

Blood Albatross

Life standardized, no need to bathe the malcontents. Akin to man, with a pulse of original sin. It comes around, sometimes what you've left for dead. Breathe manhunt, lies severe, embryos feed on bee stings that swell up the head. There she was, blood red. A kiss to still the hearts of heathens. Hell bent on one thing. A touch of lust causes glass fingertips to break. If you confess your undoing you will feel no pain, but to save your own life you must deny your only son, now will you testify? Not innocent, a heart will stop due to majority vote. By morning one of you must die, not here for mercy, we're here to crucify. A mother and son, hang from the gallows still warmed by the morning sun. Justice done with hands in front of your face. This is justice, justice is done. As the neck snaps the air gets sucked out. Why won't you testify? Once we bleed ourselves of the virginal ones the prophecies will have all come true. Once the world comes around full circle again, the users will be used to. Prophets come it two.

The Shark and the Albatross John Aitchison, 2015-10-01 For twenty years John Aitchison has been travelling the world to film wildlife for the BBC and other broadcasters taking him to far away places on every continent The Shark and the Albatross is the story of these journeys of discovery of his encounters with animals and occasional enterprising individuals in remote and sometimes dangerous places His destinations include the far north and the far south expeditions to film for Frozen Planet and other natural history series in Svalbard Alaska the remote Atlantic island of South Georgia and the Antarctic They also encompass wild places in India China and the United States In all he finds and describes key moments in the lives of animals among them polar bears and penguins seals and whales sharks and birds and wolves and lynxes He reveals what happens behind the scenes and beyond the camera He explains the practicalities and challenges of the filming process and the problems of survival in perilous places He records touching moments and dramatic incidents some ending in success others desperately sad There are times when a hunted animal triumphs against the odds and others when in spite of preparation for every outcome disaster strikes And as the author shows in several incidents that combine nail biting tension with hair raising hilarity disaster can strike for film makers too This is natural history writing at its absolute best evocative informative and gripping from first to last Selected Poetry
