American Indian Education, 2nd Edition Jon Reyhner,Jeanne Eder,2017-11-02 Before Europeans arrived in North America Indigenous peoples spoke more than three hundred languages and followed almost as many distinct belief systems and lifeways But in childrearing the different Indian societies had certain practices in common including training for survival and teaching tribal traditions The history of American Indian education from colonial times to the present is a story of how Euro Americans disrupted and suppressed these common cultural practices and how Indians actively pursued and preserved them American Indian Education recounts that history from the earliest missionary and government attempts to Christianize and civilize Indian children to the most recent efforts to revitalize Native cultures and return control of schools to Indigenous peoples Extensive firsthand testimony from teachers and students offers unique insight into the varying experiences of Indian education Historians and educators Jon Reyhner and Jeanne Eder begin by discussing Indian childrearing practices and the work of colonial missionaries in New France Canada New England Mexico and California then conduct readers through the full array of government programs aimed at educating Indian children From the passage of the Civilization Act of 1819 to the formation of the Bureau of Indian Affairs in 1824 and the establishment of Indian reservations and vocation oriented boarding schools the authors frame Native education through federal policy eras treaties removal assimilation reorganization termination and self determination Thoroughly updated for this second edition American Indian Education is the most comprehensive single volume account useful for students educators historians activists and public servants interested in the history and efficacy of educational reforms past and present Federal Fathers and Mothers Cathleen D. Sargent, 2005-01-01 Raised in a sheltered puritanical household in New England Elaine Goodale Eastman 1863 1953 followed her conscience and calling in 1885 when she traveled west and opened a school on the Great Sioux Reservation in South Dakota Over the next six years she witnessed many of the monumental events that affected the Lakotas including the inception of the Ghost Dance religion and the fallout from the Wounded Knee massacre in December 1890 She also fell in love with and married Charles Eastman a Dakota doctor with whom she had six children and went on to help edit his many popular books on Sioux life and culture This biography draws on a newly discovered cache of more than one hundred letters from Elaine that were collected by one of her sisters Rose Goodale Dayton as well as newly discovered family correspondence and photographs Previous books about Elaine including her own autobiography emphasize her work on the Sioux reservation and association with her famous husband Access to her personal papers however enabled Theodore D Sargent to shed new light on the dynamics of her thirty year marriage to Charles and its ultimate demise the importance of her own literary contributions during this period and the challenges and successes of her life following their separation The result is a long overdue multidimensional portrait of the relationships and aspirations that impelled and troubled this fascinating woman and her extraordinary life Life Painted Red Chuck Raasch,2023-09-08 In 1884 twenty three year old Corabelle Fellows left her family in Washington DC and journeyed out West to teach Native children in Nebraska and Dakota Territory She hoped her missionary work would improve the lives of the Dakota and Lakota Sioux people by helping them assimilate into white culture following the predominant government policy at the time But after years of living among the Native people it was Cora s perceptions of life love and faith that were transformed It began with her friendship with Elizabeth Winyan a remarkable Dakota woman who was a model of strength compassion and adaptability among her people Winyan became a maternal figure for Cora in the strange land so far from the civilized city She even saved Cora from being married against her will Then Cora met Sam Campbell a man from Scottish and Sioux stock They fell in love and were married though the match made national headlines after Cora s family disowned her The couple struggled to find a place in the American frontier straddling two worlds For years their marriage was grist for the yellow press and they became a sensational national story that led them to a brief stint as a sideshow attraction for traveling exhibitions and dime museums to support themselves They would never live happily ever after and the couple was plagued by racist rhetoric and sexist slander even after their divorce Life Painted Red details Cora s experiences from her Washington DC exodus to her years living among the Sioux and her scandalous short lived marriage to Sam Campbell Nebraska History Addison Erwin Sheldon,James Lee Sellers,James C. Olson,1990

Montgomery, Chip Colwell, 2019-11-21 Between 1893 and 1903 Jesse H Bratley worked in Indian schools across five reservations in the American West As a teacher Bratley was charged with forcibly assimilating Native Americans through education Although tasked with eradicating their culture Bratley became entranced by it collecting artifacts and taking glass plate photographs to document the Native America he encountered Today the Denver Museum of Nature Science s Jesse H Bratley Collection consists of nearly 500 photographs and 1 000 pottery and basketry pieces beadwork weapons toys musical instruments and other objects traced to the S Klallam Lakota Sioux Cheyenne Arapaho Havasupai Hopi and Seminole peoples This visual and material archive serves as a lens through which to view a key moment in US history when Native Americans were sequestered onto reservation lands forced into unfamiliar labor economies and attacked for their religious practices Education the government hoped would be the final tool to permanently transform Indigenous bodies through moral instruction in Western dress foodways and living habits Yet Lindsay Montgomery and Chip Colwell posit that Bratley s collection constitutes objects of survivance things and images that testify not to destruction and loss but to resistance and survival Interwoven with documents and interviews Objects of Survivance illuminates how the US government sought to control Native Americans and how Indigenous peoples endured in the face of such oppression Rejecting the narrative that such objects preserve dying Native cultures Objects of Survivance reframes the Bratley Collection showing how tribal members have reconnected to these items embracing them as part of their past and reclaiming them as part of their contemporary identities This unique visual and material record of the early American Indian school experience and story of tribal perseverance will be of value to anyone interested in US history Native American studies and social justice Co published with the Denver Museum of Nature Science
