Science and Civilisation in China: Volume 6, Biology and Biological Technology, Part 3, Agro-Industries and Forestry Joseph Needham, Christian Daniels, Nicholas K. Menzies, 1996-06-20 Contains two separate works The first by Christian Daniels is a comprehensive history of Chinese sugar cane technology from ancient times to the early twentieth century Dr Daniels includes an account of the contribution of Chinese techniques and machinery to the development of world sugar technology in the pre modern period devoting special attention to the transfer of this technology to the countries of South East and East Asia in the period after the sixteenth century The second by Nicholas K Menzies is a history of forestry in China A final section compares China s history of deforestation with the cases of Europe and Japan Interwoven Globe Amy Elizabeth Bogansky, 2013 Published in conjunction with an exhibition held at The Metropolitan Museum of Art New York Sept 16 2013 Jan 5 2014 The Role of Religions in the European Perception of Insular and Mainland Southeast Asia Monika Arnez, Jürgen Sarnowsky, 2016-08-17 For people nowadays the constant exchange of people goods and ideas and their interaction across wide distances are a part of everyday life However such encounters and interregional links are by no means only a recent phenomenon although the forms they have taken in the course of history have varied It goes without saying that travel to distant regions was spurred by various interests first and foremost economic and imperialist policies which reached an initial climax around 1500 with the European expansion to the Americas and into the Indian Ocean The motivations of European travellers for venturing to the regions of maritime and mainland Southeast Asia which are the focus of the studies presented here were manifold ranging from the pursuit of power commercial exploitation intellectual curiosity and the aspiration to proselytize among indigenous people This book adds to existing knowledge on travel travel experiences and travel writing by Europeans in mainland and insular Southeast Asia from the 16th to the 21st century based on specific case studies Moreover it demonstrates how Europeans perceived religion in the region presently known as Southeast Asia Working on the assumption that many of the European traders seafarers explorers and administrators arriving in Southeast Asia came as Christians convinced of the superiority of their religion the contributors to this volume analyse their encounters with Muslims who had been their long standing enemies in the Mediterranean and with Hindus Buddhists and adherents of local religions They involve themselves closely with the travelogues and the role of religions therein and in doing so reveal the ways in which religion influenced the travellers understanding of societies in maritime and mainland Southeast Asia The volume explores a number of questions including How did European travellers perceive religion in different regions of Southeast Asia in different historical periods How did the administrators the missionaries the natural historians and the explorers position themselves vis vis Islam and Buddhism on Java and in Siam And what do travel accounts tell us about the way Southeast Asian people perceived the Europeans Chinese and Indian Warfare - From the Classical Age to 1870 Kaushik Roy, Peter Lorge, 2014-12-17 This book examines the differences and similarities between warfare in China and India before 1870 both conceptually and on the battlefield By focusing on Chinese and Indian warfare the book breaks the intellectual paradigm requiring non Western histories and cultures to be compared to the West and allows scholarship on two of the oldest civilizations to be brought together An international group of scholars compare and contrast the modes and conceptions of warfare in China and India providing important original contributions to the growing study of Asian military history

Gods, Guns and Missionaries Manu S Pillai, 2024-11-21 When European missionaries first arrived in India in the sixteenth century they entered a world both fascinating and bewildering Hinduism as they saw it was a pagan mess the worship of devils and monsters by a people who burned women alive performed outlandish rites and fed children to crocodiles But soon it became clear that Hindu idolatry was far more complex than white men's stereotypes allowed and Hindus had little desire to convert But then European power began to grow in India and under colonial rule missionaries assumed a forbidding appearance During the British Raj Western frames of thinking gained ascendancy and Hindus felt pressed to reimagine their religion This was both to fortify it against Christian attacks and to resist foreign rule It is this encounter which has in good measure inspired modern Hinduism's present shape Indeed Hindus subverted some of the missionaries' own tools and strategies in the process triggering the birth of Hindu nationalism now so dominant in the country In Gods, Guns and Missionaries Manu S Pillai takes us through these remarkable dynamics With an arresting cast of characters maharajahs poets gun-wielding revolutionaries politicians polemicists philosophers and clergymen this book is ambitious in its scope and provocative in its position Lucid and exhaustive it is at once a political history a review of Hindu culture and a study of the social forces that prepared the ground for Hindu nationalism Turning away from simplistic ideas on religious evolution and European imperialism the past as it appears here is more complicated and infinitely richer than popular narratives allow

