Bone Marrow Transplantation Biological Mechanisms And Clinical Practice:

Bone Marrow Transplantation Dirk Willem Bakkum,1985-01-01 Bone Marrow Transplantation Dirk Willem van Bakkum,Bob Lowenberg, New Approaches to the Treatment of Leukemia Emil J. Freireich,2012-12-06 The European School of Oncology came into existence to respond to a need for information education and training in the field of the diagnosis and treatment of cancer There are two main reasons why such an initiative was considered necessary Firstly the teaching of oncology requires a rigorously multidisciplinary approach which is difficult for the Universities to put into practice since their system is mainly disciplinary orientated Secondly the rate of technological development that impinges on the diagnosis and treatment of cancer has been so rapid that it is not an easy task for medical faculties to adapt their curricula flexibly With its residential courses for organ pathologies and the seminars on new techniques laser monoclonal antibodies imaging techniques etc or on the principal therapeutic controversies conservative or mutilating surgery primary or adjuvant chemotherapy radiotherapy alone or integrated it is the ambition of the European School of Oncology to fill a cultural and scientific gap and thereby create a bridge between the University and Industry and between these two and daily medical practice The Role of Micro-organisms in Non-infectious Diseases Rene R.P. de Vries,Irun R. Cohen,Jon J. van Rood,2012-12-06 Based on a symposium covering latest research this volume contains contributions by international experts They investigate the role that viruses play in certain diseases and include discussions of animal models and human trials Some of the chapters cover specifically streptococci and rheumatic heart disease Epstein Barr infection and cancer and molecular mimicry and autoimmune disease Textbook of Malignant Haematology Laurent Degos,David C Linch,Bob Löwenberg,1999-01-01 This textbook provides a concise overview of malignant haematology including reviews of cell and molecular biology and implications for new trends in treatment National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1985 Immunotherapy of Disease T.J. Hamblin,2012-12-06 Immunotherapy began in 1774 when the Dorset farmer Benjamin Jesty inoculated his wife and two sons with the pus from the teat of a cow suffering from cow pox using his wife s knitting needle as a vaccinating implement It has made slow progress Meanwhile the science of Immunology has burgeoned so much that if all immunologists read every page of the Journal of Immunology let alone the other Immunology journals then they would have no time left to write for it I am pleased that some of them have found the time to write for this volume In spite of the rapid expansion in immunological knowledge and the undreamt of complexity of the immune system that has been unravelled immunologists have remained until recently erudite but therapeutically effete Indeed anyone purporting to treat disease by immunological methods has been in danger of being labelled a quack or a crackpot Happily things are changing The nine chapters of this volume detail nine quite different approaches to manipulating the immune system for therapeutic benefit All are experimental and they have been attended with greater or lesser degrees of success In some cases their main effect has been to elucidate the complexity of the problem On the other hand there are people alive and well today as a result of these approaches who would otherwise have perished Immunotherapy is here to stay and it can only get better

Acute Leukemias IV T. Büchner,W. Hiddemann,B. Wörmann,G. Schellong,J.

Ritter,2012-12-06 The rates of acute leukemia cure have gradually improved over the last decade Clinical study results reflect the impact of chemotherapy intensity and duration the role of prolonged maintenance intensified consolidation or very early intensification Further progress has also been achieved in bone marrow trans plantation and recent prospective studies and meta analyses have contributed comparisons of the high antileukemic efficacy of bone marrow transplantation to that of improved chemotherapy This allows a more successful combining of the two forms of treatment New prognostic factors have emerged from both cytogenetic and molecular genetic research Thus the Philadelphia chromosome translocation and the bcr abl gene rearrangement have proven to be the dominating risk factor in acute lymphoblastic leukemia Since the frequency increases with age differences in prognosis between children and adults can be explained Evaluation of molecular and immunologic leukemia cell markers has provided a better understanding of residual leukemia in clinical remission as a prognostic factor and in monitoring the effectiveness of the antileukemic strategy Recent work on leukemic cell biology has resulted in novel therapeutic approaches such as terminal differentiation by all trans retinoic acid modulation of chemotherapy by hematopoietic growth factors such as GM CSF and enhancement of immunologic control by cytokines such as interleukin 2 New antimicrobial drugs and the application of mostly empiric anti infectious strategies have helped reducing the therapeutic risk Thus a number of recent achievements have provided us with new options in the management of patients with acute leukemias
