PB Handbook for the Study of the Historical Jesus (4 vols) Tom Holmén, Stanley E. Porter, 2010-12-24 A hundred years after A Schweitzer's Von Reimarus zu Wrede the study of the historical Jesus is again experiencing a renaissance. Ongoing since the beginning of the 1980s, this renaissance has produced an abundance of Jesus studies that also display a welcome diversity of methods, approaches and hypotheses. The Handbook of the Study of the Historical Jesus is designed to handle this diversity and abundance. Drawing from first class scholarship throughout the world, the four large volumes of the Handbook offer a unique assembly of leading experts presenting their approaches to the historical Jesus as well as a thought out compilation of original studies on a large variety of topics pertaining to Jesus research and adjacent areas. The Constancy and Development in the Christology of Theodoret of Cyrrhus Vasilije Vranic, 2015-02-04 In 'The Constancy and Development of the Christology of Theodoret of Cyrrhus' Vasilije Vranic offers an assessment of the involvement of Theodoret of Cyrrhus in the Nestorian and Miaphysite controversies of the fifth century. Theodoret's Christological language and concepts are examined in their historical contexts. The study is based on the comparison between the early period of Theodoret's Christological output, Expositio rectae fidei and Refutation of the Twelve Anathemas, and his mature period, Eranistes. Theodoret's Christology is ultimately vindicated and his position as a credible theologian who anticipated the definition of the Council of Chalcedon AD 451 is assured while proposing that challenges to the consistency of his Christology ought to be reconsidered. The Development of the Term ἐνυπόστατος from Origen to John of Damascus Benjamin Gleede, 2012-03-19 Examining the usage of the term throughout the Patristic period, this study illustrates the gradual change in its meaning from stressing the hypostatical independence of the trinitarian persons to upholding the reality of Christ's two natures in his unique hypostasis. Christ and Creation Noel O'Sullivan, 2009 This book sets out to interpret Henri de Lubac's theology of creation from a christological perspective. The challenge of this research has been the absence of a systematic christology in the writings of de Lubac. Yet it is possible to posit a Lubacian christology by sifting through the author's work on a myriad of subjects. The point of entry is the patristic distinction between image and likeness, whereby image is understood as an inamissible seal which bestows the divine prerogatives of reason, freedom, immortality and dominion over nature. Likeness is a potential given at creation and realised in the course of the economy of salvation. De Lubac describes it variously as divinisation, divine union, the supernatural dignity of the human being and participation in the internal movement of the Trinity. The originality of this book consists in the gradual emergence of the role of Christ in the process whereby image becomes likeness. De Lubac records his intention to publish a book on Jesus Christ, an ambition he never realised. The present book does not just illustrate the omnipresence of Christ in the writings of de Lubac but dares to delineate what a Lubacian christology would look like. Theology and Christology in the Fourth Gospel Gilbert van Belle, Jan Gabriël Van der Watt, P. J. Maritz, 2005 Newly Created Children of God Hyung-tae Kim, 2025-10-07 This study makes an original contribution to our understanding of the connection between Paul's language of adoption and his concept of new creation. Although there has been much research on Paul's use of the adoption metaphor and of his concept of new creation, no previous study has paid close attention to the connection between them and what this relationship means for the shape of Pauline theology. For example, recent studies of ethnicity in Paul often appeal to Abrahamic sonship or divine sonship in Romans and Galatians, but the sense of new creation is virtually absent in the arguments. The present study attempts to rectify that oversight through a dialogue with the Paul within Judaism school of scholars.

Bonhoeffer Clifford J. Green, 1999 Rev ed of The sociality of Christ and humanity Creation and Christ Angela Costley, 2020-11-09 The Epistle to the Hebrews is usually associated with its theology of Christ the High Priest. However, the term high priest is not so common in the first four chapters of Hebrews, occurring only four times with a further reference to sacrifice in 1:3. Rather than emphasising the priestly or sacrificial activity of Christ, these opening sections contain a number of references to creation: 1:2, 3:10, 12:2, 5:9, 10:3, 1:6, 4:3, 4:4 and 4:9, 10. In this volume, Angela Costley uses discourse analysis to explore the importance of the topic of creation to the discourse of the Epistle to the Hebrews, uncovering a close link between creation and salvation. She highlights the interaction of the topic of creation with the topic of salvation in the discourse to uncover a depiction of Christ as the creator who descends to take on human flesh, God who becomes human in order to lead humanity heavenward.

