The book contains many examples of questions from philosophers around with history, biology, epidemiology, medicine, genetics, psychology and climate science, among others.

the authors, suggesting the possibility that cognitive dysfunction results in reduced time for the animals to learn through a single trial. In addition, it was found that learning was slower than normal in the group previously shown to be impaired on the working memory task. It is thought that this could be due to a change in the way the animals learn.
