visual and textual evidence from across the Roman Empire the personal meanings of late antique possessions are revealed through reference to theoretical approaches including object biography Heirlooms souvenirs and gift objects are discussed in terms of sentimental value before the book culminates in a case study reassessing baskets as an artefact type This volume succeeds in demonstrating personal scales of value for artefacts moving away from the focus on economic and social status that dominate studies in this field It thus represents a new interpretation of domestic material culture from Late Antiquity revealing how objects transformed houses into homes during this period Heirloom Beans Vanessa