The Ascension of the Messiah in Lukan Christology Arie W. Zwiep, 2014-04-09 Building on the form-critical assessment of the Lukan ascension story (Lk 24:50-53; Acts 1:1-12) as a rapture story and motivated by the consideration that the monotheistic principle almost inevitably must have led to a reestimate of the meaning and function of rapture in comparison with heathen rapture stories, immortalisation and deification, the present study seeks to investigate the Lukan ascension story in the light of the first-century Jewish rapture traditions (Enoch, Elijah, Moses, Baruch, Ezra, etc.). The author argues that first-century Judaism provides a more plausible horizon of understanding for the ascension story than the Graeco-Roman rapture tradition and that Luke develops his rapture christology not as a reinterpretation of the primitive exaltation kerygma (G. Lohfink) but as a response to the eschatological question, i.e. the delay of the parousia, so as to secure the unity of salvation history.

The Creation of Eve and Renaissance Naturalism Jack M. Greenstein, 2016-08-23 This book traces how four early Renaissance masters represented the Creation of Eve, which showed woman rising weightlessly from Adam's side at God's command.

The Didache Shawn J. Wilhite, 2020-03-26 Shawn J. Wilhite's commentary on the Didache complements the study of early Christianity through historical, literary, and theological readings of the Apostolic Fathers, seeking to be mindful of critical scholarship while commenting on a final form text. The Didache includes a brief introduction to this relevant text, the use of Scripture by the Didachist, and the theology of the Didache. The commentary proceeds section by section with a close ear to the text of the Didache, relevant early Christian literature, and current scholarship.

eschatological anthropological and ecological strands into christology Gunton draws from and interacts with a wide range of theologians from ancient to modern to weave together a strong incarnation creation link and the doctrine of the Holy Spirit

Creation Imagery in the Gospel of John Carlos Raul Sosa Siliezar, 2018-05-31 Sosa Siliezar investigates the presence and significance of creation imagery in the Gospel of John He argues that John has intentionally included only a limited albeit significant number of instances of creation imagery and that he has positioned them carefully to highlight their significance Sosa Siliezar contends that the instances of creation imagery used in varying contexts function collectively in a threefold way that is consonant with John's overall argument First John uses them to portray Jesus in close relationship with his Father existing apart from and prior to the created order Second John uses creation imagery to assert the primal and universal significance of Jesus and the message about him and to privilege him over other important figures in the story of Israel Third John uses creation imagery to link past reality with present and future reality portraying Jesus as the agent of creation whom the reader should regard as the primal agent of revelation and salvation The book concludes by underscoring how these findings inform our understanding of John's Christology and Johannine dualism Wiley Blackwell Companion to Political Theology William T. Bonhoeffer and Christology Matthias Grebe, Nadine Hamilton, Christian Schlenker, 2024-11-28 The key question this volume addresses is how does Bonhoeffer's thought help to rediscover the doctrine of Christ's two natures and one person and understand and renew it in its significance for a modern post-metaphysical and secular world The volume takes a fresh look at Dietrich Bonhoeffer's Christology and brings it into a fruitful dialogue with current Christological debates In a multi-perspectival pluralistic world Bonhoeffer's thinking offers a productive basis for conceptually incorporating the openness required for this task into academic theology Bonhoeffer's theology offers a starting point for the recovery of a productive Christology that reflects the plurality of the globalized world as Bonhoeffer's Christology begins precisely with this integration into worldly reality whereby the world is understood in its plurality and polyphony In this way he characterizes his enterprise as follows What keeps gnawing at me is the question what is Christianity or who is Christ actually for us today DBWE 8 362 Accordingly it opens itself up not only to inner Christian discussion but also to non-Christian worldviews from which a basic ethical demand follows The Divided Mind of the Black Church Raphael G. Warnock, 2014 For decades the black church and black theology have held each other at arm's length Black theology has emphasized the role of Christian faith in addressing racism and other forms of oppression arguing that Jesus urged his disciples to seek the freedom of all peoples Meanwhile the black church even when focused on social concerns has often emphasized personal piety rather than social protest With the rising influence of conservative evangelicalism biblical fundamentalism and the prosperity gospel the divide has become even more pronounced In The Divided Mind of the Black Church Raphael G. Warnock senior pastor of the historic Ebenezer Baptist Church the spiritual home of the Reverend Dr Martin Luther King Jr traces the historical significance of the rise and development of black theology as an important conversation partner for the black church dust jacket Themelios, 1977 Adventus Domini G.
