Craftsmen And Interior Decoration In England 1660-1820:

Craftsmen and Interior Decoration in England, 1660-1820 Geoffrey Beard, 1981 Craftsmen and interior decoration in England 1660-1820 Geoffrey W. Beard, 1986 Material Culture and Sedition, 1688-1760 M. Pittock, 2013-10-18

Material Culture and Sedition 1688 1760 is a groundbreaking study of the ways in which material culture and its associated designs rituals and symbols was used to avoid prosecution for treason and sedition in the British Isles The fresh theoretical model it presents challenges existing accounts of the public sphere and consumer culture Building Pathology David S. Watt, 2009-05-12 Building pathology provides an interdisciplinary approach to the study of defects and performance in order to develop appropriate remedial and management solutions It considers how the structure and materials of a building relate to its environment its occupants and the way the building is used so as to develop a better understanding of building failures This book provides a well illustrated introduction to the discipline of building pathology bridging the gap between current approaches to the surveying of buildings and the detailed study of defect diagnosis prognosis and remediation It features a number of case studies and a detailed set of references and further reading This second edition has been updated to reflect changes in legislation guidance and construction and provides new case studies that demonstrate the breadth and depth of the subject The History of Gauged Brickwork Gerard C. J. Lynch, 2007 This book takes a look at the history and use of cut rubbed and gauged brickwork the use of tools and equipment and the differences between historic and contemporary bricks with a view to inform conservation and restoration decisions The book uses case studies from England Ireland and the US to illustrate the use of different materials and techniques on buildings ranging in age Written by Dr Gerard Lynch the leading authority in this subject area this book will be of particular interest to architectural historians architects working on historic buildings and building conservators Furniture-Makers and Consumers in England, 1754-1851 Akiko Shimbo, 2016-04-15 Covering the period from the publication of Thomas Chippendale's The Gentleman and Cabinet Makers Director 1754 to the Great Exhibition 1851 this book analyses the relationships between producer retailers and consumers of furniture and interior design and explores what effect dialogues surrounding these transactions had on the standardisation of furniture production during this period This was an era before mass production when domestic furniture was made both to order and from standard patterns and negotiations between producers and consumers formed a crucial part of the design and production process This study narrows in on three main areas of this process the role of pattern books and their readers the construction of taste and style through negotiation and daily interactions through showrooms and other services to reveal the complexities of English material culture in a period of industrialisation Encyclopedia of Interior Design Joanna Banham, 1997-05 First published in 1997 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company A Companion to British Art David Peters Corbett, 2016-02-16 This companion is a collection of newly commissioned essays written by leading scholars in the field providing a comprehensive introduction to British art history A generously illustrated collection of newly commissioned essays which provides a comprehensive introduction to the history of British art Combines original research with a survey of existing scholarship and the state of the field Touches on the whole of the history of British art from 800 2000 with increasing attention paid to the periods after 1500 Provides the first comprehensive introduction to British art of the eighteenth nineteenth and twentieth centuries one of the most lively and innovative areas of art historical study Presents in depth the major preoccupations that have emerged from recent scholarship including aesthetics gender British art s relationship to Modernity nationhood and nationality and the institutions of the British art world

