else that was put before them It was all they knew Despite this many people admired the Bulldog s stamina strength and persistence These few decided to save the appearance and breed them to have a sweet gentle temperament instead of the aggression needed for the baiting arena And so the Bulldog was re engineered Dedicated patient breeders started selecting only those dogs that had a docile temperament for breeding Aggressive and neurotic dogs weren t allowed to reproduce By focusing their attention upon the temperament of the Bulldog these breeders transformed the Bulldog into the gentle affectionate dog we see today
