Communication and Language Elinor L. Brown,Alexander S. Yeung,Cynthia Lee,2013-01-01 Communication and Language play a foundational role in the overall pursuit of equity and social justice in education This volume does not take up the majority and dominant views which are especially visible in developments in the field of linguistic education and English language instruction Rather it travels the path less followed to attend to the language and communication concerns of populations that possess little political and economic power and whose academic and social needs are often neglected The volume attends to the role of language acquisition in levelling the playing field to enable ALL students to develop into contented family members good neighbours and productive citizens in an increasingly diverse and global society The issue takes on far greater importance as it gradually comes to light that the capacity for language corresponds to and even implements the ability to interrelate with others Far from being a mere utilitarian tool this is now appreciated as constituting the realm of abilities to take the position of the other to share a field of meaning and to project and pursue truly humane and indeed inter humane attitudes and goals In this light communication and language whether verbal or preverbal constitute the field in which one first attains and progressively evolves one s humanity In this volume scholars from ten different countries examine issues related to the influence of language and communication patterns on equity and social justice in the lives of disadvantaged and marginalized populations around the globe i.e educational opportunities community stability economic prospects and political power Critical issues addressed include education in traditional national or Western languages language integration through dialects and code switching non verbal academic engagement through art signing and photography cross cultural engagement through language equity in higher education and the influence of Western language acquisition on the self concepts of disadvantaged students As the succession of sections in this volume makes clear success in the realization of language and communication abilities is not simple Rather it reflects human life and interaction in all its complexity

Reimagining Education

Sharon Mistretta, 2024-01-24. Education stakeholders are at a crossroads where teaching and learning paths intersect with technologies fueled by emerging artificial intelligence. Educators who observe the residual effects of a global pandemic are left to wonder what creative technology solutions that sustain teaching and learning amidst mutating contagions should be retained, abandoned, or reimagined to create sustainable pedagogy practices. In this book about e-learning, invited authors analyze the impacts of overarching issues facing educators across the globe to rethink how they deliver content and assess students' learning. A global community of scholars and researchers contributed twenty chapters to examine artificial intelligence, alternative assessments, education policy, creative technology, creative lesson plans, and emerging workforce trends to foster emerging paradigms in the post-pandemic era.

Designing Globally Networked Learning Environments, 2008-01-01. Faculty administrators and others in higher education face growing pressures to position their institutions' programs and courses in global markets and to prepare students for global work and citizenship. These pressures raise urgent questions: What might higher education look like in a globally networked world? Do traditional industrial models of learning suffice, or what new visions for learning are emerging? What does it take to implement and maintain these visions? To address these questions, Designing Globally Networked Learning Environments brings together 25 educators from four continents who share their richly diverse visions for teaching and learning in a globally networked world. What unites these visions is that they break with traditional models of repackaging traditional institutionally bounded courses for online delivery in global markets. Instead, these educators build robust partnerships to design globally networked learning environments that connect students with peers, instructors, and communities across traditional institutional, national, and other boundaries to facilitate the kind of cross-boundary knowledge making that students as professionals and citizens will need to participate in the shaping of an emerging global order and to address the most pressing global problems we face The book offers these visions as opportunities for faculty program directors administrators international program experts instructional designers faculty development experts and others in higher education to work together to deliberate develop and shape inspiring visions for globally networked learning and to become active participants in the globalization of higher education Creativity to Reinvent Your Life Miriam Subirana, Miriam Subirana Vilanova, 2010-11-16 Creativity is a gift that each one of us has This book will give you guidelines to having creative power in your hands That way you will stop being a shipwreck at the mercy of your habits circumstances others and time to be the one who is at the helm of your life This book will accompany you in discovering what your helm is how to take a strong hold on it and allow it to guide your life it will open you to listen to your intuition your inner teacher that stimulates true creativity It will give you guidelines in order to go from intention to action from theory to experience Discover the creativity that gives you the strength to get you out of the prison of a wrong dream It is a healing and creating energy of a new paradigm Personal health the health of the planet and the health of humanity depend on us all working creatively You can be more creative Dare to Increasing Naturalness in the Language Learning Classroom Szilvia Szita, 2024-07-31 This volume links corpus research to classroom practice and critically assesses how the integration of a corpus informed methodology affects pedagogical choices teaching materials and classroom activities Focusing on the language classroom and drawing on examples from English French German and Hungarian this book demonstrates that such methodology is applicable to languages with very different properties Drawing on both larger general and smaller more specialised corpora including both spoken and written data this volume presents the key features of natural language according to corpus linguistics establishing principles and methods to observe and practice natural sounding language use suggests the characteristics of a coherent corpus informed methodology and contrasts this with existing methodologies explores ways in which this methodology can enhance language learning and discusses the types of activities that are most effective explains how this methodology be integrated into teacher training Bridging the long persisting gap between corpus informed language teaching research and applied classroom reform this book is key reading for researchers in applied linguistics and language pedagogy as well as teacher trainers and practitioners Home Education Masterclass: Reading and Writing Foundations Nicole Young, Embarking on the journey of homeschooling especially when it comes to early childhood literacy can feel both exciting and daunting Home Education Masterclass Reading and Writing Foundations is designed to be your trusted guide navigating you through the essential elements of building a strong literacy foundation for your preschool and early elementary aged child ages 3 8 This comprehensive resource provides a structured yet adaptable approach allowing you to tailor the learning process to your child s unique learning style and pace We understand that each child is different and we have intentionally created this book to be flexible and responsive to those individual needs The book s strength lies in its blend of practical strategies and engaging activities We move beyond theoretical concepts offering clear step by step
