Crash Controversy Censorship Campaigns And Film Reception:

The Crash Controversy Martin Barker, Jane Arthurs, Ramaswami Harindranath, 2001 Between 1996-97 an almost unprecedented campaign was mounted in the British press against one film David Cronenberg's Crash. What motivated this campaign? What can it tell us about British film culture? What impact did the campaign have on general audiences? This book, which draws on a year-long investigation supported by the Economic and Social Research Council, offers a series of important and challenging findings and is a major contribution to our understanding of censorship campaigns, how audiences respond to films, and the strategies employed in engaging with such texts.

Escape Philosophy Roy Christopher, 2022 The physical body has often been seen as a prison, as something to be escaped by any means necessary: technology, mechanization, drugs, and sensory deprivation, alien abduction, Rapture, or even death and extinction. Taking in horror movies from David Cronenberg and UFO encounters, metal bands such as Godflesh, ketamine experiments, AI, and cybernetics, Escape Philosophy is an exploration of the ways that human beings have sought to make this escape, to transcend the limits of the human body, to find a way out. As the physical world continues to crumble at an ever-accelerating rate and we are faced with a particularly 21st-century kind of dread and dehumanization in the face of climate collapse and a global pandemic, Escape Philosophy asks what this escape from our bodies might look like, and if it is even possible.

The Cinema of Catherine Breillat Sophie Bélot, 2017-08-28 In The Cinema of Catherine Breillat, Bélot offers a detailed analysis of Breillat's past and recent films. Breillat is one of the most internationally renowned French women filmmakers, whose notoriety is built on her explicit representation of women's sexuality. Most of her films rely on a female protagonist's personal and intimate search of her self, characterised by her sexual journey. Facing censorship and controversy, Breillat's films do not easily fit classification and place the viewer into an uncomfortable position. This study looks at Breillat as an independent cinema auteur, entertaining a close relation with her films by exploring and positing women from adolescence to adulthood as sexual beings, reflecting her films' identity emanating from Breillat's personal or intimate scenes.

A 'Toxic Genre' Martin Barker, 2011-06-03 Over the last five years, a cycle of films has emerged addressing the ongoing Iraq conflict. Some became well-known, and one of them, The Hurt Locker, won a string of Oscars. But many others disappeared into obscurity. What is it about these films that led Variety to dub them a toxic genre? Martin Barker analyses the production and reception of these recent Iraq war films. Among the issues he examines are the borrowing of soldiers' YouTube styles of self representation to generate an authentic Iraq experience and how they take refuge in apolitical post traumatic stress disorder Barker also looks afresh at some classic issues in film theory the problems of accounting for film failures the shaping role of production systems the significance of genre naming and the impact of that toxic label A Toxic Genre is a fascinating reading for film studies students and anyone interested in cinema's portrayal of modern warfare

Prostitution and Sex Work in Global Cinema Danielle Hipkins, Kate Taylor-Jones, 2017-10-30 This volume brings together international scholars to engage in the question of how film has represented a figure that for many is simply labelled prostitute The prostitute is one of the most enduring female figures She has global historical resonance and stories images and narratives surrounding her and her experiences circulate transnationally As this book will explore the broad term prostitute can cover a variety of experiences and representations that are both repressive and also have the potential to empower women and disrupt cultural expectations The contributors aim to consider how frequently 19th century narratives of female prostitution hence the label fallen women are still recycled in contemporary visual contexts and to understand how widespread and in what contexts the destigmatization of female sex work is underway on screen

Stories between Tears and Laughter Richard Vojvoda, 2024-01-05 While histories of Czech cinema often highlight the quality of Czechoslovak New Wave films made in the 1960s post socialist Czech cinema receives little attention Through a methodology of historical reception Stories between Tears and Laughter explores how attitudes towards post socialist Czech cinema have shifted but still viewed it as popular cinema By analysing publicity materials reviews and articles Richard Vojvoda offers a new perspective on the notions of cultural value and quality that have been shaping the history of post socialist Czech cinema

Film and

Video Censorship in Modern Britain Julian Petley, 2011-05-17 How does film and video censorship operate in Britain Why does it exist And is it too strict Starting in 1979 the birth of the domestic video industry and the first year of the Thatcher government this critical study explains how the censorship of films both in cinemas and on video and DVD has developed in Britain As well as presenting a detailed analysis of the workings of the British Board of Film Classification Petley casts his gaze well beyond the BBFC to analyse the forces which the Board has to take into account when classifying and censoring These range from laws such as the Video Recordings Act and Obscene Publications Act and how these are enforced by the police and Crown Prosecution Service and interpreted by the courts to government policy on matters such as pornography In discussing a climate heavily coloured by 30 years of lurid video nasty stories propagated by a press which is at once censorious and sensationalist and which has played a key role in bringing about and legitimating one of the strictest systems of film and video DVD censorship in Europe this book is notable for the breadth of its contextual analysis its critical stance and its suggestions for reform of the present system