Images of Nusantara in Russian Literature V.I. Braginsky, Elena M. Diakonova, 2025-03-10 Ever since its first appearance in Russian literature in the 11th century Nusantara then a legendary country somewhere in the isles beyond India next to Paradise has continually stirred the imagination of Russian men of letters Early Russian writers saw it as a fabulous land allegedly visited by Alexander the Great and saintly pilgrims and the home of pious Rahmans monsters and allegorical animals a land that knew no injustice and which thus provided an ideal setting for social utopias Russian classics like Pushkin Goncharov and Turgenev and especially the writers of the Silver Age Bryusov Balmont and Bunin created a different image of Nusantara Nusantara the exotic a land of refined aromas and deadly poisons of tropical flowers and ancient temples which comprised a constellation of irresistibly attractive far-off islands offering an imaginary refuge from the humdrum of the real world In the works of the Soviet poets Gorodetsky Tikhonov and Simonov finally Nusantara the exotic was supplanted by Nusantara the ideological arena the region of working masses suffering under the yoke of colonialism and of communists fighting for a brighter future The first section of this book intended for both Southeast Asianists and Slavic scholars offers a survey of Russian images of Nusantara from their genesis and sources old Byzantine and modern Western through their nine century evolution The second section contains a comprehensive selection of excerpts from literary works in both English translation and the Russian original in which these images are elaborated The third section supplements the other two with a variety of rare materials relating to the topic of the book as well as with traditional Malay writings about Russia Martin Waldseemüller's 'Carta marina' of 1516 Chet Van Duzer,2019-10-09 This open access book presents the first detailed study of one of the most important masterpieces of Renaissance cartography Martin Waldseemüller's Carta marina of 1516 By transcribing translating into English and detailing the sources of all of the descriptive texts on the map as well as the sources of many of the images the book makes the map available to scholars in a wholly unprecedented way In addition the book provides revealing insights into how Waldseemüller went about making the map information that can't be found in any other source The Carta marina is the result of Waldseemüller's radical re-evaluation of what a world map should be he essentially started from scratch when he created it rejecting the Ptolemaic model and other sources he had used in creating his 1507 map and added more descriptive texts and a wealth of illustrations Given its content the book offers an essential reference work not only on this map but also for anyone working in sixteenth century European cartography Journal of the Travels and Labours of Father Samuel Fritz in the River of the Amazons between 1686 and 1723 The Rev. gewisse Formen der Lohnarbeit und der Patronage berücksichtigt Dabei werden auch Epochen Räume und Kontexte der Weltgeschichte bearbeitet die nicht der europäischen Kolonisierung ausgesetzt waren z B altorientalische Kulturen sowie vormoderne und moderne Gesellschaften in Asien Afrika und den Amerikas The World of Sugar Ulbe Bosma, 2023-05-09 Traversing 2 500 years of global history Ulbe Bosma shows how sugar once a luxury reserved for Eastern emperors stoked a mania in the West transforming diets and ecosystems destroying and creating cultures and shaping the history of bondage and freedom A major source of calories only since 1900 sugar has suddenly revolutionized our world Plants and Gardens as Artefacts in Transcultural Contexts Minna Törmä, 2025-09-30 This edited volume explores the ways in which the object biography or object itinerary approach could be adapted to frame research on animate objects such as plants and gardens in transcultural contexts By treating these animate elements as objects in the manner of artefacts and looking at their individual histories we gain a more nuanced sense of how data accumulated how new knowledge developed through printed texts and specimen collections and how the creators of gardens or landscapes formed their collections Chapters explore the shifts in meanings when objects from diverse origins meet in new cultural contexts where their new owners create assemblages based on their perception of the world The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history material culture and cultural geography
