An empowering ten-step program includes: Paying attention to what you most care about; Stabilizing your life with regard to time, money, and relationships; Assessing your core aptitudes and attitudes; Cultivating the entrepreneurial skills to create the workplace you want, whether or not you are in business for yourself. With dozens of rich personal stories and a thorough look at the options, this is the comprehensive life and work guide for people who care about their communities and the planet. The Alchemy of Illness Kat Duff, 1993. Illness is a universal experience. There is no privilege that can make us immune to its touch. We are taught to assume health, illnesses being just temporary breakdowns in the well-oiled machinery of the body. But illness has its own geography, its own laws and commandments. At a time when the attention of the whole nation is focused on health care, Kat Duff inquires into the nature and function of illness itself. Duff, a counselor in private practice in Taos, New Mexico, wrote this book out of her experience with chronic fatigue syndrome, but what she has to say is applicable to every illness and every one of us. For those who are sick, this book offers solace and recognition. For those who care for them, either physically or emotionally, it offers inspiration and compassion. Finally, this fresh perspective on healing reveals how every illness is a crucible that tries our mettle, tests our limits, and provides us with an unparalleled opportunity to integrate its lessons into our lives.

Community Organizing and Community Building for Health Meredith Minkler, 1997. An important contribution to expanding the community organizing knowledge and skills base of students and practitioners in public health, health education, social work, and related disciplines. Dr. Nicholas Freudenberg, Professor of Community Health Education, Hunter College, CUNY.

Creating Sanctuary Sandra L. Bloom, 1997. In Creating Sanctuary, Dr. Sandra Bloom argues that our society is sick; we are emotionally numb, addicted to violence, alienated from ourselves and each other, and trapped in a vicious cycle of destructive behavior. By applying the successes from her treatment programs with severely traumatized individuals to larger group and social organizations, Dr. Bloom offers insights into how we can create safe environments that promote well-being.