Art, Artisans and Apprentices James Ayres, 2014-06-30 Before the foundation of academies of art in London in 1758 and Philadelphia in 1805 most individuals who were to emerge as artists trained in workshops of varying degrees of relevance Easel painters began their careers apprenticed to carriage house sign or ship painters whilst a few were placed with those who made pictures Sculptors emerged from a training as ornamental plasterers or carvers Of the many other trades in a position to offer an appropriate background were limning staining engraving surveying chasing and die sinking In addition plumbers gained the right to use oil painting and for plasterers the application of distemper was an extension of their trade Central to the theme of this book is the notion that for those who were to become either painters or sculptor a training in a trade met their practical needs This training was of an altogether different nature to an education in an art school In the past prospective artists were offered by means of apprenticeships an empirical rather than a theoretical understanding of their ultimate vocation James Ayres provides a lively account of the inter relationship between art and trade in the late seventeenth to early nineteenth centuries in both Britain and North America He demonstrates with numerous illustrated examples the many cross overs in the art and mystery of artistic training and to modern eyes the sometimes incongruous relationships between the various trades that contributed to the blossoming of many artistic careers including some of the most illustrious names of the long eighteenth century Victorian Houses and their Details Helen Long,2007-06-01 Victorian Houses presents the architectural detailing of the time in the context of the era providing a comprehensive understanding of its architecture and design Pattern books played a vital role in the dissemination of taste between architect builder and client in the nineteenth and early twentieth century By focusing on the contribution of the pattern book to the architecture of the Victorian and Edwardian eras the various trends of the time are documented The types of publications and other sources of taste available at different points over this period reflected social and economic factors such as the changing demand or changes in organisation of manufacturing and retail Decorative Plasterwork in Great Britain Geoffrey Beard,Jeff Orton,Richard Ireland,2015-10-06 Decorative plasterwork was created by skilled craftsmen and for over four hundred years it has been an essential part of the interior decoration of the British country house In this detailed and comprehensive study Geoffrey Beard has created a book that will delight the eye and inform the interested reader For those who have sometimes been puzzled by the complexities of plaster decoration it will be a most useful work of reference on a fascinating art form about which no book has been published for nearly fifty years After discussing the part that patrons played in commissioning and financing these beautiful decorations a useful chapter is devoted to materials and methods of work and here the author describes the ingredients of good plaster he has studied the work of present day English plasterers and Swiss stucco restorers in order to establish precisely how the materials of plaster and stucco were composed and used Space and the Eighteenth-Century English Novel Simon Varey,1990-07-27 In this challenging and illustrated study first published in 1990 Simon Varey relates the idea of space in the major novels of Defoe Fielding and Richardson to its use in the theory and practice of eighteenth century architecture Concepts of divine design expressed in the work of philosophers and theologians introduced an ideological element to the notion of space which gave it a heightened significance in contemporary thought Professor Varey s central argument is that space becomes a political instrument used to establish conformity assert power and give form to the aspirations of social classes He draws on a wide range of architectural books both English and European and on the example of Bath focusing in particular on its chief architect in the eighteenth century John Wood The discussion of novels such as Robinson Crusoe Tom Jones and Clarissa examines narrative as a form of spatial design the use of architectural imagery to describe people and the political control of social space prominent architects and intellectuals such as John Evelyn Robert Hooke Sir Christopher Wren and Roger North this volume explores the origins of the study of architecture as an intellectual pursuit in late seventeenth century England British Book News British Council,1981 Kevin McCloud's Complete Book of Paint and Decorative Techniques Kevin McCloud,1997 Through the use of more than 400 instructional and inspirational color photos and a unique 16 page color selector on graduated pages the author of Decorative Style and Lighting Style demystifies the art of using colors textures paints and surface finishes to create dramatic and distinctive effects in any home The Oxford History of Western Art Martin Kemp,2000 The Oxford History of Western Art is the new authority on the development of visual culture in the West over the last 2700 years from the classical period to the end of the twentieth century OHWA is an innovative and challenging reappraisal of how the history of art can be presented and understood None of the currently available general histories of art offers the wealth of perspectives and cross media references of this book Through a carefully devised modular structure readers are given insights not only into how and why works of art were created but also how works in different media relate to each other across time Here uniquely is not the simple linear story of art but a rich series of stories told from varying viewpoints The founding principle of the book has been to use carefully selected groupings of pictures to give readers a sense of the visual texture of the various periods and episodes covered The 167 illustration groups supported by explanatory text and picture captions create a sequence of visual tours not merely a procession of individually great works viewed in isolation but juxtapositions of significant images that powerfully convey a sense of the visual environments in which works of art need to be viewed in order to be understood and appreciated The aim throughout has been to make the shape and nature of these visual presentations a stimulating and rewarding experience allowing readers to become active participants in the process of interpretation and synthesis Another key feature of the narrative is the re definition of traditional period boundaries Rather than relying on conventional labels such as Medieval Renaissance Baroque etc five major phases of significant historical change are established that unlock longer and more meaningful continuities The art of classical antiquity from c 600 BC to the fall of Rome in AD 410 The establishment of visual culture in Europe from 410 to 1527 the sack of papal Rome European visual regimes from 1527 to 1770 The era of revolutions 1770 to 1914 Modernism and after 1914 to 2000 This new framework shows how the major religious and secular functions of art have been forged sustained transformed revived and revolutionized over the ages how the institutions of Church and State have consistently aspired to make art in their own image and how the rise of art history itself has come to provide the dominant conceptual framework within which artists create patrons patronize collectors collect galleries exhibit dealers deal and art historians write The text has been written by a team of 50 specialist authors working under the direction of Professor Martin Kemp one of the UK's most distinguished art historians Whilst bringing their own expertise and vision to their sections each author was also asked to relate their text to a number of unifying themes and issues including written evidence physical contexts patronage viewing and reception techniques gender and racial issues centres and peripheries media and condition the notion of art and current presentations Though the coverage of topics focuses on European notions of art and their transplantation and transformation in North America space is also given to cross fertilizations with other traditions including the art of Latin America the Soviet Union India Africa and Afro Caribbean Australia and Canada Professor Kemp and his team similarly deal generously with the applied arts and reproductive media such as photography and prints The result is a vibrant vigorous and revolutionary account of Western art serving both as an inspirational introduction for the general reader and an authoritative source of reference and guidance for students British Book News ,1981 The British Country House in the Eighteenth Century Christopher Christie,2000 This work explores the British country house between 1700 1830 and looks at the lives of the noblemen and the servants who inhabited them Reference is made to the whole of the British Isles and there is a discussion of their political significance Urban Achievement in Early Modern Europe Patrick O'Brien,2001-04-12 Comparative urban history examines early modern economic and cultural achievements in Antwerp Amsterdam and London
